AT AMES TODAY

CORNHUSKERS TO CLASH WITH THE IOWA AGGIES.

Track Meet and Baseball Game—Agriculturalists Are Strong—Nebraska Athletes Left Yesterday.

The Nebraska and the Iowa Agriculture college athletes will meet in a track contest and a baseball game at Ames this afternoon.

The Cornhusker track team left Lincoln for the Iowa city at 1:35 over the Northwestern railroad yesterday afternoon and the baseball nine followed a little later on the Burlington road.

The men who made the trip are: Track—Knode (captain), Burress, Coe, Dunlap, Hughes, Craig, Benedict, Morgan, Davis, Alden, Bauman, McDonald, D. F. MacDonald, G. B. O. Weller, Chaloupka, Sampson, Kroger, Thiesen; baseball—Rine (captain), Carroll, Ward, Hrubesky, Blake, Watson, Dudgeon, Beltzer, Bellamy, Schleuter, Freeland and Manager Eager. All of the men on both teams were in good shape when they left Lincoln and had high hopes of winning the events today.

The Ames teams are strong and expect to give the Cornhuskers a hand rub in both contests. This will be the first dual meet the Ames Aggies have held this year, and it is impossible to tell what may be expected of them in the track meet today. In baseball the Ames boys are considered stronger than Nebraska and are said to have one of the fastest nines in the west.

The Nebraska track men will return to Lincoln tomorrow noon, but the Cornhusker baseball team will continue on a trip for two weeks. During that time the team will play thirteen games. The schedule of contests for the trip follows:

- May 6—Grinnell College, at Grinnell, Ia.
- May 7—Iowa State University, at Iowa City.
- May 8—Cornell College, at Mt. Vernon, Ia.
- May 9—University of Minnesota, at Minneapolis.

WELL ATTENDED

ART EXHIBIT IS PROVING A SUCCESS.

Teachers' Night Next Tuesday—Some Especially Attractive Works—To Purchase Paintings.

The Art Exhibit has been very well attended during the past few days. The series of evening lectures is proving especially popular, and large audiences are turning out to hear the speakers. Last Thursday evening Professor Dunn of the Greek department gave a very broad lecture on art in general, not going into a criticism of the various paintings exhibited here.

Next Tuesday evening will be Teachers' Night. Mrs. Frank Hall will have charge of the program, which will consist of a series of short talks by various critics. Miss Hayden, teacher of art at the University, will speak next Thursday evening. The lectures for the following week have not yet been definitely arranged for, but speakers will be secured for Tuesday and Thursday nights of that week.

Some of the larger paintings are attracting especial attention. The "Salvia-petunia-aguarantum" by Vonnah, is particularly attractive with its many-colored flowers in riotous profusion. "Springtime in Connecticut," by Smille, is one of the large types of paintings that is remarkably suggestive. Another work that attracts visitors by the life and gaiety it suggests is the "Spanish Holiday," painted by Mora. Some of the moonlight effects are also very choice, among them few suggest more perfect tranquillity and solitude than the marshy scene entitled "Moonrise in the Drowned Lands." There are also on exhibition several paintings by Wm. Chase, one of the foremost American artist, who is noted especially for his portrayal of still life. Miss Sara Hayden of the University Art department has several of her paintings on exhibit, the one attracting especial attention being "My Playfellow." Miss Louise Mundy, one of the students of the Art department, has on exhibit a clever piece of work entitled "An Old Fireplace."

The marble bust of the Young Augustus, which was loaned to the association by the Latin Club, is of especial interest. It is carved of the finest marble and modeled after the original bust in the Vatican Museum at Rome.

The association expects to purchase a few of the best paintings, but none have as yet been decided upon. These will perhaps be selected within a week.

Freshman Hop.

The second dance of the Class of 1910 will be given at Fraternity hall this evening. Elaborate preparations have been made to make this a hop that will please all who attend. The fact that their master of ceremonies is in the hands of the Sophomores has not in any way effected the plans of the Freshmen and the dance will take place as advertised.
