Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The Nebraskan needs additional members for its staff—in fact, there is always room for one more good man or woman who has talent in this work. Do not hesitate because you are inexperienced, for experience can be acquired. All that is necessary, however, is a desire to work. The time to begin is now, not tomorrow or next day. The only way to make the Nebraskan the best college daily in the country is for every student who is interested in journalism to manifest that interest by doing some work on the paper. Remember that this is a student publication and that you have as good a chance as another to secure a place provided that you can "deliver the goods." There is no red tape connected with these positions.

The Nebraskan should voice the sentiments and opinions of the student body of this University insofar as they can be determined, so do not fear that there will not be room for a good contribution from you.

One point further. College credit is given for work done satisfactorily. This, however, is not the most impor-

RUSH RULES.

How Annual Michigan Affair Is Governed.

The following rules will govern the the University of Michigan, Friday.

1. A committee is to be appointed by the Student Council to regulate minor details of the rush with co-operation of the classes concerned.
  2. The rush shall be held on Melec Green at 8 o'clock, on the second Friday of the first semester, with a time limit of thirty minutes.
  3. The scophomore class shall defend its class banner, which shall be placed on a pole such as used in 1906 rush.
  4. There shall be one full day free from all interclass hostilities, to enable the freshman class to perfect its organization.
  5. The freshman class shall do no posting until the sophomora class has issued its challenge.
- The sophomores rush the freshmen rather prematurely this year and the upper classmen have stepped in and ordered all hazing to cease until the class rush.

A CHINESE STUDENT.

Chenting Wang of Tientsin Enters Michigan.

Driven from the Chinese university, located at Tientsin, in 1900 by the Boxer uprisings, Chenting Thomas Wang, of Ningpo, China, has by the success of his own efforts, entered his first year in the literary department of the University at the age of twenty-five. The turbulent Boxers obliged Mr. Wang to leave the Chinese institution in his second year and since that time he has been earning funds for an American education by teaching and acting as secretary for the Y. M. C. A. in Tokyo, Japan, where 15,000 students are in school.

Journalism received a set back by the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota this year when recommendations of the faculty to add a journalistic course to the curriculum were turned down. A leading journalist of Minneapolis was to be hired to lecture once a week for a salary of $500. The Minnesota Daily takes exception to the action and editorially says that if Wisconsin and Chicago can support such a department, Minnesota should.

B. F. Butler, Law 1907, is working in a railroad office in Wyoming.

at the same time that a chapter was recommended for Iowa College. The act was taken at the recent convention held at Williams and Mary's College that President MacLean attended.

The University of Michigan is looking forward to the struggle against the University of Pennsylvania in football as the big game of the year. East and west will again clash when the Carlisle Indians meet both Minnesota and Chicago.

The motor service at Ames between the college and the down town districts is causing the students much trouble and inconvenience owing to irregular schedule especially at the noon hour. It is said the trouble is due to the indifference of the Newton and Northwestern railroad.
