ONE GOOD RESULT.

In the light of late events, Nebraska's defeat at the hands of Kansas last Saturday promises to be by no means the deplorable affair it seemed at the time. As a means to bringing about a better understanding between the Jayhawkers and the Cornhuskers it has been, apparently, more potent than a victory for Nebraska would have been. Perhaps Nebraska has acquired true defeat a greater respect for her old foes. Surely Kansas, in victory, has gained a more generous respect for Nebraska.

It is not necessary that the long-sought "sisterly affection" between the two universities be carried to an extreme, as seems possible at present.

A DIPLOMATIC MOVE.

Seldom in the history of the University has so much diplomacy been shown as when the Athletic Board sent the Cadet Band to Chicago yesterday afternoon. Upon first thought it looks somewhat like a piece of needless extravagance, but a moment's reflection should show that the returns to the University, and indeed to the state itself, will outweigh by a large margin whatever expense is incurred through sending the band to the City by the Lake.

In the first place, the University band, in its present condition, is an organization of which any institution should be proud. In size, equipment and musical ability it is doubtless equal, if not superior, to any university band of its kind in the West, and it should be an "eye-opener" to the Chicagoans congregated on Marshall Field this afternoon.

But its effect on the outcome of the game and the standing of Nebraska in the collegiate world is impossible to estimate. That it will do more than anything else toward stimulating the Cornhuskers to wrest victory from the Maroons there can not be the slightest doubt; while the impression it will convey relative to the college spirit of the University of Nebraska cannot but heighten the estimation of our institution in University circles.

The Athletic Board is to be congratulated and, should today close with Nebraska the victor of Marshall Field, the University must divide the laurels between the team, the band and Captain Workizer, who was perhaps more instrumental in sending it to Chicago than any other man in the University.

There were 19,000 people at the Carlisle-Minnesota game last Saturday. The receipts were $28,000.

J. C. Wood & Company

Yet the evident desire of the Jayhawkers to meet Nebraska more than half way, now that relations have actually been resumed, ought to meet a generous response. The Jayhawkers have shown themselves capable of forgetting old animosities and Nebraska ought to do likewise.

She is doing so, we believe, and in another year doubtless Kansas and Nebraska will have forgotten their former petty differences. For the most part they are forgotten already. If such a happy result were to follow every defeat for the Cornhuskers, the true Nebraska sportsman would have even less to fear in defeat than he has at the present time. Then Nebraska might again play Iowa and Missouri and even the Haskell Indians with comparative indifference as to the outcome.

Still, enough of a good thing is sufficient for the present.

NOTICE!

Nebraska is going to defeat the University of Chicago on Marshall Field this afternoon. Watch "Pip" Cooke! Watch the team! Watch the score!

A Great Special Sale of Women's Cloaks and Suits

We made a fortunate purchase of about 150 Women's Suits and about 250 Women's Cloaks from one of our Manufacturers who wished to close up his Fall and Winter business so as to begin on his spring line.

We bought these garments at a big reduction and we have put them on sale at prices which will compel buying.

THE SUITS

These are divided into four lots, and considering the time of year, and the quality of the merchandise offered, the prices asked are ridiculously low.
