Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

"She thinks I hadn't ought to do it, but I think I had."

If there is one mistake in grammar made oftener than any other, and especially on this campus, it is "hadn't ought." Now language, to be sure, is only a means of communication, but in this means there must be a standard, and college people, presumably, are those acquainted with it. Sadly enough, there are a whole lot of college graduates who have not yet learned to talk straight, and whose ignorance slips out in some such breaks as that cited above. So pardon the parody:

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen,

Ninety Per Cent

of eye troubles are due to "putting off" the use of glasses after failure begins, or to wearing of wrong ones. If you are not comfortable in your glasses or are suffering from eye-strain let us test your sight. Examination free.

Hallett - Jeweler-Optician - 1143 O

The saddest are these: It hadn't ought to have been."

A colored girl, a student here at the University, passed a tableful of students over in the library the other day, and the whole circle began immediately in the most naive manner imaginable to giggle.

Allow us to recommend a milk bottle.

Why don't we get a calander over in the Library? Somebody will date his work wrong one of these days and then get flunked at the end of the semester for defluencies.

Prom Poster.

Phil Harrison's new poster for the Junior Prom is exciting much attention. The class numerals are used in the center and these brought out by a novel but very effective sort of shading. The new piece of work well sustains Mr. Harrison's reputation as an artist of exceptional ability in this direction.

EVENTS OF FORMER YEARS.

Happenings of other years as recorded in the Nebraskan:

Three Years Ago Today.

The Sophs kidnapped Clarence Johnson, chairman of the Freshman committee.

Two Years Ago Today.

The Acacia fraternity granted a charter to the Masonic Association of the University.

A girls' mass meeting was held, Miss Brewster presiding, to raise money for the Temple fund.

For the benefit of Freshmen aspiring to lofty climaxes in Rhetoric 2, we print verbatim a clipping taken the other day from a paper in one of Nebraska's little country towns:

As the writer looked upon the life less form, as it lay in the beautiful casket, dressed in its burial robe of pure white, with the little badge of honor—The Relief Corps Badge, memento of the time when we first partook of her hospitality, as a guest at the hotel many years ago, and the times since as we gathered around her bountiful board, and we thought within ourself,

"How are the Mighty Fallen."

SHAKESPEAREAN RESEARCH.

Dr. Wallace Receives Notice of a New Discovery Made in England.

The international interest aroused by a representative of the University of Nebraska the past two years in Shakespearean research work among the English archives is still bearing fruit. Recently one of Dr. Wallace's friends, Prof. F. Feuillerat of the University of Rennes, France, has reported in a private letter that he had unearthed another valuable document touching on Blackfriars theatre. The proposed publication of the documents in the London Times, in which Professor Wallace's most recent discoveries on that famous old theatre were set forth last semester, will be eagerly looked for by all scholars who are interested in the Shakespearean drama and stage.

Curtis in Hard Luck Again.

Joe Curtis, the Michigan football player, is declared to be the unluckiest man at the Ann Arbor school. Ruled out of the 1905 Chicago game thru an accusation of which he and every Michigan man believed him innocent; and kept out of the Pennsylvania game last season by a fractured leg the week before the big contest, was enough misfortune. The other evening he fell on a sidewalk and it is very probable that his leg is broken in the same place as the old fracture was.

Students at Harvard University are now protesting vigorously against a rule prohibiting athletes who represent their school from participating in more than two branches of sports. This rule, so the students claim, hampers athletic teams by the lack of all-around athletes on teams.

Do Not Select Your Valentines

Until you have looked through our extensive line. We are showing everything from the Postal Cards at a penny apiece up to the beautiful Valentine gift books at $1.50 to $2.50 apiece. We are specially strong in the following:

Fancy Celluloid Valentines, boxed ready for mailing, in prices 5c to $1.25.

Imported German Novelties, in new designs, from 10c to 85c.
Hand Water Color Valentines, designed with fancy heads and figures artistically mounted; prices 12c to 25c.

Valentine Postal Cards, in hand water colors or embossed, ranging in price from 1c to 10c each. On sale in Book Department.

Pearl Buttons for Everybody

Yesterday we put on sale almost 12,000 dozen Pearl Buttons, in all the regular sizes, and at a variety of prices. Many of these buttons are extremely cheap, and when they are gone the probabilities are that they cannot be duplicated at the prices, unless there comes a radical change in the Pearl Button market.

Prices run from 2 1/2c up to 10c per dozen. The values are truly remarkable and you should not fail to look them over if you have even a remote expectation of buying. They are on display on the middle tables of our Notions aisle.

Hose Supporters

We have a special lot of Side Hose Supporters, worth from 10c to 20c. These are in Women's, Misses and Children's sizes. We will close them out at, a pair ..... 5c
