BIG RALLY TODAY

PROHIBITION SENTIMENT TO BE EXPRESSED.

Dean Bessey to Preside—Talks by Professor Howard, Sidney Collins, Arthur Jorgensen, and Others.

All arrangements have been made for the special temperance convocation to be held today at 11 o'clock.

Dean Bessey will preside and Prof. George Howard, Sidney Collins, Arthur Jorgensen and E. E. Bennett of the Civic League will each give six-minute talks. All eleven o'clock classes will be dismissed.

A few days ago a movement was started by several students to find out what the real sentiment was in the University in regard to the saloon question. It had been charged that the University students were in sympathy with the saloons. It did not take long to find out that sentiment was strongly on the other side. After today's demonstration there will no longer be any doubt in the minds of the people of Lincoln or the state of Nebraska where the University students stand. The demonstration of the students of Illinois University will be a small affair when compared with that which is to take place here today.

At the close of convocation the students will form in line and parade down Eleventh street to P street, then around the postoffice and up O street. The band and one company of cadets will lead the procession. A float is being prepared and a number of banners with appropriate words on them to be carried by the students.

Everyone is expected to be out, as this hour is most convenient for the students and opportune for a demonstration through the streets. Exercises will begin sharply at 11 o'clock and the parade will form at the south gate of the campus soon after 11:30.

Palladian Program.

The Palladians will elect the officers for the remainder of this year this evening at their regular meeting. A good musical program has been prepared and visitors are welcome. The program is as follows:

PHI BETA KAPPA.

Some Nebraskans Who have Refused Scholarship Honor.

At this season of the year elections to Phi Beta Kappa are being made in universities and colleges, the country over. A University of California senior has refused the usually coveted honor because he "did not believe that it was fairly earned by students in the general culture colleges, as some of the courses offered in them were veritable snags in comparison with the work in the engineering colleges." The Daily Californian calls him "the only one of his kind." A five minutes' scurry around the campus revealed a number of Nebraska graduates who have refused the honor, though none of them for the same reason as that given by the Californian.

A partial list of these is as follows: G. E. Howard, '76; Mrs. G. E. Howard, '76, nee Miss Alice May Frost; Chas. N. Little, '79; H. W. Caldwell, '80; Samuel D. Cox, '80; H. K. Wolfe, '80; E. P. Unangst, '81; and Jay A. Barret and Hovey Barret, '88. Mr. Unangst is at present a judge of the Superior Court at San Luis Obispo, Cal.; Mr. Little is professor of civil engineering in the University of Idaho at Moscow; Mr. Cox, now deceased, was a well known editor of Nebraska, at one time editing the Daily Call in Lincoln and later a paper at Minatare, Nebraska; while Messrs. Walfe, Caldwell and Howard are members of the faculty at Nebraska; Professor Wolfe being in the department of Education; Professor Caldwell, head of the department of American History, and Dr. Howard, head of the department of Political Science and Sociology.

Three members of Professor Caldwell's class were elected to the society and all refused, the other two being Samuel D. Cox and Professor Wolf. Thus the class of 1880 is not represented in the Phi Beta Kappa (Continued on page 3.)

GYMNASTIC EXHIBITION.

University Athletics in Armory Saturday Evening.

From the preparations that are being made for the gymnastic exhibition, which takes place Saturday evening, the indications are that the interest being shown in the event is well founded. The gym was well filled with athletes from the different classes yesterday who were trying out for the class relay teams. The final try-outs will be held this afternoon and the teams selected.

The primary object in giving the exhibition is to raise sufficient funds to send a gymnastic team to the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic Meet at Madison next month. Nebraska has always been well represented at these meets in the past and so far as gymnastic material goes, will be this year. All that is necessary is the wherewithal to send the team. The excellent program which has been arranged for Saturday evening should be an inducement to every loyal student to be present.

In addition to enjoying an evening of excellent entertainment, every one who attends will have the satisfaction of having lent his assistance to the support of an important University activity.

Tickets for the exhibition are on sale at Harry Porter's, the University Book Store and the Co-op.

The exhibition takes place in the Armory, Saturday evening, at eight o'clock.

The constitutional committee of the Union at Minnesota is corresponding is corresponding with like clubs in other universities in order to obtain information on minor points of practical administration and status of unions.

A TRIO OF PLAYS

DRAMATIC CLUB ENTERTAINMENTS IN NEAR FUTURE.

"A Game of Comedy," "Mrs. Plodding's Nieces," and "Gringoire"—Casts of the Three Plays.

Twice this year has the Dramatic Club come before the public, once with Bernard Shaw's comedy "You Never Can Tell," and more recently when Miss Howell, president of the club and head of the department of Elocution, presented so admirably Percy MacKay's "Jeanne D'Arc."

For the third time the club will offer an entertainment in the form of a series of one-act plays to be given this coming Saturday evening in the Temple Theater. The cast of the first play was announced in a recent issue of the Nebraskan. For the benefit of those who may not have seen it, it is given again.

A Game of Comedy.

M. Fromont, a Parisian actor...
 Mr. G. A. Montgomery
 M. Pierre, valet to M. Fromont...
 Mr. E. Wilson
 Marie, the maid...
 Miss Kathleen Linderman

A second will be "Mrs. Plodding's Nieces," a drama with nine characters: Mrs. Manhattan, her six lovely daughters, and Mrs. Plodding, Mrs. Manhattan's sister. The Manhattan's live in the city. They receive word that Mrs. Plodding is coming to visit them for the purpose of choosing one of her nieces for the wife of her son Fritz. The nieces have been well educated in every line but domestic science. However, knowing that housework is a hobby with Aunt Plodding, they resolve to prepare the meals during her visit. Complications arise naturally, but in the end one of the nieces is chosen.

The caste is composed of the following young ladies:

Mrs. Plodding Smith...Miss Helen Day
 Mrs. Manhattan...Miss Hazel Hempel
 Violetta...Miss Edna Rudersdorf
 Clementine...Miss Margaret Guthrie
 Mary...Miss Helen Barstow
 Antoinette...Miss Mabel Snyder
 Estelle...Miss Wilberta Knight
 Angelina...Miss Ada Morgan
 Hannah...Miss Harriet Long

A little French play is the last of the series. "Gringoire" has for its hero a ballad monger whose sympathies naturally leads him to write poetry for the poor and oppressed. He falls in love with Jeannette, the daughter of a wealthy bourgeois, whom he dares not hope to win. His verses bring him to the notice of the king, who first condemns him to die for his boldness and then gives him a chance to live if he can successfully woo Jeannette within one hour.

Mr. S. A. Erskine will represent Gringoire; Mr. Frederick Copeland, Louis XI of France; Mr. Bates, Oliver L'Daim; Mr. John Walker, Simon, a wealthy merchant of Tours; Miss Jessie Cook, Jeannette, Simon's daughter, and Miss Hewitt, Nicole, his sister.

The scene is laid in Tours, in Simon's house.

In addition to these, there will be one or two musical numbers.

Do not forget the time and place, Temple Theater, 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, March 28th. Admission, 25 cents.
