OPENS TOMORROW

FIRST GAME OF FOOTBALL SEASON WITH PERU.

Little Known About State Normal Eleven—First Opportunity to See Cornhuskers in Action.

The football season of 1907 will be formerly launched on Nebraska field at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon when the husky Cornhusker eleven will meet the veteran team from the Peru Normal.

Nothing definite has been heard concerning the Peruvians, but it is rumored that they have several old men in their line-up and that the team is the strongest they have had in years.

The game tomorrow will be the first opportunity afforded for the supporters of the Cornhuskers to get a line on their team and to see what progress has been made thus far in developing a winning aggregation.

Four teams have been out on Nebraska field for practice every night this week and they have been going thru signal practice, falling on the ball, and catching punts. For the last three nights short scrimmage practice has been engaged in and the Varsity has shown good form in skirting the scrub's ends and in piercing their line for long gains.

Several men have been showing up well in practice. Weller, Burnett and Beltzer have been conspicuous as ground gainers against the scrubs. Collins has been doing good work at center, while Harte, a new man on the Varsity squad has proved a good tackle. Harvey has been shifted to end and has shown good speed in practice. Kroger, a candidate for full-back is developing into a good ground gainer. Matters has been playing his usual good game at tackle. Minor has showed speed, both on his feet and in running the team at the quarter position. "Husky" Chaloupka has been punching big holes in the scrub line. The probable line-up for tomorrow will be:

Nebraska	Peru
Beltzer,
—Craig	R. E. Phillips
Harte
Chaloupka,	R. T. Lincoln
Frum
Harvey	R. G. Vanaford
Collins	C. Swenson
Chaloupka	L. G. Stebbins
Matters	L. T. Anderson
Harvey,
Denslow	L. E. Stewart
Minor,
Cooke	Q. Collins
Burnett	R. H. Zink
Kroger	F. B. James
Weller	L. H. Tollwist

The officials will be: referee, Pinneo; field judge, Cornell; umpire, Stevens; head linesman, Dr. Vance (Peru).

"Pete" Edgerton, 1907, is the western representative for an eastern mining syndicate, with offices in the Brownell block.

A. M. Levy, 1907, was on the campus yesterday.

Governor Cannot Be at Convocation Today.

Governor George Sheldon will not speak at Convocation today as was announced. Instead George Edwards, the South American explorer and missionary will deliver a lecture.

Mr. Edwards was a scout in the Modoc and Plute Indian wars and in the Spanish American war. He was also a soldier in the Civil war. Prior to his conversion he was engaged in mining in South America. Since his conversion he has spent five years among the wild Indian tribes in the interior of that continent.

FIRST MEETING.

Students Debating Club to Meet Saturday.

The Students Debating Club has secured room U 102 for its first meeting which will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock sharp. This club, which meets regularly every Saturday evening is the only University organization where drill in Parliamentary Law may be secured. It is, consequently, much sought by men desiring to take part in class politics, or those wishing for other reasons to be able to take part in public meetings or conventions.

The Club was reorganized and a new constitution drafted and adopted last spring. All University men are eligible to membership, subject to the approval of the membership committee and the club at large.

During the first meeting, aside from a short parliamentary drill, the subject of having debates with Doane, Wesleyan and other near by schools will be discussed and action taken towards arranging such debates to be held the latter part of the semester. No debate will be held at the first meeting. Teams for debates, however, will be chosen at that time.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

What the Workers of the Association Are Doing.

For the last few days the University Y. M. C. A. has been carrying on a campaign for the enrollment of men in its courses of Bible study. At the meeting, before which Charles Hurrey spoke last Sunday afternoon nearly 100 men signed up for the work. During the last four evenings a number of men have gathered under Chairman Jorgensen to make systematic canvasses of those sections of the city where most University men reside, with the result that the enrollment mark has now reached 240. Since it can be counted upon that at least 100 men will take the work at the State Farm and as many or more fraternity men will sign up, the goal set at the beginning of the canvass, which was to get 500 men, seems already easily in sight.

The first work undertaken by the association this year was that of calling upon new men and during registration week the main effort along this line. Now the campaign for Bible study is in full swing, and a little later the matters of finance and membership will be taken up. By concentrating the force of all the principal workers upon one phase of the work for a certain period before turning that part over to the supervision of its own committee, it is felt that more is being accomplished in a given time.

The plans of the association will be greatly facilitated when the new quarters in the Temple are ready for occupancy. Superintendent of Buildings Fee predicts that this will be within the next two weeks.

Up to the present, about 700 copies of the handbook have been passed out and the demand remains undiminished. Plans for the "paddle" social next Saturday are developing rapidly and a royal big time is assured. All University men and especially new ones, are expected without fail.

Y. M. C. A. "STAG"

ANNUAL RECEPTION TO THE STUDENTS TOMORROW.

New Stunts Have Been Arranged for the "Paddle Social"—Freshmen Are Asked to Be Present.

The annual "stag" reception for all University men that will be given in Memorial Hall next Saturday night promises to be one of the most successful that has ever been given by the Y. M. C. A. New and unique stunts have been planned that are fast rounding into shape. It will be known as the "Paddle Social."

Some degree of mystery surrounds the proposed reception. So far as the committee is concerned nothing can be learned as to just what will be done to the visitors. The only thing that the committee has made public has been the solitary injunction "Better get there early with your paddle and see the fun." No limit has been made as to the size and shape of the paddles. The only restriction is that not one will be allowed in the hall without a paddle.

It has been hinted by some that the paddles are to be used to gather up the taffy that will be put in a large kettle in the middle of the room. However, this rumor has not been circulated by absolutely reliable persons and the freshmen may be fooled who come to the reception with that idea in their minds.

While they are to be the center of attraction for the greater part of the evening, they are by no means to be the only novel schemes that are to be sprung on the visitors after they arrive. There will be some good music such as few people can hear for top-notch prices in large cities. All this can be heard for nothing next Saturday night.

The stag reception has always been a source of great enjoyment to all who have attended heretofore as well as a great help to the new men in the University. It gives all a chance to get acquainted with not only the other new men, but also with the upper classmen. It shows the freshmen at the very beginning of the school year what the association stands for and the part it plays in the University. It is the earnest desire of the social committee to get not only all the new men out but also the old. The freshmen who want to get better acquainted with the other members of the class and with some of the representative men in the University who have been here for two, three and four years, can not do better than come to the social on Saturday night.

Y. M. C. A. Sunday Service.

Mr. Marshall, a former traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer movement and closely associated with Y. M. C. A. work, will address all University girls in U. 106 Sunday, September 29 at 4 p. m.

All University girls are welcome.
