LEARN NEW PLAYS

CORNHUSKERS GETTING READY FOR DENVER.

Cole Is Drilling Them in Forward Pass and On-Side Kicks—Frum Out of Game—Peck Leaves Today.

Denver's recent defeats in one or two close games have not blinded "King" Cole to the fact that a worsted team often takes a decided brace after a series of reverses, and the coach is putting the Cornhuskers through some rather stiff practice at the farm this week in preparation for the contest with Kohler's bunch, Saturday. Cole is going to be ready to nip any little surprise the westerners may try to spring.

Wednesday and yesterday the Cornhuskers were at the Farm learning several new plays that will be used against Denver and St. Louis. They were drilled in a new variety of the forward pass and in many new kicking plays. The Cornhuskers used the forward pass to good advantage against Kansas but their work in that game showed that they were far from perfect in executing the play and Cole has been attempting to get them skilled in the pass line. The Nebraska line has proved to be very strong and Cole has been paying little attention to it this week. There has been no scrimmage.

Right Guard Frum is taking a rest and will not be in the game until Thanksgiving.

Assistant Coach Peck has finished his work with the Cornhuskers for this year and will leave for his home in Virginia today.

There will be two games on the gridiron Saturday—the York and Lincoln high school elevens will meet at 1:15 and the University and Denver will begin play at 2:45. One admission will be charged for both games. Bleacher seats will be 75 cents and the grandstand price will be $1.00.

Y. M. C. A. CONCERT.

New Plans Are Laid for Increasing the Membership.

The Y. M. C. A. cabinet, at its last meeting, laid plans for a membership contest to be participated in by about thirty men. The two sides will begin active work next Saturday night, and for ten days following a most vigorous campaign will be carried on with a view to signing up all men possible in the University who are not now members of the organization. Roy L. Nelson is the leader of one side, with Arthur Jorgensen as sub-leader, and J. L. Der Kinderen heads the other side, with J. C. Knode as sub-leader. The side obtaining the greater number of men will receive a banquet from its losing competitors, and this feature of the game is to be definitely provided for without any possibility of a fluke.

Next Saturday evening at the City Y. M. C. A. "red room" the two teams will meet together at 6 o'clock for supper, after which the two groups will separate in order to receive brief enthusiastic talks from the leaders and to get up the genuine "party spirit." The work will be allowed until Saturday evening.

Nelson and Jorgensen's side will comprise the following men:

R. L. Nelson, Alexander, Ashby, Hummel, G. Cherry, McNicol, Reynolds, G. M. Wallace, C. Rulledge, A. Jorgensen, E. Hills, J. W. Thomas, Hinman, Ketrige, Cherrington, Mueller, Byerta, Walker, D. D. Plumb, E. G. Hardy, Paul Pierce, Forell, Boswell.

Der Kinderen and Knode's party will be made up as follows:

J. Der Kinderen, Ayres, Plasters, Guidinger, Roy Cherry, Scarborough, Provost, Wentworth, Knode, MacDonald, J. L. Thomas, A. L. Weaver, C. K. Shedd, Baker, Eaton, Mahood, Elliott, R. R. Smith, Chase, Robert Taylor, Hare, Elseffer, H. Walters.

The Pennsylvania football players have a $65,000 club house.

LOBINGIER SPEAKS

DISCUSSES THE GOVERNMENT OF PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

Says Value of Islands Is Not in Material Wealth, But in Reflex Actions Upon Our Institutions.

The real value of the Philippine Islands lies not in their material wealth, but in the reflex action upon our institutions and government of the work we are doing there. Thus declared Judge C. S. Lobingier at Convocation yesterday morning. Judge Lobingier is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and thus as he expressed it, felt as though he were among old acquaintances.

One of the greatest reasons for the constant discussion of the Philippine question is because we get our information from men who are not authorities. The Philippines, are 1,200 miles long and contain great varieties of soil, climate and stages of civilization. The specialist can find work for a life time each in his own field. Our information on the Philippines is mostly derived, however, from people who have merely a superficial knowledge of the conditions and cannot give a correct idea of things as they exist.

There seems to be an idea that the Philippines are a very costly experiment and that millions of dollars are being sunk there every year. As a matter of fact the Philippine civil government has been self supporting almost since it was founded. The constabulary which maintains peace in the islands is paid for by the Philippines. To be sure, the army stationed there is paid for by the United States just as the army in Alaska or Porto Rico is paid for from home.

Some day it will be realized that the natural wealth of the Philippines is beyond that of almost any other territory under the flag of the United States. There are tremendously rich gold and copper mines which have not as yet been developed. Great forests of hard wood are waiting to be used when the available supply in the United States runs out.

But, as stated above, the greatest and most important consideration in determining the value of the Philippines is the reflex action upon our institutions and government of the work we are doing there. America is now working out one of the most creditable pages of her history. We are undertaking a colonial policy which has for its primary and fundamental guiding principle the welfare of the natives themselves. We have given the Philippines a better government than we have given ourselves and put into force reforms there which it has not been possible for us, so far, to obtain in America. They have the postal telegraph and the postal savings bank in each of the small towns, and these institutions each help in the work of education. The Torrens system of land titles which is generally admitted to be better than the old system is in force there but it has so far been
