Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Heretofore there has always been considerable objection raised at the proposition of paying twenty-five cents for registration previous to voting in the Athletic Board elections. It has been felt that the Board was taking something of an advantage, perhaps, in stipulating that such a sum had to be paid without any further returns than the permission to cast one vote. Now, however, the ruling has been changed so that the voter's ballot after being punched is good to apply on admission to athletic contests. This makes the act of casting a vote a matter of some importance and dignity, number of registrations in that department.

Professor Richards is fairly optimistic now over the prospect. The understanding is that the building will be delayed but little and consequently plans as originally devised can be followed out. Perhaps the Legislature is a pretty good sort of a bunch after all!

GETS $50,000.

University Receives Half of Sum Asked for Building.

Deftly dodging the blow of the anti-educationalists in the Senate, the University managed to save $50,000 from the wreck yesterday morning. This sum will be added to the cash account of the Regents and will be taken from the general fund.

The sum of $100,000 will be diverted from the 1-mill levy fund and placed at the disposal of the State Farm for buildings. The House conference committee made a gallant stand for the University and thus eluded in part the malevolence of the anti-Lincoln senators.

Professor Richards says that as matters now stand, the University is nearly as well off as if it had gained the entire amount. It is his understanding that the other $50,000 necessary to the erection of the Engineering building is to be appropriated at the next session of the Legislature. Considering the leisurely manner in which University buildings are usually erected, it is not probable that the plans will have been drawn and half the building erected before the time arrives for further appropriation.

Professor Richards is not in favor of the erection of a "wing," but plans on beginning the building originally planned for.

Dr. James Carroll of Washington, D. C., will be present at the College of Medicine commencement exercises at

The Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

With the completion of the new buildings, which were dedicated September 25th, 1906, this school now has facilities and equipment for teaching and research in the various branches of medicine probably unsurpassed in this country. Of the five buildings, four are devoted entirely to laboratory teaching and research. The numerous hospitals of Boston afford abundant opportunities for clinical instruction in medicine and surgery.

COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF M. D.

A four years' course, open to bachelors of art, literature, philosophy or science, and to persons of equivalent standing, leads to the degree of M. D. The studies of the fourth year are wholly elective; they include laboratory subjects, general medicine, general surgery and the special clinical branches. The next school year extends from September 26, 1907, to June 29, 1908.

and it serves as a test to the seriousness of the voter, but it does not mean as formerly a clear outlay. Really the casting of a vote, as now arranged, will mean an outlay to none except the Athletic Board.

This seems a very fair action and students should respond accordingly. The authorities wish to see really representative persons elected and the only way this is to be effected is by the balloting of all classes of and many University students.

At the last moment the University has fared better at the hands of the Legislature than had been anticipated a few hours before. How the En- a few hours before. Now the Engineering department is to go forward with an outlook for growth, quite impossible had no provision been made for larger quarters. Indeed, it seems certain that in a few years there would have been nothing left but to limit the

Dr. Carroll has for some time been in the United States army medical service and has done very efficient work. He was recently promoted by Congress to the rank of major in recognition of his valuable discoveries as to the manner of the transmission of yellow fever germs.
