HON W. J. BRYAN SPEAKS.

ours in this fact!

"The question is: Are we satisfied to be recipients and give out nothing in return? Are we to be repudiators?
If not, how can we pay our debt?"

"My answer is, by achievement," continued the speaker. "Achievement is the only requirement we can make to the world for what we have received. And we must not be content to give merely value received. We owe interest as well and at a high rate. Let us pay it back ten times, aye, even a hundred fold."

FRESHMEN PLEDGE.

Partial List of Fraternity Pledges Up to Date.

The following first year men have been pledged to the Greek letter fraternities since the expiration of the time limit last Saturday noon. The list is not complete, a number of the fraternities withholding their names until after Thanksgiving, when it is expected that several more men will be added to the string of pledgings:

Play Today.

The Senior-Junior football game, which has been postponed twice, once because of the weather and once on account of lack of proper equipment, has been finally set for this afternoon.
The game will be called at 2 p. m. and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of upper classmen to cheer for the teams as they struggle for the mastery.

Arthur Marsh, A. T. O., who received a Rhodes Scholarship while attending the University of Nebraska two years ago, has recently written his fraternity brothers concerning his progress at Oxford. It seems that he is doing well and is having a fine time. Mr. Marsh spent last summer in travel upon the continent and reports an exceptionally pleasant vacation.

Chancellor Andrews has left for Boston and New York. He will attend the meeting of the General Educational Association and will deliver an address before the Congress of Social Education.

Roy Cochran, '05, of the faculty of the State Industrial School at Kearney, was in the city Saturday and Sunday.

The Innocents meet this morning at 11 a. m. in U. 110 to outline the plans for the annual Cornhusker banquet.

Professor Kimball of the School of Music and his daughter witnessed the Chicago-Nebraska game Saturday.
