What Eckersall says of Captain Weller of Nebraska:

"Of the fullbacks, the palm goes to Weller, with Osthoff of Wisconsin and Cartwright of Indiana in that order. I am inclined to give the first place to Weller of Nebraska for his general work, and especially his performance in the Minnesota game. Although a halfback, he must be given recognition for his all round work, and undoubtedly would make a fine man between De Tray and Iddings. He is fast and heady, a good kicker of the punt or place kick, and an excellent man handling the forward pass and in the interference."

Eckersall's opinion of Cornhusker Chaloupka:

"Chaloupka of Nebraska has more possibilities in him than any man on the field. He is aggressive in every sense and powerful, and with more education on the finer points of the game ought to make a remarkable man."

FOOTBALL CATECHISM.

Written during the Kansas-Nebraska Game.

Oo makes that bloomin owlin noise? said Files-on-Parade.

The rooters in the grandstand, the Color Sergeant said.

Wot is the rumpus all about? said Files-on-Parade.

The greatest battle of the hage, the Color Sergeant said.

The Jayawk mob is shoutin mad, you can ear their deep K—U—

The moleskin eroes on each side ave caught the himpulse too.

For life or death they'll struggle and to gain a yard or two,

For the opes of men are anging in the balance.

Wot makes the Kansans breathe so ard? said Files-on-Parade.

The hother team's a umping them, the Color Sergeant said.

Wot makes their quarterback fall down? said Files-on-Parade.

Ugh Craig as tackled im, the Color Sergeant said.

At first 'bout all the rootin was hon the Jayawk side,

The memories of a year ago ad stirred the Kansans' pride,

But in a arf a minute their fondest opes ad died;

For we'er beatin Kansas hawful on the gridiron.

Wot makes that swirling mass o legs? said Files-on-Parade.

Both teams are standin on their eads, the Color Sergeant said.

The Quantrell raid was years ago, said Files-on-Parade.

Another raid is on today, the Color Sergeant said.

The game ad ardly started wen Arvey got the ball

And down the field like thunder e trampled over all,

And placed the pigskin squarely beyind the Kansas goal

To haid in beatin Kansas hawful on the gridiron.

Wot keeps the crowd so quiet, said Files-on-Parade.

No special rates from Lincoln, the Color Sergeant said.

The two cent fare's elpin business, said Files-on-Parade.

But its ell on football, the Color Sergeant said.

Somew're on this planet the children shout in glee,

But ne'ry shout in Kansas, about the Varsity,

Nor w're the Kansans know the score, be it on land or sea.

The ome of Sockless Jerry is plunged in deepest gloom.

I ave eard of Carrie Nation, said Files-on-Parade.

Er atchet isn't in it, the Color Sergeant said.

Oo's sprinting like a greyound? said Files-on-Parade.

Pip Cooke of old Nebraska, the Color Sergeant said.

The earts of Kansas rooters are eavier than lead,

For Nebraska's team is marchin, you can see their solemn tread,

An the ghost of Johnny Bender is overin overead,

For we're beatin Kansas hawful on the gridiron.

Wot means the wistle o the cop? said Files-on-Parade.

The endin o the aF, the Color Sergeant said.

Wot means that wavin o red flags? Said Files-on-Parade.

John Weller's kicked a goal from field, the Color Sergeant said.

I've been in wars for fifty years and fought full many a day,

But warriors of the common sort ave clearly ad their say;

The eroes of the gridiron ave come and come to stay,

For we're beatin Kansas hawful on the gridiron.

Woo's ridin on men's shoulders? said Files-on-Parade.

Nebraska's sturdy captain, the Color Sergeant said.

Wot means that o-n-e, t-w-o, t-h-r-e-e? said Files-on-Parade.

They're countin o' the score, the Color Sergeant said.

Their regiments in ollow square, you can ear the dead march play,

But the scarlet-and-the-cream's a wavin,

For Nebraska's won the day,

And we've beaten Kansas hawful on the gridiron.

MAXEY.

With apologies to Kipling, Casey, Roosevelt and the Standard Oil crowd.

Football.

Nebraska University vs. St. Louis University. The greatest game of the season. To be held in St. Louis, Sportsman Park, Thanksgiving Day at 2:30 p. m.

Special car will leave on the Wabash, 6:30 p. m. train, from Omaha on Tuesday, November 26, conveying the Lincoln University team. All those that wish to occupy space in the tourist car should apply to Manager Earl O. Eager and those wishing space reserved in the standard sleeper either Tuesday or Wednesday should apply to Harry E. Moores, G. A. P. D., Omaha, Neb.

The fact train for St. Louis over the Wabash leaves Omaha 6:30 p. m., arriving at St. Louis 7:40 a. m. Returning, leaves St. Louis 8:00 p. m., and arrives at Omaha 8:30 a. m., making direct connections for Lincoln.

It is expected a great many Lincolinites will go with a good crowd of rooters, using the Wabash in making the trip to witness this game.

A BUDD HEART-TO-HEART

I don't talk my $2.50 Hats entirely as an advertising stunt, but because I thoroughly believe in them, know that they are very unusual in that the styles are as up-to-the-minute in every respect—exactly the same as hats that sell for double the amount—and they wear as well too. I know what I am talking about—my method in buying, my care in selecting only the very best shapes (when the average merchant take the best shapes only in the high priced hats, then show common styles in $3.50 and $3.00 hats), my purchasing in such big quantities, with jobber's discounts. No wonder I sell the best hat in the west at $2.50.
