ARE GETTING HURT

MEN ON NEBRASKA TEAM BEING INJURED IN PRACTICE.

The Local Gridiron is Hard on Men and Minor, Beltzer and Burnett Are Out of Game for While.

During the fore part of the season Coach Cole's pupils were very fortunate in escaping serious injuries and not a player on the squad was hurt seriously enough to keep him out of the game. The recent hardening of the gridiron, due to the frosts has resulted in crippling up several of the men, a thing which is very serious at this critical point in the football season.

Beltzer, right end, is on the side lines and the Cornhuskers' doctor has forbidden him to participate in the Colorado game.

Minor, right half, strained a tendon in his side in the Minnesota game and has been out of the daily practice this week. Burnett sustained a badly sprained ankle in Tuesday night's practice, which threatens to keep him out of the game Saturday.

Cole's men have been working on the forward pass this week most of the time when on the offense. Against the scrubs the forward pass has been worked to perfection resulting in several touchdowns for the varsity.

The second team has been drilled on the Colorado formations by Assistant Coach Peck who witnessed the ELECT OFFICERS.

The Jeffersonian Club Organize for Business.

The Jeffersonian Club of the University met in U. 102 last night and elected officers for the ensuing year. The following officers were elected: president, A. C. Huff; vice-president, C. A. McLaughlin; secretary, G. A. Fitzsimmon; treasurer, S. G. Evans.

A membership committee of J. E. Bednar, J. G. Motherhead, and M. A. Mills was appointed to enroll other students in the club.

A challenge of the Republican Club to a debate was read and accepted by the Jeffersonians. A committee composed of J. M. Paul, E. W. Hill and E. T. Grunden was appointed to consider the question and time for this debate.

Mr. Myers, a graduate of the University, addressed the club for half an hour on the local issue of the present campaign.

The club decided to hold a big rally within a week or two at which several of the leading democrats of the state will speak.

Program Prepared.

A complete literary and seminar program for the first semester has just been made up by the Komenian society. The work of this society this year will be of an especially thorough and helpful character. Heretofore the class work has been entirely voluntary. Now the masters of the Slavonic tongue will be studied under the supervision of a competent instructor, and the work will be part of the regular course of the department.

A number of books have recently been given to this society by friends in Lincoln, Omaha and the East.

The supporters of the society are much enthused over the betterment of the course and the library.

R. E. Stone, '07, has just been appointed an instructor in Botany in the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. He is the second botany student to be sent south in the last two months.

The Graduate Club meets tonight, October 24, with Dr. L. A. Sherman, 1234 J street.

WE ARE WILD?

Chicago Paper Says Nebraska is Football Mad.

Under the scare head "Nebraska is Wild" the Chicago Record-Herald yesterday prints the following dispatch from Lincoln regarding football enthusiasm at Nebraska:

"Football enthusiasm at the University of Nebraska has been raised to the highest pitch it has reached for several years as the result of the game with Minnesota last Saturday. Although hoping for as good a showing as the Cornhuskers made against Minnesota, the secrecy with which the work of the team had been conducted since the opening of the season left the enthusiasts somewhat in doubt as to the real strength of the Cornhuskers.

"In view of the change in coaches made by Nebraska this year, and other disadvantages which faced the team at the opening of the season, Saturday's score is regarded in Lincoln as almost a Nebraska victory.

"With the Minnesota contest played, chief interest now rests in the game with Ames, two weeks hence.

"Coach Cole is given most of the credit for the work of the team Saturday, although the leadership of Captain Weller is regarded as having been one of the most potent factors in it. Cole expressed regret that the team could not win after scoring the only touchdown of the game, but is much encouraged by the nervy work of the players."

The State Historical Society has just received copies of the Licking Valley Register of Covington, Kentucky, dating from July 21, 1841, to July 20, 1844. In addition to this it has received copies of the New York Weekly Tribune dating from March 27, 1847, to September 1, 1849. This gives the society nearly complete files of two of the principal papers of the country between 1840 and 1850. It is expected that this will prove of great value to students studying the period.

Candidates for the Junior class football team report this evening at five o'clock on the athletic field.

DISPUTE WILL PROBABLY BE SETTLED.

Laws Meet Today to Take Final Action on Consolidation of Book and Are Expected to Agree to It.

The breach between the law students and the Cornhusker management over the consolidation of the Law Annual and the Cornhusker promises to be closed this morning when the Laws gather in mass meeting to vote on the acceptance of a liberal proposition which the managers of the 1908 Book have made them. There seems to be a unanimity of opinion among the Laws in favor of consolidation and it is considered very probable that a settlement of the unpleasantness will be reached today thru the action of the Laws. The meeting of the Laws will be held at 11:00 o'clock this morning.

A copy of the articles of agreement which were drawn up by the Cornhusker-Law Conference committee and which will be presented to the Laws for their vote follows:

Articles of Agreement.

Between the Cornhusker staff and the College of Law.

It is hereby agreed between the Cornhusker staff and the College of Law that the College of Law shall be allowed not to exceed one fourth the space in the Cornhusker.

The College of Law shall have one managing editor, to be chosen from the senior class, and one assistant business manager, who shall be selected from the junior class. The two members of the law editorial staff shall be chosen from the two upper Law classes—one from each.

The material which the Law School will have in the Cornhusker shall consist of photographs (half tones), cartoons and literary work. It is agreed that if such material is accepted it shall equal the standard of similar material furnished by the other colleges. In the case of a disagreement as to the fitness of any material submitted by the College of Law, such disagreement shall be settled by a board of arbitrators; one from the Law faculty, who shall be selected by the managing editor of the Law College; one from the Academic faculty, to be chosen by the editor-in-chief, and a third, who shall be chosen by these two. The conclusion of these three faculty members shall be final.

The College of Law shall have a separate division of the Josh department, for their jokes and joshes, and a title page for the same, which shall be designed by them.

All photographs (half tones) and biographies in the book are to be arranged according to years, but this division shall further be separated according to colleges—the senior Laws following the senior Academics.

REGISTER, DEMOCRATS.

Every democrat in the University is urged to register Saturday, October 26. That is the last day of registration and unless you are registered before Saturday night you will not be able to vote at the coming election.

Seniors meet at Tenth and O streets, Sat., Oct. 26, 7:30 a. m.
