WAS A SUCCESS.
Professor Fogg spoke highly of Dean Pound's ability and also told about the danger of Nebraska's losing all her best men. He said that the undergraduates and alumni must wake up and do something to keep Nebraska in her present rank.
Professor Hastings declared no man could fill Dr. Pound's place, and he said he hoped inducements enough would be offered to keep the Dean at Nebraska.
Professor Costigan expressed the belief that the spirit of the law students will move them to such action as the retention of Dean Pound will need. He said there was no man to take the Dean's place.
Dr. Howard deplored the condition of affairs at Nebraska that permits other schools to get our best men, and to get better equipment than we can afford. He declared that a new policy must be inaugurated if Nebraska is to stand as a leading university.
In a short speech M. L. Corey made a strong plea for the organization of a strong alumni body to push the interests of Nebraska.
Upon the motion of Professor Hastings, a committee of five was appointed to lay before the regents the resolutions passed by the meeting.

COMPANY C WINS.

The Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

With the completion of the new buildings, which were dedicated September 25th, 1906, this school now has facilities and equipment for teaching and research in the various branches of medicine probably unsurpassed in this country. Of the five buildings, four are devoted entirely to laboratory teaching and research. The numerous hospitals of Boston afford abundant opportunities for clinical instruction in medicine and surgery.

COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF M. D.

A four years' course, open to bachelors of art, literature, philosophy or science, and to persons of equivalent standing, leads to the degree of M. D. The studies of the fourth year are wholly elective; they include laboratory subjects, general medicine, general surgery and the special clinical branches. The next school year extends from September 26, 1907, to June 29, 1908. Send for illustrated catalogue; address
