UP TO MICHIGAN

CONFERENCE DECIDES THAT THE RULES MUST BE OBEYED.

Resolutions Passed Declaring There Can Be no Compromise—Nebraska Must Also Obey.

A special meeting of the intercollegiate conference was held at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, for the purpose of determining the athletic statuses of the University of Michigan. A short time ago Michigan notified the members of the conference that it was her intention to disregard two of the conference rules when playing with non-conference institutions. This declaration raised a doubt as to whether the other conference institutions should compete with Michigan under these conditions. A baseball game between Michigan and Chicago was scheduled for April 13, and Chicago was of the opinion that the game should not be played unless Michigan expressed her intention of abiding by all of the conference rules. In order to settle the matter definitely and officially Chicago asked for a meeting of the conference.

After a long and careful consultation of the whole matter the conference passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That in the judgement of this conference there should be non-intercourse in athletics between the members of the conference and any member that does not conform in full to the conference rules.

This means, of course, that Michigan will have no games with conference institutions in any department of athletics unless she obeys all of the conference rules. The meeting was a harmonious one, yet the conference did not feel that any member could be allowed to set aside any part of the conference rules.

The above resolution does not mean that Michigan is out of the conference. As yet, Michigan has violated no conference rule, and the other members of the conference seem anxious that she refrain from so doing. If Michigan should allow it to become known that she would enforce the conference rules in the future as she has done in the past the baseball games and track meets scheduled with conference colleges for this spring might still take place. No meeting of the conference would be necessary to bring this about.

The following resolution was also passed:

"Resolved, That no conference university shall play with any non-conference institutions of the Middle West of similar class athletically—that is, one which competes with any member of the conference on a basis of athletic equality—except under conference rules of eligibility." This means that such institutions as Nebraska, Ames and Wabash must conform to conference rules when playing conference colleges. The resolution becomes effective September 1, 1907.

Chancellor Andrews has been confined to his home for several days past by a rather serious illness, though he is now rapidly recovering and will be back at the University in a few days.

Professor and Mrs. Burnett give a reception to the faculty and Senior class of the State Farm at their home at 3206 Holdrege street, tonight. This class at the Farm graduate on Thursday next.

Dr. Edwin Maxey will deliver the commencement address at Springfield, Nebraska, May 31.

ANOTHER BATTLE.

Freshmen Defend Their Hat in Another Hard Struggle.

The disturbance between the Sophomore and the Freshman classes was not destined to end with the annihilation of a single Freshman hat last Wednesday. Yesterday morning several of the offending headgears again appeared on the campus, and at eleven o'clock one of these was tracked to near the Mechanic Arts Hall, where the conflict of the previous day was renewed. Again the combatants gathered as by magic and even in greater numbers than they had the day before, and for forty-five minutes the enthusiasts wallowed in the mud and slush in front of M. Hall.

The combat was by no means free from the interference of third parties. As the crowd surged to the side of the building, some gracious peacemaker, from his safe retreat in the second story, dumped several bucketsful of cold water on the heads of the combatants. This, however, failed to dampen their ardor, and the janitor on the first floor directed a hose out of the window and proceeded to sprinkle the boys. Evidently he had underestimated the amount of wit in the crowd, for he was smiling broadly at his own joke when a clever Freshman slipped to the side of the window, grasped the hose, and turned the stream into the grinning countenance at a range of eighteen inches.

The scrap continued until nearly noon, when it ended in the sheer fatigue of both sides, the Freshmen still in possession of the dilapidated hat. A few moments later a crowd of the Freshmen gathered about the big rock, mounted upon it one of their number who defiantly waved a green hat, but as the Sophs approached, all disappeared.

Both sides claim the victory and the situation stands as it did after the Wednesday mix-up.

Band Concert.

A rather small but exceedingly appreciative audience heard the Cadet Band give an excellent program last evening at the Oliver. The selections were well chosen and well rendered. An especially effective encore, called the "Baby Parade," which brought down the house and lent levity to the rather heavy character of the program, was given. Interspersed with the band selections were several solos by Miss Upton, which were regularly rewarded with encores.

The baccalaureate sermon which was to have been delivered by Chancellor Andrews before the graduating class of the State Farm next Sunday evening has been given up because of the Chancellor's illness.

Professor and Mrs. Davison give a dinner at their home at 220 South Twenty-sixth street Monday evening to the graduating class at the State Farm.

Frank C. Bullta is pledged to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Dr. Bessey has been requested by the Nebraska Teacher to write an article on "Teachers' Vacations," telling how they may employ them most advantageously.

JUNIORS SUSPENDED.

Entire Class Escorted From the Campus of Drury College.

The entire Junior class, consisting of thirty-four members, at Drury College, Springfield, Mo., were suspended by the college faculty last Wednesday for refusing to apologize for resolutions drawn up and presented to the faculty on Monday. The resolutions demanded that the social privileges that were taken from the class be restored and that a bill for stolen ice-cream, presented to Wyatt Brandon of the Junior class, be withdrawn.

It appears that at a Senior reception held at the home of President Kirby, the entire supply of ice cream was stolen before the time for serving refreshments, and the charge of the theft was laid to a Junior named Brandon from Arkansas. The faculty, taking action on the matter, excommunicated the Junior class from the society of the school and demanded that Brandon pay for the cream. It was this that led to the resolutions and the consequent suspension of the class.

The entire class was formally escorted from the campus by President Kirby on Wednesday morning. The entire school is in a state of excitement over the event, and little attention is being paid to classes and studies. The Freshmen at once held a meeting and voted unanimously to stand by the Juniors, and make an effort to have them reinstated.

VIFQUAIN RELICS.

Historical Society Acquires Valuable Historical Remains.

The Historical Society recently acquired two relics of unusual interest. Both were possessions of the late General Victor Vifquain. The one is a 44-calibre Smith and Wesson revolver in excellent condition secured from the death-grasp of Garza, the noted Mexican bandit, who made Uncle Sam so much trouble some fifteen years ago. The other relic is a pair of brass spurs worn by General Vifquain all thru the Civil War.

General Vifquain settled in Nebraska at the forks of the Blue river in 1849. When the Civil War broke out he went east and enlisted at once, having had a soldier's training in France before coming here. He was a member of Nebraska's Constitutional Convention, and was later Adjutant General of Nebraska. It was while he was Consul-General at Panama under Mr. Cleveland's administration that General Vifquain was given Garza's revolver, Garza having been killed in a fight with the sheriffs at that time.

Y. M. Board Meets.

The Advisory Board of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening to discuss the matters of furnishing the new rooms in the Temple and the hiring of a secretary for the coming year. A report of the amount and style of furniture necessary for the new quarters will be obtained at once and plans made for securing it. It is thought possible that various firms and individuals, alumni and students in the University at present would be willing to donate each a separate piece. The name of the donor would be placed on the article in the form of a brass plate.

Mr. J. Der Kinderen will be retained as secretary for another year.

THE CORNHUSKER

1907 ANNUAL WILL BE OUT ABOUT MAY 15.

Price of Book $2.00—Largest Annual Ever Issued at This School—Composition of Publication.

The work of getting out the first annual Cornhusker is drawing to an end and the 1907 book will be placed on sale within a few weeks—about May 15. Over 150 pages of the Annual have been printed and the rest of the book is being set up and "run off" as fast as the printers can do the work.

The withdrawal of the Law School Representation has had no material effect on the Annual in any way, and the 1907 Cornhusker undoubtedly will be one of the best and largest books ever published at the University of Nebraska. The new Annual will contain 500 pages which will be filled with rich
