Y. W. C. A. AT CASCADE.

Day exercises, in which each delegation does its particular stunt. Of course Nebraska's stunt is always the brightest one.

The average expense for the whole trip is from $45 to $50. No college girl who can possibly go can afford to miss attending one of these conferences.

The Worries of Childhood.

It must be a terrible thing to be a child nowadays. Overwhelmed with warnings and restrictions, they must not play with earth or sand, because these might contain the bacilli of phthisis, typhoid or tetanus; they must not play with other children, for fear of contagious diseases; their food is weighed; they are even forbidden to allow anyone to kiss them. This microbophobia is absurd.—Vienna Familienblaetter.

Will Loan Money to Farmers.

The Transvaal government, through the medium of a land bank that is being opened, is about to lend approximately $12,000,000 to the farmers of the country to enable them to purchase modern agricultural machinery and implements.

To Keep Him in Trim.

"I visited the tome of Sankoid, the celebrated contortionist, the other day, and I must say he has installed one very peculiar feature."
"And what might that be?"
"He has his bed built in the form of an upper berth."
