AND WORSE.

The other day, so one of our most intimate companions told us, he, as students often will, fell off into a soft, sweet fit of slumber in the Library. And strangely in the fantasy that followed seemed transported back to the scenes of childhood. There he played and romped and sported in the old back yard with "Jimmy,"—"Jim," his pet, his old caressed and fondled, long forgotten pet for. And as he played, it vaguely came upon his senses that not all, quite all was right. Perhaps, then, just one short act remained,—the pet must have a bath. So manfully he

Of course, Elbert Hubbard himself is regarded by most people as eccentric, but, nevertheless, there is something in the criticism. We ought to be in college to acquire qualities, not senseless facts and fashions.

EVENTS OF FORMER YEARS.

Happenings of other days as recorded in the Nebraskan:

Four Years Ago Today.

Death of Miss Ellen Smith, Registrar of the University from 1882 to 1902.

Decision of the Regents to merge the School of Music with the University.

University defeated the City Y. M. C. A. basket-ball team by a score of 33 to 20.

Two Years Ago Today.

'Varsity five defeated at Port Washington, Wis., by a score of 46 to 27.

Changes in Staff.

On account of the stress of their work, two of the men on the staff have been compelled to withdraw. These are S. P. Dobbs and Paul Butler. The place of the former will be filled by Paul G. Burt and of the latter by Earl R. Hunt. Mr. Burt has proved himself a keen student and shows the acumen necessary to the making of a good man on the trail of general news. Mr. Hunt has had some newspaper experience already and will readily take hold of the work in the departments.

Communication.

The following very timely communication has been received:

Students who live in lodging houses where contagious diseases break out ought to realize that having been exposed they would do well to stay where they are, instead of moving as soon as possible to some other location. Several cases have come up lately where students have hastened to carry the germs of some contagious TORIC LENSES Just as everything else has been improving, so the new form of Toric Lenses has revolutionized the wearing of glasses. The increase in the field of vision and the comfort with which these lenses are worn is worthy of your consideration. If you have not tried this style of glass come in and let us adjust a pair to your eyes. They are giving uniform satisfaction. Eyes examined free.

struggled with the tub, and manly held the fox, but all in vain; the same dark, dull oppression rested on his brain, till quite in desperation, he—awoke, yet grasping for the fox's tail.

Would this were all the tale! But as he rubbed his eyes and looked and saw, he found the cause of all his mental world's distortion. Must we tell? Ah, sad! But truth is sacred, so we will not wait;—it was a man just fresh from the front gate!

Elbert Hubbard said in the January Cosmopolitan: "I do not know of a single college or university in the world that focuses on qualities. I do not know of a university in America, excepting Tuskegee, that prohibits the use of tobacco among its students. At Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Columbia, and Princeton, cigarettes are optional, but a stranger would surely suppose the practice of cigarette smoking was compulsory. The boy who does not acquire the tobacco habit at college is regarded as eccentric. Many of the disease into a new lodging house, thus exposing a new group of students to the disease. Probably this was the result or thoughtlessness only: yet those who were in such a hurry to move were responsible for introducing the disease into a new place. A little care or foresight in such cases would save a lot of harm.

July Commencement.

Students may secure degrees from Nebraska University in July, according to a new regulation. In the past, students who have had sufficient credits to graduate after finishing summer school work have been compelled to wait until the following February. In order to remedy this, a change has been made whereby students having within six credits of enough to graduate at the June commencement may take summer school work and graduate immediately thereafter.

Nina M. Warren, Chi Omega, has withdrawn from the University.
