THREE SUCCESSFUL

IN PASSING THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP EXAMINATIONS.

Nebraska, Wesleyan, and Cotner Each Have a Candidate—Award of the Prize to Be Made Tomorrow.

Samuel N. Rinaker, of the University of Nebraska; Joseph Earl Smith, of Cotner University; and Homer Austin Whitehorn, of Nebraska Wesleyan University successfully passed the Rhodes Scholarship Examinations which were held at the University of Nebraska last month.

This information, with the announcement that one of these candidates will be selected for the Scholarship, Friday, was given out from the office of the Chancellor yesterday. The papers of the students who took the examinations were sent to the United States Committee on Rhodes Scholarships the latter part of January and the foregoing names of those who passed were received at the University Tuesday. The Nebraska Committee on Rhodes Scholarships will meet in the Chancellor's office Friday and award the prize to one of the three candidates.

The men who passed the examinations are among the best students in their respective schools. Mr. Rinaker, is a member of the Sophomore class at the University of Nebraska. His home is at Beatrice, where he graduated from the high school as Valedictorian of his class in 1905. He entered the University in the fall of that year and was unanimously elected president of the Freshman class for the second semester and re-elected for the first semester of the Sophomore year. Mr. Rinaker is now a member of the University Forum, and the English and Latin Clubs. He was appointed Quartermaster Sergeant of the Cadet Battalion and Managing Editor of the Daily Nebraskan last semester, and has been a member of the debating squad for two years.

Mr. Whitehorn has been at Wesleyan four years, and at present is a student in the Junior class.

He is taking his Major and Minor work in the classics. He is unostentatious and is one of the best students at Wesleyan. His home is at University Place.

Mr. Smith is a Sophomore at Cotner and has been at that school four years. He is an athlete as well as a good student, having been a player on the Cotner baseball team for two seasons, and is president of the Christian Endeavor Society at that institution. His home is at Overton, a small town a few miles east of Kearney on the main line of the Union Pacific railroad.

The United States has sent forty-three students to Oxford since the Rhode Scholarship was established in this country and Germany a few years ago. Nebraska is now represented at the English college by Arthur Marsh, '05.

The Rhode Scholarship appointment includes free tuition, and a $1,500 annual allowance for a four years' course at the University of Oxford.

THE BRACE LABORATORY.

The Brace Laboratory of Physics (1905) is named in honor of the late Professor DeWitt Bristol Brace. Besides the department of Physics it houses on the third floor the United States Weather Bureau. The rest of this floor is occupied by the mechanics laboratories and a large sound-and-heat laboratory. On the second floor is a large laboratory for optics with adjacent dark rooms for photometry; a laboratory for a teachers' course in methods and manipulation; the auditorium, with a seating capacity for two hundred and fifty; the adjoining apparatus cabinets; a smaller lecture room; and the department library. The first floor is reserved for work requiring freedom from mechanical vibrations and for the shops. On this floor are the laboratories for electrical measurements, a large laboratory, and several smaller rooms for research. Under this floor is a corridor for special work in optics, extending the whole length of the building, and a constant temperature room.

Placard Against Tobacco.

A number of the most ardent lovers of "My Lady Nicotine" were somewhat annoyed yesterday when they discovered a bold poster on the door of the Mechanic Arts building bearing the warning: "Anyone found using tobacco in this building will be brought before the Chancellor, in any shape or form." There was considerable discussion among some of the men as to the construction of this sentence, some of them holding that according to strict construction, the unfortunate offender is to be taken "dead or alive."

KANSAS OBJECTS

STUDENTS AGAINST ENTERING LEAGUE WITHOUT NEBRASKA.

Draw Up Resolutions—Dr. Lees of the Athletic Board Says Nebraska Will Probably Not Enter.

At a mass meeting of the students at Kansas the other day a set of resolutions was drawn up expressing dissatisfaction at some of the proposed regulations for the Missouri Valley Conference. The principal objections of the students centered around the question of their going into the league if Nebraska stays out. At the meeting called recently for delegates from each of the schools in the proposed league, all but Nebraska were represented, and Kansas University students object to the plans then made for the union of the schools of the Missouri Valley, unless it is certain that Nebraska is to be one of the number. They object also to the presence of Washington in the league. A set of resolutions were drawn up with the hope of preventing the ratification of these plans by the Kansas authorities. They were as follows:

Whereas, the Board of Directors of the University of Kansas has recommended certain rules to be adopted by the University Council relative to the formation of "The Missouri Valley Conference of Faculty Members" consisting of the following Universities: University of Iowa, University of Kansas, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, and Washington University, and believing that such an organization will be detrimental to the athletic interests of the University of Kansas,

Therefore be it resolved that it is the sentiment of the student body:

First, that this conference should not be organized unless the four state universities above named all agree to enter this organization.

Second, that Washington University should not be admitted to this organization.

Dr. Lees, when interviewed as to the attitude of the Athletic Board toward the matter, said: "Indeed, I don't think we cared very much whether we got into the league or not. The question that is puzzling us is as to what will be gained. Nebraska may have to conform anyway to the 'Big Nine' rules in order to get contracts with the schools of that league, and that will mean our abiding by the 'three-year' rule and the 'one-year' rule, excluding Freshmen from participation in athletics for two semesters. Personally, I am in favor of the 'one-semester' rule. There is no sufficient reason for keeping a man out of athletics after he has shown his willingness to work, but since our teams will be made up, probably of men eligible to play under the 'Big Nine' rules, what, then, will be the advantage of following the 'one-semester' rule? Further, if we go into this Missouri Valley Conference, it means that sooner or later, Nebraska will be placed at the mercy of the other states. Kansas University will recommend a second smaller institution, say, Man-
