The man who aims at a star will shoot higher than the one who aims at a bush, said Emerson.

Aim high in everything. Begin with your personal appearance because that is nearest you.

The man who aims to be distinctively well dressed, giving intelligent thought to the matter, will likely hit the mark. On the other hand the one who aims to be only passable in appearance generally falls below that level.

A NIGHT OFF.

Foresters to Hold Pow-wow in Woods Near Lincoln.

The members of the Forest Club and their male friends will go into red paint and feathers for a grand pow-wow in the woods to the south of Lincoln on next Saturday evening. Around a big camp fire, with the savory fragrance of boiled dog permeating the nocturnal atmosphere, a unique tribal dance will be executed.

After the feast has been stowed away the peace-pipe will go the rounds. Songs, elder and stories will serve to keep up the cheer until the proper wee small hour and no objection will be offered to anyone wishing to rough it for the entire night. Only those wearing old clothes and bringing good spirits (not of the liquid variety, however), and acceptable brands of tobacco will be admitted to the charmed circle.

Instructions for attending this unique fest are as follows: Take the 5 o'clock Lincoln Park car, get off at the Epworth Park junction, and walk to the bridge west of Epworth Park. Cars leave Tenth and O streets at 5:40 p. m. and 6:20 p. m. as well. See the Nebraskan for Saturday for the final decision with respect to the weather and in the meantime turn over to R. G. Steele the 25 cent dues which are required to pay the expenses of the pow-wow.

ANOTHER BANQUET.

Mr. Westerfield to Give Annual Blow-out for the Team.

On Monday evening next, Mr. Sam Westerfield, the genial proprietor of Sam's Cafe, will tender his annual banquet to Nebraska's football team and a few other invited guests. Mr. Westerfield, moved by his interest in football at the University, has for several years past banqueted the Cornhusker team immediately after the close of the football season and these events have left very delightful memories with the veterans of former teams. It is safe to assume that the blow-out for this year's team will fully equal any that has preceded it.
