Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The Laws occupy some space in the Nebraskan today. What is published appears, it is understood, at the general request of the Law School. It is hoped everybody will read it for it instructs in more than one way. On the whole, it is regrettable that such things have been given and are to be given so much prominence, but it is only fair that all sides be given equal room to argue.

It is admitted that it was unfair to allow one side a chance to look over the arguments of the other before answering the other and to give the one side more space than the other. All

The Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

With the completion of the new buildings, which were dedicated September 25th, 1906, this school now has facilities and equipment for teaching and research in the various branches of medicine probably unsurpassed in this country. Of the five buildings, four are devoted entirely to laboratory teaching and research. The numerous hospitals of Boston afford abundant opportunities for clinical instruction in medicine and surgery.

COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF M. D.

A four years' course, open to bachelors of art, literature, philosophy or science, and to persons of equivalent standing, leads to the degree of M. D. The studies of the fourth year are wholly elective; they include laboratory subjects, general medicine, general surgery and the special clinical branches. The next school year extends from September 26, 1907, to June 29, 1908. Send for illustrated catalogue; address the staff was not responsible for what was done, but no one member will be involved,—that is out of the question.

Now that vacation is here, it were well that the whole affair were dropped. Neither side has convinced the other. Mr. Meyers stands exactly where he did at starting, the Laws retain their same position, and, for all, the Nebraskan is yet attached to the belief that to have the Law material in a separate department is to mar the unity and effectiveness of the Cornhusker. What obstinacy!

Another very effective poster announcing an officers' hop has appeared in University Hall. Since it is the work of another engineer, Mr. Slaughter, it is of especial interest. Anything of this sort among engineering students ought to be encouraged to the utmost. The men in that department where mechanical drawing is taught have a special advantage. Why should not more put it to a use of this sort?

Attention is called to the fact that in the eligibility rule for inter-fraternity baseball as printed recently, the phrase, "Easter baseball trip" should be changed to "eastern baseball trip."

May Music Festival.

The second annual May music festival will be held in Lincoln on May 22 and 23. As a year ago, the famous Theodore Thomas Orchestra has been secured for this, the greatest music festival held in Nebraska. Two short choral works will be given, viz., "Fair Ellen" by Max Bruch, and "Wedding Feast" by Coleridge Taylor. The festival chorus will commence work at once.
