HON. GEO. F. WILLIAMS.

At Convocation Tells of Proper Way to Live.

Hon. George F. Williams of Boston spoke at Convocation yesterday upon experiences which cannot be gained thru reading nor thru speech. All his suggestions were personal and intended to aid us as students. Our success, Mr. Williams said, depends very largely upon what we inherit from our parents. Father and mother are the most important influence in a man or woman's life. Strong constitution and good health cause differences in human nature, and we are not responsible for these advantages or disadvantages of heredity. We should bestow mercy upon our less fortunate fellows and be charitable in our judgments.

Many studying men do not understand the duty they owe to country, nor how little they give in return for the products and blessings of labor, sacrifice, bloodshed and martyrdom.
In his own life he spoke of the law book he published and how two years afterward he was recommended for the editorship of an annual book because of his care and accuracy displayed. Any thoro work, even the done for the merest pittance, is always worth while. What we do and think is largely a matter of habit, and strength of life consists in forming good habits so that methods may become involuntary. As soon as a man thinks he knows it all, at that moment his usefulness and development cease.

Borrowing trouble is largely a habit and sixty per cent of our energy is spent in worry. What is a typical old maid but a wry faced, sour individual, fretting and worrying over trifles. Men may be old maids, too, for the cynic's interests have found no mate and we get nothing good from him. When people get despondent be-sure there is something wrong physically and remedy that first.

He sounded a warning note against selfish purposes, for true pleasure in life consists in what we give to others, not what we receive. Do not lose the capacity for enjoying human things, but keep your soul overflowing for the good of humanity. Live for your country and for the good of your fellow men, and when all else is gone keep your laugh. Don't be bribed against the interests of humanity, but develop talent and strength and there will be money to buy it
