Weather Prophecies.

The following is a communication received from the Y. W. C. A. regarding something or another not exactly clear to most people:
Perhaps you have noticed a decided drop in temperature? It is said the Y. W. C. A. thermometer is at zero, too, but the weather prophet predicts a rise in temperature.
Monday, May 20, it is predicted a slight change will be noticed.
Tuesday, May 21. Fair and some warmer.
Wednesday. Sudden rise.
Thursday. Boiling point.
Friday. Hot.
It is predicted the thermometer will reach 800 in the shade, Friday, May 24.
Watch these dates to see if the weather prophet is any good.

More Relics.

Among the valuable relics recently received by the Historical Society was the key to the old block house of Nebraska City. That building, long since destroyed, once served to protect the few pioneers of early eastern Nebraska. Mrs. Caroline Morton, the owner of the key, has permitted the Historical Society to keep it till she wishes it again.
Another relic from Nebraska City is a hand-made spike taken from one of the first buildings of that place. This spike, which was made in Nebraska City, was used in the building of Majors & Waddell, early freight outfitters.
