Art in America.

Columbia University has made a notable addition to her faculty of fine arts. She has appointed Kenyon Cox professor of painting; Daniel C. French, professor of sculpture, and John La Farge, professor of the decorative arts. The move is significant; it indicates a recognition of the importance of the esthetic in a well-rounded education. Foreigners, in commenting upon our college curricula, often speak of the preponderance of utility over beauty. They declare that our university education aims at the production of efficient brokers and bridge builders. The leading educators of our country do, nevertheless, appreciate the importance of art, and are usually found ready and eager to do what they are able to do for art.—Collier's.

George A. Lee, '04, of Spokane, Wash., who was a prominent debater during his college days, is, according to Spokane papers, being urged to be a candidate for the legislature. During the last year Mr. Lee has published the following articles in the Central Law Journal, St. Louis: "Discharge of Contracts by Alteration; Material and Immaterial Alterations," "May the State in the Exercise of the Police Power Prohibit the Use of the National Flag for Advertising Purposes?" "In an Action for Breach of Contract of Marriage, What is a Sufficient Physical Disability to Constitute a Valid Defense?" "Latent Equities." Albany Law Journal: "The Rescission of Executed Contracts of Sale for Breach. Law Notes, New York: "The Commercial Aspect of Japanese Exclusion."

Walter F. Meier, '03, Spokane, Wash., has recently published "The Saturday Night Crowd," The Coast, November, 1907; "The Segregation of the Hawaiian Lepers by Administrative Process," Central Law Journal, October 25, 1907; "Levy of Attachment Upon Rolling Stock of a Railroad Company Doing Interstate Business," Central Law Journal, November 8, 1907; "The Registration of Land Titles Under the Torrens System," Central Law Journal, December 13, 1907; and "The Effect of Presumption of Death Upon Marketability of Title to Real Estate," The Green Bag, Boston, December, 1907. Mr. Meier was recently made president of the Spokane Municipal League, a non-partisan organization, the purpose of which is to secure better government in Spokane.

Charles P. Craft, '03, of Aurora, Neb., is one of the most successful lawyers among recent Nebraska graduates. Reports from central Nebraska show that he has the confidence of that entire region and that he has the call on the big business men. An effective public speaker and debater—one of the ablest debaters Nebraska ever had—and with a record for high scholarship in the College of Law, he has had unusual success in both office work and in court—especially in the supreme court.
