SOME BIG NINE GAMES.

under his able tutelage the Nebraska bunch has made a showing which will place Cole among the best coaches in the west.

"Nebraska will lose but one man this year, and it is predicted that the west-erners will be in such shape next season that Yost's machine will have to go the limit to beat them."

Nebraska met Michigan in 1905 and won the respect of the Wolverines by her brilliant showing. The student body at Nebraska is strongly in favor of scheduling another contest with Yost's pupils.

GREAT BIG DOINGS.

scientific harmony teachers. I would be very glad to correct these exercises for you. As to their beauty or appropriateness I do not know. That is unimportant."

"The songs you mention remind me of an experience I had the last time I was in Germany," said Carl Steckleburg when interviewed. "You know I have spent a good deal of time in Germany, of course. Yes, I studied with the great Herrman and he never taught so well as when he taught me. It takes good material for a teacher to do good work with. But to return to the songs. I was wandering through an old castle, one of the nobility had invited me, when through a door I heard the sweet strains of a nursery song, sung with the wrong words. I thought it only right to let the nurse know that she was letting the children sing the wrong words and that it was a bad thing to let them continue incorrectly. So I went and informed her as to what she should do, very considerably, I thought. But she was so ungrateful that she called for help, and I was literally thrown bodily out of the nursery. Since I had been invited and had a perfect right there, I did not feel that I had come off second best. In landing on the ground so that I did not injure my hands I felt that I had bestowed a great service to humanity and so I felt quite the hero." But the songs, you say. Yes, very fine. That reminds me of another incident when I was studying with the great Ysaye when I was last abroad—etc."
