AT WORK FOR AMES.

may be the reverse of that of the Colorado game.

Cole's pupils are now working hard in preparation for the Ames Aggies next Saturday. The players are all more or less stiff and lame after the Colorado game. Neither Minor nor Collins reported for practice yesterday. Minor has a bad knee and it is feared he will be kept out of practice for some time. Minor's place was filled by Birkner and Perrin held down Collin's position at center. Cooke, who was hurt in Saturday's game, was at his old position running the team through the signals. Harte was playing end. Beltzer was out again after a week's absence. Practice last night was held in the rain.

"Mike" Denslow is again in school after a month's absence, but he is yet undecided whether or not to get out for football, fearing that his enforced absence will make it impossible for him to make up the back work in his studies and play football at the same time.

Ames' showing against Cornell and Morningside would seem to show a weakness on her part, both games having been won by comparatively low scores, but this is taken with a grain of salt by Coach Cole, who is of the opinion that the Ames farmers have been saving their strength for use in the Nebraska game and attempting to deceive the Cornhuskers as to their relative rank.

Secret practice will be the program for this week, the team going to the State Farm when the weather prohibits practice on the gridiron.

Coach Cole had the following to say about the coming game:

"If Nebraska plays against Ames next Saturday as they did in the first half of the Colorado game we will be defeated. I saw the Aggies perform against Minnesota two weeks ago," is the way the Nebraska coach describes the situation, "and the fowans put up a wonderful exhibition of aggressive football. They were unable to cross the Gopher goal, but they held their opponents absolutely level in ground gaining and on straight football. I consider Ames one of the strongest teams today in the middle west and it is going to require the best Nebraska has in shop to beat them. There must be no such slump as in the Colorado game or, instead of avenging the defeat of last year, the result will be another dose of grief. It is up to Nebraska, however, to win from Ames and I shall make the practice stiffer this week than at any time during the season."

SUNDEAN SPEAKS.

There is some talk of destroying the old University Hall, but for the old alumni it has many almost sacred memories. Mr. Sundeau declared that it would be with the greatest reluctance that he would ever consent to its destruction.

He closed his talk by saying that it would be of great value to have a man on the Board of Regents who came from home.
