WAS A SUCCESS

MASS MEETING FOR DEAN POUND STIRRED THINGS UP.

A Petition to Board of Regents to Retain Him Made—Speeches by the Professors—The Law Spirit.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY MASS MEETING.

Whereas, We the faculty and students of the University of Nebraska, appreciate the rare qualities of Dean Pound, his broad scholarship, his enthusiasm and magnetism as a leader of men, and his eminence as an administrator; therefore, be it Resolved, That we, the faculty and students in mass meeting assembled, in recognition of his worth as a man, his versatility as a scholar, his success as an educator, and in recognition of his valuable services to the University of Nebraska, do hereby respectfully petition the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska to use their most earnest endeavors to secure his retention as Dean of the College of Law

The mass meeting held in Memorial Hall at 11 o'clock yesterday morning for the purpose of arousing the students to the support of some plan for securing the retention of Dean Pound at the head of the Law School was a great success and resulted in a good move towards keeping the Dean at his Alma Mater. The passage by a unanimous vote of the of the resolution which appears at the head of this column and which petitions the Board of Regents to endeavor to retain Dean Pound was the most important work done by the meeting. Speeches praising Dean Pound and his great work for Nebraska were made by Professor W. G. Hastings, G. P. Costigan, H. W. Caldwell, G. E. Howard, and M. M. Fogg. The meeting was in charge of Professor G. D. Ayers. Dean Pound was brought to the gathering by a committee, but remained only long enough to thank the students for the reception given him.

In his talk on Dr. Pound, Professor Ayers told of the strong friendship which he had formed with the Dean during his two years at Nebraska. He said Dean Pound had made Nebraska the leading law school in the West, and asked the students to do something to keep their great leader here.

Professor Caldwell paid a high tribute to Dean Pound's ability as a scholar, as a teacher, and as an all around man. Professor Caldwell has known Dean Pound since he was a boy, and he gave a brief sketch of his life. He said he had taught Dr. Pound German when the present Dean was only eight years of age. He spoke of Dr. Pound's remarkable genius and said that there was no man in the state of superior intellect.

KANSAS TODAY.

Nebraska Will Meet Jayhawkers at Lawrence.

Today the track team has perhaps the hardest meet of the season. They will contest with their old-time foes, the Jayhawkers, and judging from the previous work this season of the latter, will probably be pushed to the limit to win.

In the sprints, Kansas's new man, Haddock, will probably push Burruss the half, Benedict will probably win, Driscoll should run a good race. In the half, eBenedict will probably win, but Kansas has a man who ought to run the distance in close to two minutes. Morgan and Miller, the Kansans who beat Jackson in the mile in the Kansas and Missouri meet, will have a battle royal in the mile, but it is believed that Morgan is capable of faster work than he has done yet this season. Alden should win the two-mile and Dunlap should get first in the low hurdles. The field events are uncertain quantities, but Captain Knode should win the high jump and between Chaloupka and Weller, Nebraska should get something out of the weights. With Perry in form we should get second in the broad jump, and McDonald may get placed in the pole vault.

PHOTOGRAPHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Have a Fine Large Exhibit in the Art Gallery.

The Nebraska Photographers' Association has at present on exhibition in the Art gallery a very elaborate assortment of photographs which represent the very best work in the state. The walls are literally covered with photos of all sizes. There are many large portraits of life, and many mountain and lake scenes that are as pleasing to the eye as many of the best paintings of the Art Exhibit.

The purposes of the exhibit are educational and competitive. Prizes will be awarded for the best photographs of their various classes. As a special prize for the best portrait there is offered what is known as the Smith Trophy, an elaborate silver loving cup. This is a very desirable trophy, ten inches high, gold lined, and comes in a velvet lined leather case. The cup is held for one year by the winner, after which it is returned to the association to be awarded to the new winner.

Yesterday morning John F. Wilson, president of the association, gave the opening address. The mayor of the city then gave the address of welcome which was responded to by C. J. Fennel. The doors are open all day and visitors are cordially welcomed by the members.

COMPANY C WINS

CADETS DRILL FOR CUP IN FIVE INCHES OF MUD

Guthrie Wins First and Stevens Second in Individual—Governor Sheldon Presents Cup.

Company C pulled the first honors in the annual competitive drill yesterday afternoon, on what was perhaps the muddiest field the University Battalion was ever drilled on. The mud was ankle-deep and large pools of water lay about the field when the first company reported for drill. The order in which the companies drilled was decided by lot and fell in the following order: Company B, A, D and C. No company consumed more than its allotted fifteen minutes, and the entire afternoon's work was brisk and snappy, especially considering the unfavorable condition of the field.

The individual drill for the gold and silver medals occurred immediately after the company drill. R. E. Guthrie, first sargeant of Company B, took first prize and H. S. Stevens, first sargeant of Company A, received second place. Mr. Guthrie's record in the Military department is somewhat remarkable, this being the third gold medal he has won in the past two years for proficiency in drilling. He won the individual spell down at compet last year and also took the gold medal in the Pershing Rifles' spell down this spring.

After the individual spell down was over the four companies formed a hollow square in the middle of the athletic field, and Governor Sheldon stepped in the center to present the cup to the winning company. The result of the company drill was then read by the Adjutant as follows: Company C, first place; Company A, second; Company B, third, and Company D, fourth. The governor then spoke at some length to the companies, dwelling on the proficiency of their work, and complimenting them on the zeal shown by drilling on so muddy a field. He then made a short speech of presentation and presented the silver cup to Lieutenant Campbell, who drilled Company C in the absence of Captain Slaughter. Lieutenant Campbell made a short but graceful speech of acceptance, after which he was picked up bodily and carried away on the shoulders of his men.

The officers who were to come from Fort Crook to act as judges, for some reason failed to arrive, and Captain Workizer, Captain Anderson and Captain Syford acted as judges. Their decision seemed to be very satisfactory to all concerned.

In the Armory, before going on the field, the captains of Company A, B and D were presented with new swords, purchased by their men. The speeches of presentation were made to Captain Higgins, Captain McWilliams and Captain Wilson, by Miss Mattie Woodworth, Miss Josie Frazier and Miss Clara Hermansen, respectively. The men of Company C also
