RALLY TODAY.

Don't fail to attend the football rally this morning at chapel as has been announced. A number of new songs have been received by Manager Eager, some of them sure to make a hit if the student public will come out and practice them. We can not hope to sing these songs with any credit either to the song or to ourselves unless this opportunity for practice is taken. It should be understood that many of the songs recently received are appropriate only for some particular game and for that reason must be practiced immediately before that game. Net Saturday, for the Colorado game, several excellent "rooting songs" must be sung by the supporters of the scarlet and the cream. The material is in the hands of those who have charge of the mass meeting and all we have to do is to come out and take the vocal exercise.

AGREE.

It is hoped that the Law School will adopt the agreement reached by the Law and Cornhusker conference committees. Past grievances and difficulties should be forgotten and all colleges in the University should join hands in making the 1908 Cornhusker a publication to be proud of. It is unnecessary to pass upon the merits of last year's controversy. Suffice to say that both parties to the dispute were responsible for a share of the result. This year a spirit of forbearance and concession should take the place of last year's spirit of aggressive partisanship. What we want is a good Cornhusker, not several books and a variety of quarrels.

As showing the activity of University of Nebraska botanical men, the last number of "The Plant World" contains two articles by men now here, a third paper by one of our graduates with notices of papers by two other graduates, and personal notes of two more graduates.

The Michigan Co-ed.

John Corbin, in an article on the University of Michigan, sizes up the Michigan co-ed as follows:

"The Michigan co-ed enjoys the same liberties as her sister of Wisconsin. The chaperon is an idol that has a niche, but few worshippers. Parties of several couples rejoice in the Arcadian buggy ride and the distant dinner. The single wayfaring couple is not unknown. In a happy newspaper phrase, the light fantastic toe is weekly tripped at Grainger's. But liberty is not privilege. Michigan scorns her co-ed. The eight leading fraternities, one known as the Palladium crowd, have frowned upon her. It is said that, at Madison, if a fraternity, no matter how powerful, fails in its duties of gallantry, the feminine influence against it is strong enough to divert the best freshmen to its more gallant rivals. At Ann Arbor a fraternity is on the down grade if it begins to take notice."

The Young Men's Christian Association of Nebraska have put out a very neat handbook for this year. It is end opening, covered in black and lettered in gold. The book was printed by Burt-Terry-Wilson Co., of Lafayette. It will be remembered that J. L. Derkinderen, '06, is general secretary of the association there.—Purdue Exponent.

The Daily Nebraskan will publish an illustrated football number next month. The edition will be limited and you will have to order early to be sure of getting a copy. Order one at the Nebraskan office now. The price is ten cents. Subscribers will receive a copy free.
