SPRING SPORTS

TRACK AND BASEBALL MEN WILL BE OUT SOON.

Good prospects for Strong Teams—Call for Candidates—Prospective Players—Strong Schedules Made.

Within the next few weeks calls for track and baseball men will be issued by Captains Knode and Rine. Practice will begin early this spring and many men will try out for the teams.

There is much good material among the students for both organizations. Some of the men mentioned as probable candidates for positions on the baseball nine are "Robbie" Carroll, Will Rine, Captain of this year's team; Gaddis, Bellemy, Mike Denslow, W. Fleming, "Babe" Hawley, Edward Patterson and Beltzer. Several of these men were members of last year's team and are known to be strong players.

Fatterson, a catcher, and Fleming, a pitcher, are new men but are said to be fast. Among the promising men spoken of for the track team are Knode (captain), Dunlap, Burress, McDonald, Johnson, Smith, Sampson, Morgan, Alden, Havens, Chaloupka, Collins, Cornell, Moser, Craig, Fleming, Hughes, Anthes, Wallace, Winters and Hauser who were on the team last year are not in school this semester. "Ducky" Holmes will coach the baseball team.

Manager Eager has completed a schedule for an eastern trip and is now engaged in arranging a home schedule, which will not be announced for several weeks as Mr. Eager is obliged to wait until the Western league dates are made so that his games will not occur on the same days that "Ducky's" team plays. A few games will be arranged with the Lincoln nine. The schedule follows:

- May 4—Ames college at Ames, Ia.
- May 6—Open, either Grinnell or Highland Park, Ia.

ANNUAL SIGMA XI ADDRESS.

Dr. Minot to Speak at University
Next Week.

All students of the College of Medicine and others interested are invited to hear Dr. Charles Sedgwick of the Harvard Medical School, on Saturday evening, February 16, at eight o'clock in the Art Hall.

Doctor Minot will deliver the annual Sigma XI address and will speak on "The Biological Interpretation of Life." Dr. Minot is a fine speaker, a past President of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a man of great renown in scientific circles. His work on Human Embryology is not only the leading work in the English language but it has been given the rare compliment of being translated into German. All medical students should plan without fail to hear Dr. Minot.

Dr. Minot has consented to speak before the College of Medicine at 11 a. m. on Saturday in M-301. He will discuss "The New Harvard Medical School and its Significance in Medical Education." The talk will be illustrated by lantern slides.

Sophomore Politics.

The Sophomore election will be held tomorrow morning in Memorial Hall at 11:30 o'clock. Dobbs and Nelson, the two most prominent candidates, have been working diligently during the last few days and both are confident of success. It was announced yesterday that R. M. Wildish, engineering student, had entered the race. The election will undoubtedly be very close and all second year students are requested to be present to vote.

Dr. Roach Will Speak.

In U. 106, on Thursday, February 14, Dr. Roach will address the Y. W. C. A. Dr. Roach needs no recommendation. Let the girls show their appreciation by being present, and they in turn will be sure to get an inspiration which will last them no short time.

Professor Fossler Improving.

At latest report, Professor Fossler was improving very rapidly. He is receiving treatment regularly for the ear trouble and may possibly be strong enough to hear his classes next Monday. However, there is no certainty of this.

Call For Men.

Candidates for the baseball team will report at the gymnasium for practice at 1 o'clock today. Indoor practice will be held every day at that time.

EAGER.

The Chicago-Illinois indoor track meet resulted in a tie score of 43 to 43.

A LIBRARY INTRUDER.

Unexpected Visitor Gets Into Library Hall.

The library "children" were made to "laugh and play" yesterday forenoon when a superannuated "lamb," with dangerous looking horns, strolled into the room defiantly bearing the label "Iron Sphinx." Some enterprising students had apparently captured the wayward fugitive, affixed the label to it, and gently thrust it thru the swinging doors. The animal manifested some signs of embarrassment as it slowly strode up the center aisle, gazing from right to left apparently hoping to recognize the sympathetic features of the legendary Mary.

He had not maneuvered long when the general buzz in the room attracted the attention of the head librarian, who promptly pursued the intruder. A short but spirited race around one of the tables ensued, after which the innocent was finally led from the room by the horns, much to the amusement of the spectators.

Prom Poster Stolen.

Late last Friday afternoon the Junior Prom poster drawn by P. J. Harrison was missed from the display case in the hallway of Uni Building and no trace has been found of it since. It is thought by some it may have been taken by persons thinking it the property of the Junior class, but since the actual value of the work expended on it was something like fifteen or twenty dollars and since the class could not, of course, afford to pay any such sum, the class paid only for the use and the poster was to revert to Mr. Harrison. Naturally the artist feels the loss heavily, but it is hard to believe one with a taste for such things so lacking in principle as to take the piece of work knowing it to be personal property. The thing to do, if you know of its whereabouts, of course, is to return it, and since there may have been some misapprehension concerning the ownership, no one will be very sharply censured.

Cornhusker Committee.

The Sophomore Cornhusker Committee is requested to meet in the office of the Cornhusker at 12 o'clock, Friday February 15. The members of the committee are Fay Hartley, George Thomas, James Mould and C. E. Elliott, and they are urged to be present at this meeting.

Mid-week Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

A number of the delegates who attended the state convention will give reports on the interesting features of the conference. Messrs. Ayres, Green and Nelson will give accounts of some of the most interesting features. All Uni. men are invited to attend.

BERNSTEIN SPEAKS

OMAHA PROFESSOR GIVES PLEAS-ING ADDRESS.

Development of Modern Civilization—
Complexity of Modern Life—All Men Not Created Equal.

Prof. Nathan Bernstein of the Physics department of the Omaha High School gave a fine address upon the subject of "A New Ideal" at Convocation yesterday morning. He spoke of ideals as a part of our own lives, and showed how the ancients had developed along these lines.

Institutions of law were inherited from the Romans, who were creators and masters of legal customs. It was Rome's mission to give laws to the whole world. Greece had an ideal; that of art and the cultivation of beauty. Socrates had awakened the Athenians to a higher appreciation of life and then there awaited him the cup of hemlock, but his works lived after him. The Jews gave to the world the highest conception of God and the great teacher Jesus Christ. Some writer has said that the Jews are the only Christians in Europe. Certain it is that they have given us the Bible upon which the destiny of our country rests, and in this great book are found the germs of every science and art. Altho the Jews have been called the "scrapgoat" of mankind, the mission of Israel is not yet fulfilled. Greeks, Romans and Jews are all a part of this growth. The first two gave their lives for it, the third gave the very best of what it had.

To say that modern civilization is complex puts it very mildly. We perhaps realize that this is a strenuous life; things are continually happening and we are a part of it and under its influence. But we read the future only in the light of the past and present. Among the youth of today are the men of tomorrow. All men are not created equal since all cannot have equal earning capacity. The inequalities are becoming more apparent because of growing tendencies in economic conditions. Men should look most to the common good rather than to the individual. It is bad to separate man from his fellows. The ideal should be one of friendly and harmonious cooperation of classes, and union in a social body. Shall the forces of union triumph over the forces of disintegration? The answer lies with us.

To be patriotic is not alone to die for our country, but to live for our country. Loyalty to college is, in embryo, what later stands for loyalty to country. Some stamp should be placed upon the genius of our age other than that of commercialism, which should occupy its proper subordinate place. Ideals are social facts and the college or university should be the social unit making us strive as brothers (and sisters) for the highest and best ideals. Fraternities, athletics and college papers, all should be subordinated to the commercial greater welfare, and foster the new ideal.

W. J. Ryan, of the Senior Class, left yesterday for Montpelier, Idaho, where he will open an office.
