Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

It should not be construed from what was said in the Nebraskan recently concerning the Athletic Board's action on the Conference rules that the stand then taken was based on any reason whatever except the principle involved. The Board had no thought, it is understood, of making a rule simply to allow the entrance of certain men into athletics the coming fall.

It is easy, of course, to take a one-sided view of the matter of whether or not the Laws shall have a part of the Cornhusker quite separate from

At last a man has been caught in the act of stealing in the University and has been punished to the fullest extent of the law. The fine and the censure of the judge meant something, but the ignominy and shame that have fallen to the lot of the offender should mean a great deal more. There is something impressive about a great blot being stamped forever and indelibly upon a young fellow's life in that way, and it should serve as a warning.

EVENTS OF FORMER YEARS.

Happenings of other years as recorded in The Nebraskan:

Five Years Ago Today.

In the interclass basketball tournament the Sophomores defeated the Seniors and the Juniors the Freshmen, each of the victorious teams claiming the championship.

Two Years Ago Today.

Nebraska defeated William Jewell College by a score of 17 to 30 in the last game of the season.

Student Convicted.

Yesterday morning, a student of the University, Clifford L. Bohannon by name, was tried in the police court for stealing overcoats at the University, was convicted and fined $100 and costs.

Everything indicates that the Gymnastic exhibition to be held a week from tomorrow night, Saturday, March 23, will be the most successful of its kind in the history of the institution. The men are working hard daily and doing some very pretty work. It will be a very interesting performance and is in support of a most worthy cause—the raising of funds to send the University gymnastic team to Chicago to participate in the Western Intercollegiate gymnastic championships—and it is to be hoped that a large crowd will turn out.

Harvard University

The following graduate and professional schools in Harvard University are open to holders of a bachelor's degree.

THE LAW SCHOOL

A three years' course leads to the degree of LL.B. Residence for three years is required, but residence at another three years' school may be accepted as a substitute for one of the years of residence at this school. Three annual examinations are required. Inquiries may be addressed to H. A. Fischer, 20 Austin Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

THE MEDICAL SCHOOL

A four years' course leads to the M. D. degree. The School offers graduate courses open to holders of the M. D. degree, and in its new laboratories offers greatly extended facilities for research. For catalogues, for graduate and summer courses, for research and special courses, address Charles M. Green, M. D., 104 Administration Building, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

THE DIVINITY SCHOOL

This is an undenominational school of theology offering instruction appropriate to the calling of the ministry and leading to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. Students have also the privilege of attending courses given under the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. Inquiries may be addressed to R. S. Morison, 5 Divinity Library, Cambridge, Mass.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES.

Instruction is offered leading to the Masters' and the Doctors' degrees in the following fields: Philology (Ancient and Modern Languages and Literature), History, Political Science, Economics, Philosophy, Fine Arts, Music, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Geology, and Anthropology. Inquiries may be addressed to G. W. Robinson, 11 University Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF APPLIED SCIENCE

Instruction leading to professional degrees is offered in the following subjects: Civil, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, Mining, Metallurgy, Architecture, Landscape Architecture, Forestry, Applied Physics, Applied Chemistry, Applied Zoology, and Applied Geology. Inquiries may be addressed to W. C. Sabine, 17 University Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

other schools, but looking at it from some points of view, at least, there is not much justification for the demand. Nor is it by any means certain that this is a general feeling in the Law school.

Efforts have been made for the last five years to get the class books united and have one big representative University publication. Now that this is all but accomplished in a thorough broad manner, any effort toward splitting the book up again seems especially inopportune and out of place.

All the schools and classes represented will have their photographs run in groups; all the Engineers will be in one separate group, all the Laws in another, and so on. But since the remainder of the schools are to have their stories, jokes and so forth together, it is hard to see why the Laws should draw apart. Let us have a University book, not a group of class books hooked together.

"Raeuber" there about the last of April, has requested Albert Aaron to take one of the principal parts in the play. Mr. Aaron is undecided as to whether or not his work will permit his accepting the offer.

Important!
