MANAGER ELECTED

BUSINESS MANAGER OF THE 1909
"CORNHUSKER" CHOSEN.

O. Bentley of Lincoln is the Successful Candidate—Remaining Class Officers Are Also Elected.

The sophomores elected O. Bentley for manager of next year's "Cornhusker" in an unusually eventful meeting in Memorial Hall yesterday morning. President Ingles presented the names of three candidates—Ruppert Bailey, R. E. Campbell and O. Bentley. Mr. Bailey withdrew in favor of Mr. Campbell and the vote was taken. Bentley received 72 votes and Campbell 50, making a total of 122. There was some rumor that the ballot had been "stuffed." There was not actual proof given that such a thing had been done, however. President Ingles stated yesterday afternoon that another election would not be held and that Bentley was legitimately elected.

The outcome of this election has been watched with interest for the last few weeks, all three candidates being very able men. Mr. Bentley announced himself a number of weeks previous to Mr. Campbell's announcement and this partly accounted for Bentley's receiving his majority. Campbell is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Bentley of the Phi Kappa Psi.

R. E. Mosley was nominated for associate editor and was elected with no opposition. Miss Whitmore was elected vice-president; Arbor Barth, treasurer; Miss Erma Franklin, secretary, and J. M. Alexander, sergeant-at-arms.

The class also voted to have a "small dance." The committee to arrange for this is as follows: Wm. Byerts, chairman; L. H. Harte, master of ceremonies; Val White, Ralph Mosley, Sarah Martin, Florence Riddell, "Ollie" Monson, W. H. Burleigh, Lorenzo Flower.

The Juniors will meet March 5. At this time the editor-in-chief will be elected. At present there are four men in the field: S. P. Dobbs, E. D. Drake, E. M. Rutledge, and W. A. Robertson.

In Honor of New Officers.

A jollification in honor of their new officers will be held by the members of the Y. W. C. A. today noon in place of the usual gospel meeting. The officers elected Wednesday noon are as follows:

President—Mabel Snyder.
Vice-president—Vera Barger.
Secretary—Viola Barnes.
Treasurer—Elsie Adams.

Everybody turn out with trumpets, welcome songs and stump speeches for this particular occasion and make it one of real rejoicing. The officers need your help and encouragement for the coming year.

Baked beans, baked on the premises and served hot with delicious brown bread, 10c, at The Boston Lunch.

ENGINEERS MEET.

Another Engineering Smoker to Be Given.

President Page of the Engineering Society announced at the opening of the meeting last night that Mr. Butler would not deliver his address to the engineers until some later date. Mr. Butler, who is an expert pump tester, is employed by six different companies for making their tests. He is at present making a test at the A street pumping station, where new pumps were recently installed. Owing to the fact that the city officials did not wish to make the results so far obtained public, he did not wish to talk until the tests were complete. However, he will give the talk before leaving the city, which will not be for several weeks.

The engineers present decided to take two pages in the Cornhusker, and as the time is limited for gathering the material to be placed in the book, a committee is to be appointed to place on these two pages whatever they may see fit. It was also decided to give another engineering smoker which proved such a success early in the fall. The same committee was appointed to take charge of the smoker, to be given as soon as possible. The last one was a grand success, as it enabled the new students to get acquainted with the professors and older students. It was not decided where the next smoker should be given.

A committee was also appointed to arrange for a dance to be given by the engineering society in the near future. The buying of an emblem or sign to be placed in the Engineering Society's room was discussed. After a few names were handed in, the meeting adjourned.

The first English university to establish a course in journalism is Birmingham, where a regular course leading to a degree was recently inaugurated.

BASEBALL TALK.

Prospects for 1908 Are Considered Good.

As the season advances and prospects for warm weather and an early spring appear, the situation in baseball becomes daily more promising. With some sixty men trying for the various positions, the competition is naturally keen. This is developing some excellent material, and is bringing out the best that the men can do.

For the initial sack, the fight lies between Watson, last year's first baseman; Bolderson, a Wilber man, and Jessup, all of whom show ability. Thus far Dudgeon, who played second last year, has not put in an appearance and is leaving the field to Harris, Smith, Fehman and Buck. Harris is showing splendid form and should be eligible to fill any infield position. Beltzer will play third base this year, and the outfield is filled with Sieuter, Captain Bellamy and Freeland, though if some hard-hitting freshman is discovered during the open air practice consternation may be caused among the old "N" men.

The batteries are where the matter looks the darkest at present. Ward is in the hospital and Hrubesky and Blake have not shown themselves as yet. Among the new men there is hope, however. Prouty, a lengthy Illinois boy, has remarkable speed, but is a trifle wild. Ketzal, Klein, Stevenson, Decature and Johnson also show power and may develop into good slab artists.

Stutzenegger, Patterson and Greenalt will probably have to fight for the mask end of the battery, as up to the present all of them work out in the same excellent form. The batting eye will in all probability settle the matter.

"Billy" Fox is due to arrive Sunday and begin his coaching of the squad Monday. He is our hope. The prospects at first glance are rosy, and with "Billy" holding the reins, Nebraska should put a first-class team in the field for the season of 1908.

BASKETBALL TRIP

TEAM LEFT LAST NIGHT FOR EXTENDED TRIP.

Games at Minnesota and Wisconsin—Burrus Not With the Team—Men Are Not in Good Condition.

The varsity basket-ball team left last night at 5:45 over the Burlington for its annual eastern trip. The trip is an extended one, including eight games. The schedule for the trip is as follows:

University of Minnesota, at Minneapolis, February 28, 29.
First Regiment team, at Portage, Wis., March 2.
University of Wisconsin, at Madison, March 3.
St. Paul's School, at Chicago, March 4.
Y. M. C. A., Morrison, Ill., March 5.
University of Iowa, Iowa City, March 6.
Grinnell College, Grinnell, Iowa, March 7.

Dr. Clapp is not overenthusiastic over the prospects of the team on the trip. In fact he candidly admits that the team is in the poorest condition it has been in this year. Russell Burrus, who has played a star game at forward since the holidays, is not to accompany the team. He is interested in business with his father here and this will prevent his going. It is possible, however, that he will be able to join the team at Iowa City and take part in the last two games on the schedule. The loss of Burrus is a serious blow to the team, as he is one of the fastest men (on a long floor especially) who has ever played the game at Nebraska.

Dwight Bell has been ill with a cold for several days and has been unable to practice with the team. However, he left with the team and will play in at least one-half of each game, and more if his physical condition permits. Captain Paul Bell will not participate in the two games at Minnesota, but will be in all the games thereafter. E. A. Smith will probably play guard in Bell's place at Minnesota.

Long, a freshman who has been showing up well in practice and who won the high kick on Charter Day, accompanied the team. He will be used as a substitute guard and forward and will doubtless be used in the games at Portage and Morrison. He will not be eligible to play at Minneapolis, however, on account of the Conference rules.

Dr. Clapp hopes to break even with Minnesota, but fears that the Cornhuskers are doomed to meet defeat at Wisconsin's hands. The Badgers are generally conceded to have about the best college team in the west this year and the team that beats them has a tank cut out for it. The games at Portage and Morrison are not considered important and a substitute team will probably be played in these places so that the regular men may be in the best possible condition for the larger games.

This trip ends the season for the
