A SUGGESTION.

The remarkable success which attended the dinner given by the social committee of the University Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening has led many who enjoyed it to hope that these dinners may become a regular and permanent feature of University life. The formation of a genuine college spirit at Nebraska has been, as we have often observed, decidedly hampered by circumstances which it is now too late to alter. A dormitory system such as that in use at Yale, Harvard or Chicago, would probably be the strongest agency in the formation of such a spirit, but conditions here, adjusted to the absence of dormitories, have become so firmly established that a change is almost out of the question. The in-the University are really interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A. and their cooperation can be counted upon, especially in a matter which concerns them as this proposition does.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED.

Nebraska Horticultural Society to Meet Jan. 15, 16 and 17.

The Nebraska Horticultural Society has prepared for distribution the program of its thirty-eighth annual meeting to be held in Room 110, Nebraska Hall, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 15, 16 and 17, respectively. For some years the annual meeting of this society has not been held on the campus, but it is hoped, in view of the increased space to be afforded by the new Museum, that the meeting hereafter may be regularly held in the University precincts.

Addresses by a number of University professors are scheduled for the various days of the meetings and among those honored are: Dr. C. E. Bessey, Professor F. G. Miller, Professor R. A. Emerson and Professor F. E. Clements.

There will also be a display in Room 108, Nebraska Hall, of fruits and flowers grown by members of the society. Numerous prizes are offered for the best specimens of apples, roses, carnations, and violets submitted, and many contestants are expected. In previous years much interest has centered about the display of the fruits and flowers and this year the fact that the display will be on the campus is expected to arouse still greater enthusiasm.

The College Settlement Board luncheons with Mr. Willisford at the College Settlement house at noon today. The affairs of the Settlement will be discussed.

Zoological Club to Listen to Two Highly Interesting Papers.

At a meeting of the University Zoological Club this evening in Mechanic Arts Hall 301 at 8 o'clock, Mr. Myron H. Swenk will review a paper on the following topic: "Chromosomes in the Spermatogenesis of the Hemiptera Heteroptera." The paper is a production by Mr. T. H. Montgomery and it will be interesting to discover how nearly our University students can come to an intelligent translation of the assigned topic.

Following this, Professor F. D. Barker will review a second paper entitled "A Study of the Structure, Development and Explosion of the Trichocysts of Paramecium" and written by P. Hitrophanow.

All the students and members of the faculty, with their friends, are invited to attend.

roduction of university commons as at the schools above mentioned, altho desirable, is also, we believe, impracticable at this time.

The adoption, however, of the plan of having all University men dine together once a week would not only be feasible but would prove of immeasurable value as a means of uniting Nebraska men and creating a Nebraska spirit that meant something. The plan is feasible. Perhaps such a liberal spread could not be furnished for the nominal price charged last week and it is unreasonable to expect something for nothing. But we are sure that twenty-five or fifty cents would amply cover the expense and that no one would begrudge the sum in view of the returns it would surely bring.

Let the Y. M. C. A., since it has started the ball to rolling, bring the matter up for consideration and make the project a go. To push the idea thru means some work and some sacrifice upon the part of those who do it, but the splendid financial response last Saturday shows that the men of
