Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

We of the present University generation, as we see the Temple nearing completion scarcely realize what was involved in order to make the building a reality. Many and severe were the struggles and difficulties met before those thirty-three thousand dollars could be raised.

An appeal was made to the citizens of the state; the various organizations in the University pledged themselves to raise amounts that would seem far beyond their capacities; students,—and many poor students, working their way through school,—pledged themselves for twenty-five, ing the lights may not seem quite so indispensable a requisite to some, but they,—that is, the lights,—should certainly be in operation during bad weather.

TO ISSUE CATALOG.
Historical Society Museum Making an Enumeration of Exhibits.

A careful inventory of all exhibits in the Historical Museum is being taken, preparatory to issuing a complete catalog of the Museum. This will be the first catalog of the kind ever issued by the Historical Society, and will be a great help to the Society in future years as well as of interest to the public. There are in the Museum at present, countless curios, the history of which, on account of the absence of any account or record, is a mere matter of conjecture; and it is to guard against such oblivion that the catalog is planned.

The catalog will consist of an enumeration of all articles in the Museum with a brief history of each and with the name of its owner or donator. It will be published within a year, and hereafter a catalog will be issued every two years as a part of the regular report of the Society.

Battalion News.
The cadet officers have finally decided not to wait any longer for the Krag-Jorgensen rifles and will commence drilling with the old guns next Monday. Altho bonds for the new rifles had been sent quite a while ago, no news of their forwardance has as yet been received by Captain Workeizer. The Pershing Rifles hope to secure

RESULTS TELL

We claim to be the best CLEANERS and DYERS in Lincoln and are here to prove it. Our methods and machinery are the VERY LATEST and our workmen the best that money can secure. fifty and even a hundred dollars each. And behind all the movement was indefatigable perseverance of the Chancellor. Opposition was met on every hand; the source of a great part of the money was bitterly denounced and the leaders of the movement were the objects of much harsh criticism. Now that all the storm is past and all the old hopes have been reared into brick and stone, it is well perhaps that we stop to appreciate what the big building now standing over on the corner means.

Students lately have been heard to object to the lack of light on the campus at night. The arc lights, it seems, have not been burning and during the icy period not long since, several rather severe tumbles occurred after nightfall as a result of the pedestrians inability to see the treacherous spots of the way ahead. Now that spring and bench work are approach-the use of the guns of the Lincoln Light Infantry, W. C. Ramsey, Captain, as they are supplied with the Krags. The men will thus secure some familiarity with the new piece before the armament for the battalion arrives.

Hekking to Come.
Through the instrumentality of Professor Kimball of the University School of Music, a date has been arranged by the University Y. W. C. A. with the manager of Anton Hekking, the great German 'cellist. The number of great violincellists is small and among these there are not more than three or four who enjoy international reputations as virtuosi. One of these, pre-eminent among the elect is Anton Hekking, who will give a concert in Memorial Hall, Friday evening, April 5.
