EXTRA REGISTRATION FEE.

The additional fee of $3 assessed seniors and juniors who did not register on Tuesday or Wednesday of last week has been the cause of great complaint among those from whom the penalty was exacted. Those students plead ignorance of the law, claiming that sufficient publicity had not been given the new order to enable them to learn of it. They declare that the collection of the fee under these conditions was an injustice to them.

But whether the fee was a just one or not there can be no question as to the motives that led to the levying of it or to the enforcement of its collection. They undoubtedly were sincere.

The rule was made with the idea of expediting registration and the figures for the first two days of the assigned period show that it accomplished that end. It was not arbitrary and was not intended to be discriminatory. Some method had to be adopted and the rule of having the juniors and seniors register first was the best one that was devised. Upper classmen were the only students asked to have their registration completed by Wednesday night, for, in assigning days to the four classes, ferring to the catalog, are likely to see new rules.

It, however, was realized that the fee would work an injustice in cases, and where a satisfactory excuse was given by a student, telling why he did not register in the allotted period, he was released from paying the $3. This hardly removed the grievance of all against the rule, for there are some students who are too timid or faint-hearted to approach the chancellor on a subject in which they have to ask for a confession. Such was the case with one junior. He started to register on Wednesday afternoon and was given a number, but the doors closed before his turn came at the desk. The next morning he entered the line but the fact that he had a number from the previous day did not enable the assistants in the registrar's office to excuse him, and he paid his fee of $3. He did not have the "nerve" to explain his case to Chancellor Andrews and went away from the building complaining against the injustice of the system.

It is not denied that the new rule is a good one, for it is and ought to be enforced in future registrations, but sufficient warning should be given the students. A little notice will probably be sufficient in the future.

It seems to be a hard task for fraternities to obey the rushing rules.

That $3 fee would buy a fair Stetson hat or two good seats at a show.

It is not the cost of registering that flattens the pocket book; it's buying books that does the crimping.

The Minnesota faculty have charge of the kicking department in Gopher football this fall. They booted George Capron out of school last week.

And still some straw hats venture around the campus. Equipped with ear lapa they might be made to serve until January 1 instead of September 1.

With William Jennings Bryan Jr. running for the head office in the sophomore class it looks as though the Fairview sage ought to get a president in the family pretty soon.

Notice of Meeting. The Republican Club will hold a meeting in the music hall of the Temple at eight o'clock Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing and electing officers.

At The Playhouses

At The Playhouses. The bill at the Majestic this week is undoubtedly the strongest presented at that theater this season. There is not a poor number on the program, that is speaking candidly. Keeley Brothers, in a bag-punching and boxing act take well. Marguerite Keats, violin virtuoso, pleases many. "A Bluffer Bluffed" is a one-act comedy farce cleverly acted and very amusing. Howard and Effie Lawrence, however, are the headliners, in "The Stage Manager." The girl is worth seeing. Tom Mahoney in Irish talks is not bad. He spoiled his stunt when he answered the applause last night. The comedians produced many hearty laughs last evening. The Eddy Family has several excellent stunts.

FIRST Y. W. C. A. VESPER CLASS.

Meeting Held in University Temple On Sunday.

The Y. W. C. A. held its first vesper services for the new school year in the Temple theater, Sunday afternoon. The meeting was a Bible study rally and an interesting program was given.

Mrs. Lillian Dobbs Helms sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and "Thy Will Be Done." Following this Mrs. A. W. Roth, formerly in Northfield Seminary and at present a member of the state committee of Colorado, spoke upon the subject, "Why Study the Bible?" She first pointed out that bible study is necessary because the bible is God's Word and contains the foundation of the Christian religion—a religion which is unique inasmuch as it is not only for the Anglo-Saxon race, but for all nations. Mrs. Roth spoke further of the influence of bible study upon the character of the student and pointed out the great men whose lives had been guided and sweetened by scripture study. She then ended with the plea that the girls of the university interest themselves in bible study.

An enrollment was taken of those desiring to enter any of the bible courses offered at the university by the association.

WISCONSIN'S TEAM SELECTED.

Badgers Preparing For Debate With Nebraska.

The Central Debating league, comprising teams from Nebraska, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin will hold its simultaneous debate December 11. The question to be debated will be, "Resolved—That All American Cities Should Adopt the Commission Form of Government." Nebraska will take the negative side against Wisconsin at Madison and the affirmative against Illinois at Lincoln. This is the second debate that Nebraska has had with Illinois.

The systems adopted in choosing the debating teams at Nebraska and Wisconsin differ greatly.

Wisconsin picked a team in May, while Nebraska selected a squad of twelve men, which will be increased to eighteen in about two weeks. From this squad the Nebraska representatives will be chosen in November. This gives the benefits of debating work to more men than would be possible if the team were chosen in the spring.

The members of the squad picked by Nebraska are as follows: Ross W. Bates, Springfield; James E. Bednar, Lincoln; Ben. Cherrington, Omaha; S. P. Dobbs, Beatrice; Earl D. Maltery, Alliance; H. W. Potter, Omaha; F. A. Reinsch, Denver; John L. Rise, McCook; T. P. R. Stocker, Lincoln; J. T. Votova, Elholm; George M. Wallace, Omaha.

that seemed to be the best way to assume the success of the plan.

Notice of the extra fee was given in the schedule of classes last spring and this fall and was printed in the catalog of this year. That was expected to be sufficient warning but it was not, and there is the flaw in the order, which really gives the penalized students cause for complaint. There should have been wider and more general publicity given to the new rule.

Many upper classmen did not read the bulletins last spring and went away from the university totally ignorant of the three dollar order. Some of them returned last week after Wednesday to face a three dollar penalty for failure to register on the first two days. The older students should hardly be expected to read all that is printed on a schedule of classes. Most of them know what studies they want to take and need to consult the schedules only to find at what hours their work comes. Few of them, either, in re-

PLAN FOR ANOTHER BIG YEAR.

Dramatic Club Try-Outs to Be Held Early This Fall.

Many of the old members of the University Dramatic club are back, and already several new plans and arrangements have been made for the betterment of the organization. The motto for the coming year will be "Higher Standards", and this will be the principal point in evidence at the try-outs, which are to be held earlier than heretofore. During the past season prosperity has greatly favored this club and the future outlook is very promising. Last season eight successful plays were presented, a new theater and club rooms procured, and equipment and furnishings purchased. The organization is at present upon a very excellent footing.
