Simplified Spelling Board Plans Active Campaign for This Year.

With an army of 15,000 supporters who have signified their belief in the simplified spelling idea, with 100 magazines and newspapers already using the shorter forms, and with 130 other publications ready to begin to spell in the space saving way, the Simplified Spelling Board is planning for this year a very active campaign to secure the adoption of its idea. In the first two months of this year 350 important business men have joined the movement. A campaign among college and university professors in two months has added 600 names to this class of supporters. As a result, simplified spelling is now indorsed by 2,500 educators in the institutions of higher education in this country. The next campaign will be to interest the faculties and pupils of the great normal schools. Already there are 3,000 teachers who have signed the adhesion card, while simplified spelling is being taught or authorized in the state normal schools of Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and other states, and in the public schools of Washington, D. C.; Dayton, O.; Columbus, O.; Duluth, Minn.; Passaic, N. J.; and many cities and towns.

A simplified spelling convention will be held in April in New York City, at which plans for a sustained and active campaign will probably be formulated. The simplified spelling idea continues to make friends, and its supporters are more sanguine than ever of its ultimate success.

Cuts Arriving.

The pictorial portion of the Cornhusker is now beginning to assume shape. Yesterday the first big batch of cuts arrived, these being of the groups of individuals. About fifty groups were sent this time and the this comprises but about one-fifth of the individual pictures, all the remainder are expected to arrive by the twelfth of the month. The cuts so far received show up with remarkable clearness and this fact taken with the new method of arrangement bids fair to make this feature of the book decidedly conspicuous. The work is being done by Baker Brothers of Omaha.

Nearly all organizations have now had pictures. Yesterday, the University girls' basket-ball team, and some of the girls' class teams did the posing act. It is expected the gymnastic team will do the act today.

Quite a number of students are talking of making the tour of Europe with Dr. Lees' party which leaves Lincoln about the eighteenth of June.

Professor Wells of Wesleyan and Professor Persinger of the University will offer courses in American History in the Summer Session.

Superintendent J. L. McBrien will give a lecture to the teachers at the Summer Session on the subject, "The New School Laws."

W. C. Green, '01, has been reelected as superintendent of schools at Tilden for the coming year at an increase of salary.

Professor G. H. Morse will give a lecture at the State Farm Saturday, on "Farm Mechanics."

High School Inspector Reed left for a short trip over the state yesterday.
