MAROONS TRIUMPH.

Steffen and Iddings went outside tackle and thru the line; Eckersall worked a fake kick with a pass to Steffen; Finger plowed thru center on a fake buck, and Steffen went over for another touchdown. Parry again kicked goal. Chicago 12, Nebraska 0.

This time Nebraska kicked off to Chicago, Parry returning to the thirty-yard line. Chicago advanced the ball down the field, but Nebraska held at the forty-yard line, forcing Eckersall to try a drop. The ball went wide and Weller kicked out from the twenty-five yard line. Eckersall caught the punt and made a brilliant return. A couple of line bucks put the ball on Nebraska's thirty-yard line. Eckersall fell back and dropped a goal from field. Chicago 16, Nebraska 0.

Eckle's second field goal came soon after. Weller kicked off to Chicago; Finger made forty yards on a fake pass and Steffen took the ball on a forward pass to Nebraska's fifteen-yard line, from which point the Chicago captain again booted the ball between the posts. Chicago 20, Nebraska 0.

Soon after the next kick off Nebraska scored, making the first touchdown made against Chicago in the last two years. The Cornhuskers secured the ball on Chicago's fifteen yard line as the result of a forward pass, made by Eckersall, which touched the ground. Chaloupka tore thru Chicago's left tackle for nine yards, Craig made four thru the other side of the line and then Chaloupka took it over on another smash outside tackle. Goal was not kicked. Score, Chicago 20, Nebraska 5.

Before the first half ended Eckersall kicked another goal from a difficult angle, making the score 24 to 5.

Second Half.

Nebraska kicked off to Chicago at the opening of the second half. After an interchange of punts Eckersall tried a drop kick, but missed. Soon after this Chicago got dangerously near Nebraska's goal line, and another touchdown seemed imminent. On the fifteen-yard line, however, Chicago was penalized fifteen yards for hurdling. Nevertheless, Eckersall kicked another goal from the thirty-yard line. Chicago 28, Nebraska 5.

After the next kick-off Chicago took the ball straight down the field to Nebraska's twenty-yard line. Here the Cornhuskers held, but Eckersall again got in with a field goal. Chicago 32, Nebraska 5.

Soon after this Nebraska had an opportunity to score, but lost it. The Cornhuskers got the ball on a fumble on Chicago's twenty-yard line. Weller made ten yards outside tackle, Craig smashed thru for eight more, placing the ball on the two-yard line. Here Chaloupka fumbled and Chicago got the ball. A couple of plays netted Chicago small gains and then by a forward pass from Eckersall, Steffen got the ball outside the Nebraska end and ran ninety yards for a touchdown. Score, Chicago 38, Nebraska 5.

Near the close of the game Nebraska did some brilliant playing, Cooke catching the ball on his own five-yard line and running it back to the middle of the field with the prettiest run of the day. Weller made fifteen and five yards outside tackle, but Nebraska lost the ball on the next play. Chicago intercepting a long pass.

Time was called soon after with the ball in Chicago's possession in mid-field. The line-up:
