GLEE CLUB SINGS.

Gives Good Program Before Agriculturalists.

The Nebraska Glee Club gave its first public performance last night, appearing in a full program before the Organized Agriculture Association in Memorial Hall.

The work of the club was good and showed much improvement over the singing of last year's organization. Several of the songs drew forth hearty applause from the audience.

The annual visits of the club to Nebraska towns will begin soon, the first performance being booked for Central City, February 1.

The schedule of examinations have been published and can be secured at the Registrar's office. Rhetoric I examination will be held Saturday, January 26, from 1:15 to 3:15 p. m.

An Article by Professor Almy.

The January number of the Physical Review contains an article on "The Spark Discharge in Gases and Vapors," by Prof. J. E. Almy.

The article, which is the report of the professor's long and patient investigation and experiment, was read by him before the American Physical Society at Chicago during the Thanksgiving recess. It was here that the originality of the paper attracted such universal attention that the Physical Review requested Mr. Almy to contribute it for publication.

Thru a mistake in proof-reading Mr. Drescher's name was omitted from the business directory. We wish to call attention the fact that he has been one of our regular advertisers.

A good writing tablet is a necessity. Get it at the Uni Book Store.

IN EASTERN EYES.

College Requirements (?) as Seen by the "New York World."

The following editorial from the New York World of a recent date indicates what a delightfully exact notion of college requirements, at least at the University of Nebraska, an eastern newspaper has. We clip it for the amusement of our readers:

The college student seems to be becoming an educational Ishmaelite, with every man's hand raised against him and his against every man. If he has a dog he must send it away from the University of Syracuse or the portals of the college are closed to him. If he chews or smokes tobacco the University of Nebraska is not to be his alma mater. If he wants to celebrate a Yale defeat of Harvard he would do well to stay away from a New Haven theater.

President Elliot of Harvard and President Butler of Columbia have reached the conclusion that football is not the alpha and omega of the higher education. Harvard's head has gone even further. He has declared tennis the only honest college sport in which a ball figures, suggesting the discontinuance of basket-ball and hockey, and condemning baseball, although unwilling because of its popularity to urge its abandonment. There is some balm in Gilead, however, for Dr. Butler is now advocating the cessation of instruction at 4 p. m. in order that the students may have opportunity for outdoor exercise and the use of the funds of the university itself for athletic purposes.

If your subscription for the Nebraskan is due, do do what you ought to do and do it now. We need the money.
