Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second-class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The disappointing news of the failure of the prohibition forces in Tuesday's election can still be neutralized as far as the students are concerned by a strenuous effort to stop the practice of frequenting the saloons. In this, supported by the public it is right that some measures, however extreme they may be, should be taken to make it a safe place for parents to send their children. Under conditions as they are here at Nebraska it is difficult to reach anything of this kind, but something certainly ought to be done. Those who drink are not any considerable minority and those whom these are teaching to drink are con-comes of movements similar to the formation of the council. Kansas students convened the other evening for peaceable purposes, 'to discuss needed changes in the administration of the school. The example of Stanford is still fresh in memory and the results in total are twelve students expelled. Minnesota recently experienced a little revolution of the student body, and now Nebraska is getting her turn at advertisement in the shape of student reform up in the Law School. Are not these things going too far? Young people are apt to get over conscientious regarding the interests of their alma mater and calous to the respect due to the powers that be? There are plenty of things to pluck from their own eyes before beginning on the mote in the other fellow's eye.

Lincoln Bryan Club.

There will be a meeting of the Lincoln Bryan Club at the Lincoln Hotel this evening at eight o'clock. An interesting program of speaking has been arranged. Dr. George Elliott Howard, head of the department of Political Science and Sociology, will be the chief speaker, and all University students who are members of the club are urged to be present.

Two Lectures.

Professor Lutoslowsky, of Poland, is to deliver two very interesting lectures here next Tuesday. He speaks at Convocation in the morning on "Plato." This lecture promises to be very instructive and well worth attending, since Professor Lutoslowsky is one of the greatest living authorities on Plato. In the evening he will give another lecture, on "Poland."

stantly increasing. It isn't enough to merely say that this is bad and drop it there. Students who have to go home to dry towns will be sorry that Lincoln didn't go dry, but will they be able to tell their parents that they haven't been inside of a Lincoln saloon?

Michigan students have organized a student council to see that the students get fair play with the town people. The prosecuting attorney in the case of the theater riot, is being called bad names and criticised for his grammar and advised that the best thing for him to do in the interests of the community is to drop the cases against the fifteen students arrested. It looks like another case of confusion between the meaning of liberty and license. The efforts of the prosecutor, judging from the class of the students for quarter are not half as ineffectual as the attempts of the students to justify themselves. If that council knows what is to its own interests it will dissolve for the law will ordinarily secure fair play without having one of the interested parties as judge. From all over the country word recently prevented from giving a play at Ravinia Park by Chicago anarchists, who over-bid them for the theater, and tore down their posters about town. The baffled juniors contented themselves by tearing down all the anarchist posters they could find.

The Freshman class meets in Memorial Hall this morning at 11:30. A few business matters are to be transacted which were unattended to at the last meeting. A member of the Student Publication Board will be chosen. James Lawrence is the only candidate for the place. The matter of selecting the class cup will also be disposed of.

Dicken's "Cricket On the Hearth" will be presented in early April by two literary societies of Illinois University.

The Purdue board of trustees has just approved the plans for a new memorial gymnasium.

Yale will reduce her basket-ball schedule next year and restrict the trips of her team.

The Harvard Medical School

With the completion of the new buildings, which were dedicated September 25th, 1908, this school now has facilities and equipment for teaching and research in the various branches of medicine probably unequaled in this country. Of the five buildings, four are devoted entirely to laboratory teaching and research. Numerous hospitals afford abundant opportunities for clinical instruction in medicine and surgery.

COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF M. D.

A four years' course, open to bachelors of arts, literature, philosophy or science, and to persons of equivalent standing, leads to the degree of M. D. The studies of the fourth year are wholly elective; they include laboratory subjects, general medicine, general surgery and the special clinical branches.

The next school year extends from October 1, 1908, to June 24, 1909. The diploma of University of Nebraska is accepted for admission. For detailed announcement and catalogue, address
