Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

By the time night arrives, one of the companies of the University battalion will have won, it is to be supposed, the trophy of the afternoon's competition. Then that company will perhaps feel called upon to give vent to its jubilant emotions in a grand onslaught upon the town with red paint. Such, at least, has been the way in which other triumphant companies in the past have reacted under the strain of the emotion attaching to the winning of the cup.

Furthermore, some of these companies in the past have let their feelings carry them so far that certain things were done which those outside the influence of the excitement declared, and those in the company celebrating, after their ardor has cooled

One of the most democratic bodies to be found is the student body. An individual student needs no "pull" to get recognition, and he is for the most part treated openly and greeted cordially by everybody if he shows an inclination to "mix" and to get into the swing of University life.

Yet there is no question that there is room for improvement in the way we treat the younger students as they come in at the beginning of the year. If upperclassmen treated the newcomers,—whether they looked as if coming from luxurious environment or not,—with the general cordiality they deserve, there would be more college spirit among us.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

University Band's Appearance on the Campus Well Received.

Yesterday morning the University Band gave an excellent concert on the campus at chapel time. The men showed the results of a year's hard training. The responsiveness of the players to the leaders and the expression used in executing the various movements proved their appreciation of the music rendered.

A good crowd gathered about the "band stand" and the mixture of music and Cornhusker joshes went exceedingly well. The program given was as follows:

- March, "The Steel King," St. Clair.
- Selection, "Roly Poly," Johnson.
- "Polish Dance," Scharwenka.
- Patrol, "The Piccaninnies," Laurendeau.
- March, "Lights Out," McCoy.

NEW MANAGER.

H. O. Bell Elected Business Manager of the 1908 Cornhusker.

The Sophomore class held a very important meeting yesterday morning for the purpose of electing a business manager for the 1908 Cornhusker. Owing to the resignation of Don Russell who had previously been selected, the position was vacant. The candidates were Russell Burruss, Hubert Bell, Yale Holland, Walter Kenner and Donald Price. Kenner and Bell being the high men on the first ballot, they were voted on a second time, Bell winning on the rather close vote of 60 to 45.

The winning candidate comes from York and is a member of Beta Theta Pi and the Iron Sphinx. He was vice-somewhat, admitted were somewhat extreme. Sometimes the company letter has been put in places where it damaged other people's property. This sort of action is not to be laid up to the company as a body, perhaps, but there are always a few men in it who have not yet outgrown their young innocent way of looking at the world sufficiently to appreciate the fact that the world was not constructed as a playground for their sole and especial benefit. Their actions are open to criticism and there are undoubtedly more mature men in the company who frown at this sort of thing.

There is no reason why there should not be a celebration. It is only proper that there be, but it should be carried on with something like respect for property at least.

president of the class the second semester last year.

H. H. Wheeler and C. A. Thompson were placed in nomination for assistant business manager, Wheeler receiving the position. H. H. Wheeler, S. G. Evans and S. P. Dobbs were placed in nomination for membership to the Student Publication Board. Evans withdrew and Dobbs received the majority vote.

In the earlier part of the meeting P. H. Clancy read the report of the party committee which has been printed in a previous issue.
