BEAT MINNESOTA.

Miss Kimmel, the latter had no better luck, indeed could get the ball in only once. The Minnesota girls fared similarly. From many tries from the foul line, Miss Loberg, who in the Lincoln match made the brilliant record of throwing six out of seven chances, could get but one ball into the basket. Between halves, Miss Newton, the Minnesota captain, practiced from the foul line. The spectators watched her efforts, wondering if the tide would not change at last. But even in her practice throws, the ball would not go in.

Thus it was that, in spite of the size and attractiveness of the field, in spite of good passes, both long and short, and excellent team work, at least on the part of Nebraska, the game was tame and unexciting compared with that in Lincoln two weeks ago, when a score of 28 to 22 was rolled up in a match consisting of shorter halves.

There were no particular stars on either side, the girls of both teams playing very uniformly. The Nebraska guards, Miss Rollings and Miss Woodworth, came in for a good deal of favorable comment from the spectators. Time and again they blocked the ball as it came down the field. Moreover, they passed well, were quick to get free from their opponents, and did well at carrying the ball down the field. But all the players did well. But for the perversity of the ball, Nebraska would have run up a large score.

Between halves of the game there was some very pretty dancing by members of advanced gymnasium classes. Mr. O. F. Wodrich, the trainer of the Minnesota team, made a good and an impartial referee. Miss Gittings was umpire, and Miss Pound and Mr. Deering scorers and time-keepers. At least a thousand spectators saw the game.

The improvement in the play of the Nebraska girls during the last two weeks is ascribed to the efforts of Miss Pound, the manager of the team, and Miss Gittings, the trainer. The team had been organized only a short time before the game of March 21, and after sizing up its shortcomings, during the first match with Minnesota, both Miss Pound and Miss Gittings donned suits to play with the second team, and to devote special attention to strengthening weak points. There was no question that the team had improved very greatly before its trip north, in speed and in activity, and what was especially imperative, in care in guarding. On the other hand, their opponents, who had in the interim played and won a match with Stanley Hall, a girls' school in Minnesota, for the state championship, showed no improvement, but played less formidably and with less snap on its home floor than it had in Lincoln.

Quite apart from the game and the score, the Nebraska players had a trip which they will long remember. If the Minnesota girls had, as they said, one of the "best times of their lives" when they were in Lincoln, the Nebraska girls had about twice as enjoyable a time in Minneapolis. Friday morning, after arrival, they spent about the University campus. They were entertained at a pleasant noon luncheon with the Minnesota players, at Alice Shevlin Hall. Friday afternoon came a small informal reception at the same beautiful hall. Friday evening, a very pretty dance was given in their honor by Alpha Epsilon, a sophomore society. Saturday noon the two teams were taken over to St. Paul for luncheon, and then to see "Peter Pan" at the leading St. Paul theatre. Other small events were
