HARD LUCK STORY

REPORT FROM COLORADO SAYS
TEAM IS IN POOR SHAPE.

Several Men On Hospital List and Captain Farnsworth Has Been
Out of the Game for a Week.

(Special to Nebraskan.)

BOULDER, Oct. 21.—The prospects here are not any too bright and Colorado will have to improve very much this week or she will be badly walloped by Nebraska next Saturday at Lincoln. Captain Farnsworth, the mainstay of the Boulder eleven, has been out of the game for a week, owing to an injury received in practice. Farnsworth is the best man on the team and every effort possible will be made to get him into good shape for the Nebraska contest. Both of the Colorado fullbacks, Weiner and Reid, are also "used up" and are taking treatment at the sanitarium for bad bruises. Reid has been on crutches for the past week and is in bad condition. He is a valuable player, being light, swift, and a good plunger. His absence from the Nebraska game would lessen very much Colorado's chances of winning. Weiner is the one hundred and ninety-pound fullback of the Boulder team. He will be back in the game by Saturday.

The Colorado line this season is practically the same as last year, with Farnsworth at center; Barr and O'Brien at guard; Coffin and Kimmel at tackle; Morrison and Morrill at end.

In the back field Boulder is weak on account of the new material stationed there. "Bill" Trudgian, the clever quarterback is missed at his old position and no one seems to be able to do the work there satisfactorily. Stirrett and Van Meter are both good men for the quarter position, but they are a little too light and inexperienced and sometimes lose their heads in a tight place.

The entire team is working hard this week but the weather has been entirely too warm to permit the men to get into more than average mid-season form. The coach is going to give them stiff scrimmage practice the rest of the week in preparation for the contest Saturday.

The Colorado-Agriculture game last Saturday does not give a true line on the strength of the Boulder eleven for the reason that three or four of their best men were not in that contest, being kept out by injuries. The team that Colorado will send against Nebraska will be much stronger than the eleven that played the Aggies Saturday.

There will be no excursion from here to Lincoln Saturday owing to the unreasonable attitude that the railroads assume toward making rates. Since the two-cent fare went into effect in the western states the railroads have refused to make excursion rates and football specials have received a deadly blow.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

Saturday evening the new members of the Y. W. C. A. became acquainted in a very novel way at the home of Mrs. M. J. Waugh, Seventeenth and G streets. The ghosts and shades of past association workers received the new members in ghostly manner and conducted them to the third floor of the house where more ghosts and shades proceeded to entertain the invited guests by making the night hideous with ghostly antics. The effect was heightened by the grinning faces of Jack-O-Lanterns, which afforded the chief light for the occasion. Stories of ghostly adventures formed the principal amusement of the evening. Refreshments were served in a novel way, fitting to the peculiar form of entertainment. The new members were unanimous in their opinion that they had been given a most satisfactory opportunity of getting acquainted.

The Y. W. C. A. Vesper Service will be held as usual Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, in U. 106. The program arranged for last Sunday and postponed on account of the Scoville afternoon meeting, will be given next Sunday. Mrs. Hinman will lead and a musical program will be given by Miss Jaeggi, violinist and Miss Vibbard, soloist.

PARRY SAW GAME.

Kansas Gets a Line On Cornhusker's Style of Play.

(Chicago Letter.)

Coach Parry of the University of Kansas, witnessed the Nebraska-Minnesota game at Minneapolis last Saturday and got a line on the style of game put up by the Cornhuskers. While in Chicago, where he spent Sunday and Monday before returning to the Kansas institution, Coach Parry referred to the Nebraska team as being as fine a bunch of players as any coach could wish for, and, without casting any reflections on his own eleven, stated that he would be happy if he had an aggregation half as promising.

"Of course the team is somewhat green just now," he said. "It has so much new material, but by the time the season is at its height, the team might well be proud."

In referring to individual players, the coach picked Captain Weller and Quarterback Cooker as the Cornhusker stars. The ends, said he, while playing high class ball most of the time, were a trifle weak on defense and were somewhat slow, occasionally, in running down punts.

When asked as to the probable outcome of the Kansas-Nebraska game, Coach Parry simply smiled. His team defeated Oklahoma, 15-0, last Saturday—and the Child State has an excellent team this season.

Jeffersonians Organize Tonight.

Numerous copies of a petition have been circulated the past two days calling a meeting of Democratic students for this evening at 8:00 p. m. sharp, in room N. 102.

This first meeting, which is to be spent in reorganizing, and electing officers, is preliminary to a larger mass meeting or rally that the club expects to hold later. The party leaders outside the University have agreed to furnish any speakers that the club may ask for.

Sophomore Football.

All candidates for the Sophomore football team are requested to meet on the athletic field at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The Y. M. C. A. will meet tonight under the leadership of Jas. Ayers in N. 106, at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. E. M. Barkley, Dean of Women will entertain the Cornhusker staff at dinner Wednesday, October 30.
