GOPHERS RUN IN

MADE TO HUNT THEIR PLACES OF REFUGE BY CORNHUSKERS.

Nebraska Wins Close and Exciting Track Meet—Morgan and Alden Break Two Records.

Twice in one week the Cornhuskers have triumphed over their big northern rival, Minnesota. On Thursday Nebraska's baseball men vanquished them by the score of 8-7, and Saturday the track team continued the gallant work, winning a dual meet from them by the score of 54 to 44.

The track meet was hotly contested, and had it not been for Nebraska grit the Gophers would doubtless have won. Minnesota took a big lead at the first, the score being at one time 17 to 4 in her favor. The fine work of the distance men was largely responsible for overcoming this lead and this, combined with the uniform good work of the team as a whole, pulled out the meet for Nebraska.

The day was cold and a brisk breeze was blowing straight against the sprinters and hurdlers, which naturally slowed the time in these events. The attendance was very light, there being scarcely a hundred spectators in the grand stand. Lack of enthusiasm was very evident and was quite surprising, considering the splendid facilities Minnesota has for track athletics. The track was in splendid condition and the men of the team agree that it is the best track they ever "touched."

Minnesota started by taking first in the high hurdles, first and second in the discus, and first in the hundred yards. At this juncture things looked rather black for Nebraska, but the hopes of the Cornhuskers were much revived by the fine work of their men in the half-mile, Benedict, Morgan and Thiesen finishing in the order named and winning without being compelled to exert themselves to their utmost. In the meantime, Mr. Martin and Mr. MacDonald had beaten out their Minnesota opponent in the pole vault, thus securing seven more points for Nebraska: Weller had won the shot put and taken second in the hammer throw, thus holding the Gophers even in those events. In the quarter-mile Benedict, altho he had just won the half, took second by a plucky sprint: Knode and Burruss added six points in the high jump and things were almost even again.

But Nebraska had not yet played her best cards. Morgan won the mile in record-breaking time, and Davis shut Minnesota out of a second. Perry won first in the running broad with a pretty jump of practically 21 feet, and Alden broke another record in the two-mile run, Bauman taking second in the pluckiest kind of a way. He ran practically half the race on his nerve and had to be carried off the field. Besides this, Burruss gave Dougherty a pretty race in the twenty and scored two points more for Nebraska, while McDonald lost out in the 220-yard hurdles thru a piece of

ANOTHER CONCERT.

Glee and Mandolin Clubs to Perform Again at Oliver May 14.

In response to numerous demands for a second concert by those unable to attend the first, the U. of N. Glee and Mandolin club have consented to give one of their delightful two-part entertainments in the Oliver theatre tonight, under the auspices of the First Christian church.

The record-breaking concert of March 20th is still fresh in the minds of many and this concert will surpass even that of March 20, as the boys have introduced new "stunts" and have improved with experience.

At Grand Junction, where the clubs gave a recital on their trip, the papers gave them great write-ups. Following are a few of the comments:

"The entertainment given at the Park opera house by the University of Nebraska Glee club was up to all expectations, and was perhaps the strongest, most varied and most pleasing glee club entertainment ever given in Grand Junction. The opera house was completely filled. It was an immense audience and it was well deserved.

"The entertainment pleased everybody. The husky Nebraskans are all right. Grand Junction liked them. May they come again."

The club has been a big advertisement for the University and deserves the support and patronage of the entire student body. Prices, 25c and up. Tickets now on sale at the Oliver.

No Convocation

There will be no Convocation today, but tomorrow a special Convocation will be held at 11:00 a. m. Messrs. Aladdin and Tschalkowsky, of the Russian Duma, will give addresses. Eleven o'clock classes Wednesday will be held at 11:30-12:30.

It is expected that the two medical schools, Ohio Medical University and Starling Medical College, which were recently united, will be consolidated with the Ohio State University in the near future.

MODEL HIGH SCHOOL.

Nebraska Pupils to Have Special Opportunity at Summer Session.

In order to enable high school pupils who wish to spend a part of their summer vacation profitably, to take up school work under expert instruction, and to give the teachers who attend the regular summer session an opportunity of visiting regular high school instruction of a high order, a model high school is to be conducted upon the campus of the University during the summer session of 1907. In each course a full semester's work will be given, two recitations being devoted to each subject daily. Many pupils who find that their courses are somewhat irregular, may by availing themselves of this opportunity arrange their work in a more satisfactory manner. Pupils in small high schools, where the laboratory equipment is defective, may thus enjoy superior training in the sciences during the summer.

As a rule pupils will be limited to one course. Only exceptional students who are especially recommended by their former teachers or their principal will be permitted to take two courses. The fee for each course will be six dollars, except in the sciences, in which a laboratory fee of three dollars will be added to cover actual expenses.

UNIVERSITY SENATE MEETS.

Selects Faculty Representatives for Interfraternity Council.

The University Senate convened last Friday afternoon and appointed the various standing committees for the coming year and also recommended a list of names from which the faculty members for the Interfraternity Council are to be chosen. The men recommended from the fraternities are Dr. Lees, Professor Barbour, and Dr. Fling. The names for the sorority representatives are Miss Conklin, Miss Heppner and Mrs. Clapp. The names will be voted on by the Interfraternity Council some time in the near future.

H. O. Nilsson, who received his degree at mid-winter commencement, was a campus visitor yesterday.

SIGMA XI ELECTS

HONORARY SCIENTIFIC FRATERNITY SELECTS NEW MEMBERS.

Twenty-one Receive the Honor—Sigma Xi Elections Based on Promise of Originality.

The annual election of members to the honorary fraternity of Sigma Xi took place at the University Saturday night. The following were elected:

Faculty—F. J. Alway, chemistry; F. D. Barker, zoology. Graduate Students—Louise M. Allen, botany; Ruth Marshall, zoology; Gustav A. Pearson, forestry; Arthur W. Sampson, botany.

Seniors—Leroy N. Baker, mechanical engineering; Carlos G. Bates, forestry; N. A. Bengston, geology; B. E. Debler, civil engineering; J. C. Elder, zoology; W. G. Jenkins, civil engineering; V. H. Kendall, electrical engineering; A. L. Lott, electrical engineering; Ray J. Pool, botany; H. S. Smith, entomology; M. H. Swenk, entomology; F. W. Upton, chemistry; Edith L. Webster, geology; A. R. Wilson, civil engineering; Donna L. Withey, philosophy; L. L. Zook, agriculture.

Sigma Xi fraternity is an organization related to the scientific departments somewhat as Phi Beta Kappa is related to the general academic departments. In the former, however, the basis of election is not merely the quality of grades attained, but the promise given by the student of future achievement along scientific lines. Candidates are recommended by the faculty. A preliminary list of those recommended is made up first and later the members are selected by the committee elected for the purpose.

In this year's group there were twenty-one to whom was given this honor. Four of these were women and seventeen men. It will be remembered that in the list of twenty-nine elected to Phi Beta Kappa recently there were seventeen women and twelve men. In the latter case the numbers were much more nearly in proportion to the number of men and women in the class, but it is to be noted, too, that five of those elected to Sigma Xi this time were not members of the Senior class.

Those receiving both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi were Ray Pool and Edith Webster.

Zoological Club.

The program for the meeting of the Zoological Club, Tuesday, May 14, will be as follows:
