THE CHICAGO EXCURSION.

At six o'clock yesterday only fifty persons had signed the receipts for the Chicago excursion at Harry Porter's. This is not the proper spirit to show in the matter, nor is it the way to secure the low rate in prospect.

If you have the slightest intention of going to Chicago, do not hesitate to purchase a ticket now. If a sufficient number fail to sign for the tickets and the excursion falls thru your money will be refunded to you as promptly and as cheerfully as it was taken. If the excursion becomes assured and you decide not to go you will lose nothing on your investment, for there are sure to be many others who will gladly buy your ticket. There is absolutely nothing risky about

TO MEET AGAIN.

Juniors and Seniors to Finish Consideration of Resolutions.

The Junior and Senior classes will meet in combined session next Thursday morning in Memorial Hall at 11 o'clock to complete the discussion started at the meeting held a week ago yesterday, when resolutions condemning Rule 34 of the Regulations Governing Students were introduced.

The meeting promises to be spirited and the supporters of the resolutions claim that delay has not in the least dampened their ardor. It is hoped that the discussion may be completed and the resolutions either adopted or rejected at the meeting on Tuesday. A large attendance is desired in order that the real sentiment of the classes may be ascertained.

Campus interest in the matter seems to be at a low ebb just at present, but those behind the resolutions claim that it will revive when the matter is brought up for discussion once more. There has been time enough now since the resolutions were proposed to render what action is taken, the result of mature deliberation and this is what both sides claim to desire.

DON'T RUB-DON'T SCRATCH

When your eyes itch, smart, burn or ache, there is something needed besides a rub. You can't remove eye-defects with a rub of the finger. You may, very often, cause increased local irritation. You may even convey germs of disease from door-latch or car-seat. Local irritation is often caused by eye defects which can only be corrected with proper lenses.

A Thoro Study.

The last number of Nebraska University Studies contains one of the most thoro pieces of criticism ever published on the sources of a limited period of the French Revolution. This criticism was written by Dr. Christophelmeier, and deals solely with the occurrences of one day, August 4, 1789. He used both manuscripts and printed sources which were found in London and in Paris.

The doctor, who is now professor of History in Appleton University, Wisconsin, took his Master's degree at the University of Nebraska.
