GRINNELL SCORES

MAKE FOUR POINTS ON FIELD GOAL IN SECOND HALF.

Nebraska not Strong in the First Half, Takes a Brace in Second and Makes a Total of Thirty.

After holding the Cornhuskers to a single touchdown in the first half, Grinnell was finally overcome in the second half when the superior weight and training of the Nebraska team proved too much for the gritty Iowans, four touchdowns being scored against them in the final half. Grinnell put up a gritty, stubborn game and threatened to hold Nebraska to a low score in the first part of the game. The visitors

AMES STRONGEST.

Eckersall's Opinion of the Minnesota-Ames Game.

Writing in the Chicago Tribune Walter Eckersall comments on the Minnesota game of Saturday as follows

As a result of Saturdays football games a more definite classification of the teams both east and west can be made. The results of some of the contests were a big surprise. The weak showing made by Minnesota against Ames college and the defeat of Purdue by Wabash were the principal upsets.

That the Gophers are much weaker this year than for some years past, clearly was demonstrated. Minnesota could not score a touchdown against the Ames Aggies and the only scores of the game were made by drop kicks by the Gophers' quarter back. Minnesota is indeed fortunate in having the services of such a reliable player as

SQUAD SELECTED

FIFTEEN DEBATERS CHOSEN BY THE BOARD.

The Men Have Begun Work in Preparation for the Iowa and Minnesota Debates December 12.

The fifteen debaters who will compose the Nebraska debating squad were selected by the judges of the debating board—Professors M. M. Fogg, F. C. French and E. C. Conant—Saturday evening after the close of the second preliminary debate. Of the fifteen men composing the squad, two are from each Omaha and Beatrice; one is from Lincoln. Four of the men are taking law, seven of them are seniors;

Matters. Left Tackle.

Chaloupka. Right Tackle.

Cooke. Quarter.

had the honor of making the first score against the Cornhuskers this year. Quarterback Brundage kicked a difficult goal from the field, scoring four points for his team.

Nebraska's showing was somewhat disappointing to the rooters, especially during the first half, probably due to its inability to use the old-time tactics which proved so successful against Peru and South Dakota.

The Grinnell team fought back the Cornhuskers with an untiring courage which won the rooter's admiration. The game was marred with frequent fumbling and offside plays by the Cornhuskers but these faults were offset by other qualities which were decidedly favorable. Cooke, Minor, Weller and Kroger distinguished themselves in lugging the ball for long distances. Weller's work in charging thru the line or around the ends was a feature of the game, his punting being also of high order.

The star of the Grinnell team was Flannigan who succeeded in breaking up several end runs, and in getting away from the Nebraska ends for several good gains.

McCarty, the other Grinnell end also did good work. Brundage, at quarter, Bair and Bleamaster at the halves and Turner at fullback did good work for the visitors. The weak places in the Grinnell line-up were the tackles, thru which most of the Nebraska gains in the second half were made.

Capron proved himself to be. Twice Ames had the ball within ten yards of Minnesota's goal. Gains of ten, fifteen and even thirty yards through the Gopher line were frequent. All of which goes to prove that Williams has a mammoth task cut out for himself to get the team in shape for the Chicago game on November 2.

Supt. A. A. Reed, inspector of accredited high schools visited and inspected the following schools last week—October 8th to 11th: Butte, Spencer, Plainview, Creighton and Wayne. Saturday, the 12th, he was present at the meeting of the North Nebraska Teachers' Association at Emerson.

EUROPEAN HISTORY.

Change in the Method of Study Has Been Inaugurated.

A new study method has been adopted this year in European history 1. A special room, containing facilities for thirty students has been set apart for studying purposes. All necessary books are placed there and the room is in charge of two graduate assistants who are ready at all times to aid students in their work. The plan is working very feasibly, no time being lost in searching for books, while ready assistance in their work proves to be very helpful to the students. The members of the class have their regular study hours, thus avoiding much of the confusion of former years.

two are juniors and three are sophomores.

The squad began work yesterday in preparation for the debates December 13 with Iowa at Lincoln and Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The fifteen men who were chosen for the squad are:
