JAYHAWKER FIVE

WILL PLAY THE UNIVERSITY TO-MORROW EVENING.

Both Teams Are Strong and Fast Game Is Promised—Veteran Players of the Fives—The Line-up.

Nebraska and Kansas will contest for basket-ball supremacy in the local gymnasium at 8:15 Saturday evening. The Jayhawker team will arrive in Lincoln over the Union Pacific from the south late tomorrow afternoon and will stay at the Royal Hotel, remaining in the city over Sunday.

Both teams are strong and the supporters of the Nebraska five expect a close game. The fives are composed of experienced players who understand the fine points of the game. Nebraska's old rivals have a team this year that is said to be as fast as the Jayhawker five that whalloped the Cornhuskers last season. They have defeated several of the leading basket-ball organizations of the south and will come to Lincoln tomorrow expecting to repeat last year's victory.

Among the Kansans are several veterans. The Millers—W. and M.—have been playing basket-ball for seven years. This is their third year on the Jayhawker five and they were members of the Osage, Kansas, team four seasons before going to Kansas. They were here last year. The other members of the team are Hackett, a Junior Law; Martin, a Junior Engineer; McCune and Bergen, Sophomore Engineers, and Wherry, a Junior in the Liberal Arts department.

Most of the Cornhusker players also are experienced in basket-ball. Burress, Walsh and the Bell brothers, who are playing their second season on the local five, were members of the Lincoln High School basket-ball squad for four years. This is Moser's fourth year on the Nebraska team.

During the last five years Kansas and Nebraska have met three times on the basket-ball floor and Nebraska has won two of the contests. The games in 1902 and 1903 went to the Cornhuskers by wide margins, but last season the Jayhawkers won an easy victory.

The contest tomorrow will probably be the most important game of the local schedule and the Nebraska players are preparing to give their old rivals a hard rub. The line-up follows:

Kansas.	Nebraska.
Wherry... Right Forward.....	Walsh
W. Miller... Left Forward.....	Burress
Hackett..... Center.....	Moser
M. Miller... Right Guard.....	P. Bell
Bergen..... Left Guard.....	D. Bell
Substitutes—For Kansas, Martin and McCune for Nebraska, Krake, Ferguson, and Jones.

Only Six Tickets Left.

The chairman of the Junior Prom committee announces there are now left only six tickets. No tickets will be sold at the door and the price of these remaining six is two-fifty.

Zoology 30.

The class in Ornithology (Zoology 30) will meet in room 301, Mechanic Arts, at 9 a. m., Saturday, February 9.

PROFESSOR MAXEY.

Talks at Convocation on "The Kingston Affair."

Professor Maxey spoke very interestingly at Convocation yesterday morning upon "The Kingston Affair." A large part of the city was destroyed by the earthquake and nearly all the rest by fire. Admiral Davis, with his warships, was to render aid wherever it was needed. No British warships were there because of the friendliness between America and Great Britain. The hostile action of the governor of Jamaica toward Admiral Davis was not representative of the people of Jamaica, nor of the feeling of the British government, for an apology was made to our government and we were thanked. The action, however, was representative of the official class of Jamaica. Close commercial relations between the United States and Jamaica date back to the early nineties when commerce in Jamaica had become depressed and the price of sugar, (Jamaica's main product) was so decreased that financial distress followed. American capital entered at this time and had developed the fruit industry, and for the tropical fruits raised the United States was and is the natural market. The countervailing duty exacted by the United States upon bounty fed sugars makes it, instead of England, the market for the cane sugar of Jamaica.

The more rapid progress of Porto Rico has brought it about that the official class in Jamaica consider the United States a power whose friendship ought not to be cultivated. The incident forcibly illustrates the lack of wisdom in placing men in colonial positions seemingly unimportant, but which may at any time become positions of great responsibility, without regard for qualifications.

Jamaica is not profitable to England since the annual expenditures are $100,000 more than the revenue. A majority of the officials in the legislative assembly are British officers.

Professor Hastings will divide the Equity 1 class into two divisions.

SOPHOMORES STIRRING.

Meeting for Election of President to be Held Next Thursday.

After the stir of other politics Sophomore politics are again getting under way. The two candidates, Nelson and Dobbs, are again in the field, seemingly fresh after a period of something like inaction. The comparative quiet noticeable during the past week was but the ominous lull that precedes the storm. Like the plumed knights of a Shakespearean drama the two political rivals had, as by mutual agreement, leaned on their swords and paused for breath.

The time for the election has been set for next Thursday, and the friends of the factions are bestirring themselves nobly to place their favorite man in the executive chair. The entire class is manifesting a keener interest in politics than has ever been shown by that class heretofore. And interest is spreading to other classes.

SENIOR PLAY TRYOUT.

Several Men Wanted to Make Trial for Places Next Wednesday Night.

Owing to the small number of men trying out for places in the Senior play last Wednesday night, several important parts have not yet been assigned. Consequently, there will be another opportunity offered for securing the places next Wednesday evening, February 13. The tryouts are held before only the three judges; Professors Losey, Ford, and Louise Pound these alone judging the merits of the contestants.

Professor Losey is an expert on Shakespearean roles, and the benefit derived from the training by members of the cast will more than compensate them for the time spent. It is hoped that a large number of men will appear at Union Hall next Wednesday, for all the following places yet vacant: Vincentio, Blondello, Horatio, Tranio, Pedant, a lord, hunters and servants.

Some new apparatus is being ordered for the mineralogy classes.

TROUBLE PASSED

DIFFICULTY CONCERNING CORNHUSKER JOKES SETTLED.

Chancellor Interviewed by Editors of Book—Richards to Edit the Questionable Material.

Yesterday morning the trouble over the question as to whether or not the material to be put into the Cornhusker should all be edited by the Board of Publication was taken up with the Chancellor by the editors and a final agreement reached. Considerable stir and discussion had been created by the announcement the day before that the faculty, in order to prevent the appearance of any caricatures or jokes made at their expense, would subject the copy to the rigid surveillance of the Student Publication Board. Many students declared against the injustice of this requirement and much interest turned upon the meeting where an attempt to lessen the stringency of such a ruling was to be made.

The Chancellor explained to H. G. Myers, editor-in-chief, and T. A. Brown, managing editor, that there would be no restrictions placed on the nature of the take-offs put into the book, except those dealing with physical imperfections or peculiarities. These, he declared would be strictly prohibited. Further, any material that seemed, in the judgment of the editors, of doubtful character, should be submitted to Professor Richards, chairman of the Board, and be printed only at his approval. In deciding just what was of questionable nature, the editors should be left to their honor.

Regarding this settlement, some students contend it is perfectly just and fair, but there are others who maintain there should be, properly, no supervision whatever over the copy that goes to make up the year book of the school.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS.

Chance to Hear Thomas Orchestra.

The Chorus Class has just started work in preparation for the Thomas Orchestra Concert which will be held in the spring. The piece used in practice is "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," which is a very interesting work. There are over a hundred members in the Chorus now and many more are wanted for the organization, especially boys. Participation in this chorus work gives the students an opportunity to attend the concerts of the orchestra.

Work Suspended.

Work on the Temple Building has been suspended for the last week and a half on account of the severe weather. The building has been progressing rapidly; the walls are very nearly completed, joists for two of the floors have been laid, and some of the lower windows put in place. The intention is to have the place ready for occupancy at the beginning of school next September, and unless too many hindrances obstruct the course of work, the plans will probably be realized.
