WILL GIVE PLAY

CAST OF DRAMATIC CLUB PRODUCTION ANNOUNCED.

To Be Given in Memorial Hall Soon After the Holidays—An All-Star Cast.

The University Dramatic Club will soon give in Memorial Hall a lively, four-act college play entitled "The Toastmaster."

The first play of the season to be given by the Dramatic Club will be a rollicking comedy, displaying much of the best talent of the club. The cast is an unusually large one, containing over a dozen old and new members, and judging from the rehearsals, which are being conducted by Miss Browne, head of the Elocution department, the play will be an immense success.

"The Toastmaster" is eminently suited for a University audience, being a college play, with the chief events centering about college life.

Among those holding leading parts are Mr. Montgomery, Miss Adams, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Bellamy, and Mr. Yates.

Mr. Montgomery, who got his first experience in dramatic art in Omaha High School productions, shows exceptional talent in impersonation. Miss Bonnie Adams, playing a leading role, is an able assistant. Mr. Morgan has shown considerable ability in various courses offered in the Elocution department. Mr. Bellamy and Mr. Yates have both won reputations before audiences in Lincoln, the former in a Dramatic Club play in the Oliver Theater last year, and the latter in the Senior play of the Lincoln High School last year.

This is the first of several plays to be given by the Dramatic Club during this year. Casts for others are being made up, and greater success than ever before is expected for the club. Under the present constitution, which has been in use but a few years, the Dramatic Club is improving rapidly, and will soon rival similar clubs in the older universities. The system of competitive try-outs for membership in a great measure accounts for this improvement.

REGISTRATION HEAVY.

Large Number of Entries for the Big Debates This Season.

All those who intend to enter the preliminary contest for the selection of the University Debating squad should hand to Professor Fogg by noon today a slip stating which side he wishes to debate on in the preliminary.

The program for each evening will be completed by Thursday or Friday. The places on the program will be decided by lot.

Up to yesterday evening about thirty-two debaters had registered for the contests. The registration closes today and a complete list of the entries will be published in tomorrow's Nebraskan.

There will be football practise for the members of the Senior squad this morning at 11 o'clock on the gridiron.

FORTER RELEASED.

Football Coach to Go Into Cincinnati Law Firm.

The Athletic Board held a special meeting yesterday morning for the purpose of acting on Coach Foster's request to be released from his contract at the present time, in order that he might accept a position now open to him with a Cincinnati law firm.

The matter had been referred to a committee which reported to the Board this morning. Acting on the suggestion of the committee, the Board decided to grant Mr. Foster's release, withholding $100 of the $1,500 stipulated in the contract which bound the coach until June 1, 1907.

ALMOST COMPLETED.

Professor Bruner to Add Volume to Well Known Work.

Professor Bruner has nearly completed his portion of a great Natural History work that is being published in London.

Several years ago F. D. Godman, an English gentleman and patron of science, furnished funds and material for an exhaustive study of the natural history of Mexico and Central America. The foremost scientists of the world were each given a certain limited portion of the work. To Professor Bruner the task of writing up grasshoppers was given, and the success with which he has met is evidenced by the fact that in the three years that he has been working he has discovered more than two hundred wholly new and hitherto unknown species of grasshoppers.

Already there have been published over thirty volumes of the "Biologia Centrali Americana," and many are yet to follow. Many languages are represented; most scientists writing either in their native tongues or in Latin.

Y. M. C. A. Members Like Chicken Dinner.

The recent chicken dinner given by the Y. M. C. A. proved such a success that the social committee are now planning to make the Y. M. C. A. feeds a monthly stunt. It is thought that the nearest way to a man's heart is thru—etc., and if the social committee can pluck up courage they will attempt to treat the Association every month to a good old bachelor dinner.

SAM GIVES FEED

Second and Final Banquet Given to Football Team.

The last festivity of the football season was held Monday night at Sam's Cafe, and consisted of a very enjoyable banquet. The football team and a few friends were the guests of Mr. Westerfield, who, as on past occasions, did himself proud. Sam has for a number of years treated the team to a sumptuous spread at the conclusion of the football season, but this one in point of decorations and menu, surpassed any of its predecessors. The boys were all arrayed in their broadest smiles and the good old football songs were sung with that enthusiasm that has won so many victories for Nebraska when exerted against an opposing team.

Dr. Roscoe Pound sat at his usual place at the head of the table and, as he said, "Punctuated the remarks of the others on the toast list." He managed to suppress his string of stories long enough to impress upon his hearers the fact that football was an academic sport and that all tendencies toward professionalism should be rooted out.

Dr. Maxey was then called on for his manuscript. He responded in a very droll way and when he got down to his theme, made a plea for an earlier interclass football schedule. He also hoped that we could have a permanent coach who would be with the Nebraska boys all year.

Coach Foster was then called upon and after his opening story, thanked Dr. Maxey and the rest for their cooperation. He said that the college athletes of the country formed a brotherhood that extended everywhere and that he was proud to welcome the football men of Nebraska into it.

Captain Mason then thanked his team mates for their efforts and help. He said that it was hard indeed to at last sever the chains that bound himself and the team together and hoped that the Nebraska football team would always line up to the high standards that it has set. Coach Stewart and Charlie Sherman responded in their turn and at the last the toastmaster called upon Manager Eager.

"Methusila," as he was called, did not resort to stories to illustrate his point, but in his enthusiastic way told how deeply the old men felt for the success of Nebraska. He urged that every one should live and talk for old Nebraska after they graduated and that they should try to send new men and good men to Nebraska. He closed with the statement that we must beat Kansas next year.
