THE POLICY.

It is pretty hard to predict just what kind of a paper will be turned out this next semester. Certainly, there is a big enough staff to insure some results, the Board of Publication having been very lenient and allowing no restrictions to stand in the way of plans seeming to offer anything good, and the brilliancy and braininess of the staff no one, of course, will think of questioning. Unforeseen circumstances, however, will happen sometimes.

The attempt will be made to place the paper in a position representative of the whole University, and to foster a real college spirit. Now that does

EVENTS OF FORMER YEARS.

Happenings of other years as recorded in the Nebraskan:

Five Years Ago Today.
Judge Lambertson spoke on the Northern Securities Company. The Electrical Engineering department gave an exhibition in the Armory.

Four Years Ago Today.
Captain (now general) Pershing presented a cannon to the University.

Three Years Ago Today.
Candidates for the track team met with Dr. Clapp.

Two Years Ago Today.
Dr. Canfield spoke at Convocation.

One Year Ago Today.
Paper not being printed. The new editor had not been appointed.

Comenius Club Elects.

At the recent meeting of the Comenius Club the following program was rendered:

Bohemian Legends.....Otto Kotouc
Sandhill Experiences.....J. F. Kreyclik
Reading.....F. J. Pipal

At the business meeting after the program A. A. Tenplr was elected president; W. J. Bauman, vice-president, and John Wopat, secretary-treasurer. The objection arising that the meetings were too exclusive because of the use of Bohemian only, it was decided to vary their character somewhat by the introduction of English so that outsiders could better appreciate the work of the club.

The Glee Club.

The University Glee and Mandolin Club gave concerts at Fremont, Wahoo, Aurora, and Central City during the first week in January. Large audiences greeted the club at all the towns and the entertainments were well received. The Central City Republican concludes a column account of the concert at that city with the following tribute to the Nebraska organization:

The two talented organizations that appeared last night are a credit to the not mean an attempt to arouse a burning sort of fervency and enthusiasm on the return of a victorious athletic team. It means that, but it means also "more." A big university like that of Nebraska has numerous departments and phases, yet there is, or should be, a point of view from which the whole can be seen, and this point we shall attempt to locate over here in the basement of the Administration Building. Presumptuous, is it? Perhaps it is.

It will be miraculous, of course, if something is not said inside of a week at which some person or another will be very much disgusted or which will meet with violent disapproval. Not that a general campaign of knocking is to be anticipated, for there are clearly just as many things to be praised as knocked at, but all people, it seems can not agree.

Several new features have been planned, but the nature of these will be announced later.

state university, their appearance and showing being indicative of the hustling qualities and earnestness which are bound to make any undertaking a success. Our citizens are glad that they came for another visit, and will be just as anxious to welcome them back again next year.

Progressive Spirit.

The University of Nebraska Chicago Club have made arrangements recently to lunch together once every week. The card they sent out to the men reads: "We shall lunch, preferably at 12:30, but if you drop in at any time, you will probably find someone you know present. We shall always be glad to have you bring any of your friends with you."

A. R. Wilson, who for the past eight months has held the position of assistant state engineer in the office of the State Board of Irrigation, is back in school to finish up the last semester of his course.
