The University of Denver football team accompanied by Coach "Deacon" Kolher and Manager Tait arrived in the city yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock over the Burlington. They are staying at the Lindell Hotel.

After dinner yesterday the Denver team held a light signal practice at Antelope Park and took a long run out to Fairview.

Coach Kolher said that his team was considerably bruised in a hard struggle with the Colorado School of Mines last Saturday, but that they were in good shape now and would put up a hard fight this afternoon. He said his boys expected to hold Nebraska to a low score.

Six members of the Denver varsity were left at home on account of injuries but the coach claims that the men who fill their positions are scrappy players and will put a great game.

Andrews, the regular Denver quarter is out of the game with a broken shoulder received in the game with the Colorado School of Mines.

The Cornhuskers held a light secret practice on Nebraska Field last night in preparation for today's contest. All of the regulars were out. The Nebraska line-up today will be the same as in the Kansas game.

Coach Cole, it is believed, expects to use several new modern football plays this afternoon. It is known that he has been drilling the men in the forward pass and onside kicks and it is expected that he will give them a test against Denver.

Jimmie Fisher Law, '06, was visiting his frat brothers Friday.

AT THE FARM.

Registration Shows a Large Increase for This Year.

The registration at the State Farm shows a substantial increase over last year. The registration to date is 268. This, compared with a registration of 190 the first two weeks last year, shows an increase of about forty per cent.

The number of cadets at the Farm has been increased so that another company has been organized, making four companies in the second battalion.

Twenty-three girls have registered in the domestic science course which is being offered this year for the first time at the Farm.

RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

Walter Meier, 1903, Secures Good Position in Spokane.

Professor Fogg is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Walter Meier, 1903, in which he talks of his appointment by the superior court of Washington as an examiner of titles, and legal adviser to the registrar in Spokane county, in the carrying out of the provisions of the Torrens law.

Mr. Meier taught English and argumentation in the Spokane high school for several years. As a lawyer he has contributed several articles on legal subjects, the latest of which, entitled "The Segregation of Hawaiian Lepers by Administrative Process," appears in the Central Law Journal of October 25.

On the Pike.

The "Pike" at the county fair will be an usually interesting feature. A large number of people have been "imported" from foreign lands who will be exhibited on this occasion, but according to "say-so" these foreigners are exceedingly particular that the friends they make on the "Pike" be of a congenial nature and in harmonious attire. Accordingly, all those who are anticipating strolling on the "Pike" in costume are asked to consult Evangelina Strickland or Ann Watt, who have charge of these matters.

Debates in Rhetoric 13 have been commenced and the outlook is very favorable for a successful term's work. Last evening in Art Hall the second debate of the year was held on the Philippine question. The speakers were W. A. Davis and M. W. Wasson for the affirmative and T. W. Thomas and E. K. Wiltse for the negative.

JUNIORS WIN.

Take First Game of Inter-Class Series From Seniors.

In an exciting game of forward pass, long runs, and hard line bucking the Juniors triumphed over the Seniors by a score of 13 to 0, yesterday.

The first touchdown was made as a result of a forward pass to George who ran 35 yards for a touchdown. Goal was missed.

Frequent fumbling and offside plays by the Seniors accounted largely for their defeat. Toward the end of the first half the Seniors took a decided brace and carried the ball well into Junior territory, but were unable to score.

In the second half on a fumble by the Seniors the ball rolled across their goal line where a senior fell on the ball scoring a safety for the Juniors. Score—Juniors, 7; Seniors, 0.

The last score was made by Wangerlen for the Juniors who on three successive plays carried the ball for a distance of 15 yards. George kicked goal. Score—Juniors, 13; Seniors, 0.

The game ended with the ball in possession of the Juniors on about the Senior three yard line.

The line-up was as follows:

IMPORTANT WORK

UNIVERSITIES EXERT GREAT INFLUENCE ON WORLD.

President Van Hise of Wisconsin Says State Schools are Becoming National Institutions.

President Van Hise of Wisconsin in a recent address declared that state universities are rapidly becoming national institutions, partly because they are attracting students from many states and foreign countries, and partly because through the research and investigation of scientific and social problems they are promoting the welfare of the whole country.

"In proportion as the state universities have become strong in men and material resources, they have become national institutions," said President Van Hise. "Already a large number of state universities have an important clientele from many of the states of the union, and a considerable group of students from foreign countries, especially from Canada, Mexico, the Argentine Republic, the Philippines and Japan and these groups are becoming larger every year. In Michigan, the only state university which for any considerable period has been of sufficient size and influence to have the advantages of age, 45 per cent of the students come from outside of the state. Comparing Michigan's claim to be a national university on this basis with institutions on a private foundation, we find that at the University of Pennsylvania only 31 per cent come from outside the state; at Columbia, only 36 per cent; and at Harvard only 47 per cent, or 2 per cent more than at Michigan. Until very recently few state universities have been sufficiently strong to attract students in large numbers from outside of the state. A large number of state universities, including California, Minnesota and Wisconsin, require a larger additional fee from non-resident students than does the University of Michigan.

"While the state university feels a special obligation to the common wealth in which it is situated, and recognizes that it is its first duty to investigate those questions which concern the interests of the state," continued President Van Hise. "It disseminates information throughout the country and the world. In solving the problems of the state, it lends a hand in the solution of problems for other states and nations. If the work of Professor Babcock for the dairy interests of Wisconsin is worth a million dollars a year to our state, it is worth tens of millions of dollars to other states of the union and hundreds of millions, of dollars to the world. In short, it seems to me that the ideal of the state university will prove to be a great benefit to the nation.

Harvard's last game with Pennsylvania was in 1905. Since 1881 the elevens have met nineteen times, Harvard winning twelve and losing seven games.
