Faculty Notices.

Students in field geography 9 are not required to meet every Saturday. Persons carrying one hour may take a preliminary excursion and the two day's Plott trip. This statement is given to correct an error which has been made by a few students.
G. E. Condra.

A two-hour course on the History of the First Christian Century will be given in the European history department by Miss Laura H. Wild at 4 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays in room 210 of Library hall.

Course 7 in Public Finance will not be given this year, but in place of it course 8 in socialism by Professor Le Rossegnoil has been arranged for 9 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Freshmen will do well to patronize those who advertise in the Nebraskan. They want your trade and will treat you right. The others don't care for your business.

IOWA CONFIDENT OF VICTORIES

Expects to Defeat Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois—Ames at Work for the Cornhuskers and Gophers.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Sept. 20.—At the close of the first week's practice, the football prospects at Wabash college appear encouraging to Coach Ralph Jones and the Wabash fans. Outside of the four "W" men who were graduated last June, the team of last year loses but one man, Pony Sohl, of Hammond, the half back and punter, who expects to enter Cornell university.

Thirteen of the eighteen regulars in 1907 are in the fold and working hard. They include: Brown, center; Barr and Bowman, guards; Captain Hess and ex-Captain Gipe, tackles; Burns, Dobbins and Patton, ends; Jack Hargrave, quarter back; Garver, Steirs and Colbert, half backs, and Starbuck, full back.

The squad this week numbers forty men, and in this number are several promising men who were stars on their high school elevens last year. The Wabash schedule this year follows:

October 2.—Franklin college.
October 17. Rose Polytechnic.
October 24.—St. Louis university at St. Louis, Mo.
October 31.—Michigan "Aggies" at Lansing, Mich.
November 7.—Miami university at Oxford, Ohio.
November 13.—Notre Dame university.
November 20.—Depauw university.
Thanksgiving Day—University of Nebraska at Lincoln, Neb.

Iowa.

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 20.—Between fifteen and twenty members of the Iowa football squad returned this week ready for the official opening of the season on Monday. With better prospects than Iowa has had since the days of Dr. Knipe and the famous 1900 team, Coaches Catlin and Griffith will soon begin to whip into shape an eleven to defeat Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois this fall.

Iowa loses only four veterans, and the coaches are fortunate in having sota and Nebraska games. The aggies are bent on winning from these two teams, which defeated them by such narrow margins last year.

Coaches Williams and Jones and Trainer Jack Watson spoke to the men, giving general instructions and talking over the season's prospects.
Emphasis was laid on the matter of clean playing and promptness in appearing for practice.

Lack of beef is Williams' complaint at the present time, and he predicts the team that represents Ames this season will not be so heavy as last year's champions.

Kansas.

LAWRENCE, KAS., September 20.— On account of the continued hot weather last week football practice at the University of Kansas has been confined to moderate work in running down punts and kickoffs, with short signal practice each evening.
If the heat moderates, Coach Kennedy will put his pupils through the paces and will begin both offensive and defensive tactics for the Normal game, September 28. The practice last week has been held on the golf links just south of McCook and for a couple of weeks yet McCook field will see little little of the work of the team, as both Coach Kennedy and Manager Lansdon wish to save the covering of grass as long as possible.

While there have not been fewer than twenty-five men out at any practice, the loss of six of the old heads of last year's team leaves several open places in the line-up that will not be settled for some time. With this loss, however, Kennedy still has ten "K" men around whom to build his team.

Sam Forter, whose wonderful booting of the pigskin was the talk of the Missouri Valley last season, and to whom Kansas owes her victory at St.
Joseph last Thanksgiving, probably will be the most missed man, for there is no one at present who gives promise of any approach to his splendid form.
Captain Rouse and Job White, ends last year, are gone, and it will be no easy task for the man who fills the place of "Red" Milton, the plucky little center, who was always in the game at every toot of the whistle.
"Red" Burt had weight and head work that will be missed for some time, and as yet no one is in sight who can put the ball over from placement in such style as Cohn, who never hesitated at a chance from the forty-yard line.

A probable line-up for the first game is as follows: "Swede" Carlson, captain of the baseball team and guard star material from last year's freshman team to fill the vacancies. There are several candidates for each position, and some of last season's regulars will have difficulty in holding their places on the varsity.

A dozen requests for plays have come to Coaches Catlin and Griffith this week from high school and small college coaches. Every effort is being made by the Hawkeye football instructors to supply the demand. Iowa will have 275 players this year, and many of them will be immediately forwarded to the coaches at the smaller schools.

Ames.

Ames, Iowa, Sept. 20.—With the enthusiastic meeting of the football players and athletic supporters Wednesday football took a fresh impetus here, and the team has set about in earnest to get ready for the Minneon the team last year, will begin at center, with an alternative of putting in Speer of the Tyros two years ago, and shifting Carlson to his old place at guard. Reed, the big boy from Kansas City, will be in his old position again this year and will be a tower of strength on that side of the line. Other candidates for guard will be Wood, sub-guard last year, and Randall, a big 190-pounder who was out for basket-ball last year, with a possibility of running in some other of the heavy weights of the team as a mate for Reed.

Captain Crowell, the husky lad who was elected to the captaincy after the death of Captain Angney last winter, should be one of the best tackles in this section this year, and big "Bill" Caldwell will be in at that position on the other end of the line. Pleasant will be at end again this year, and is In perfect physical condition this se-son, where last season he was just recovering from typhoid fever. At the other end will be Stanley Myers, one of the best ends that ever played in the Missouri valley. Myers was out of the game last year with a bad knee, but is as good as ever now. Steele, a sub-quarter last year, will start the game at that position, with Tommy Johnson of Lawrence basket-ball fame pushing him hard to hold the place. Rice and Porter at half are old heads at the game, and have saved the day at critical times in the past.

Coach Kennedy has more men for fullback than he knows what to do with. Stephenson, always a tower of strength in bucking the line, is back; Dick Waring is out for that position for the first time in two years, and Mallam and Dahlene, both of whom are good at booting the ball, will be material for either full or half.

With this tried squad for a nucleus, and a lot of greener men to pick from to fill up the numbers of the squad, Kansas feels that she has a good chance to bear off her share of laurels in the coming season.

Football Notes.

The University of Wisconsin has but five games scheduled for this season. One of these is with Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Charles Daly, Harvard's greatest quarter back, will coach the Crimson team this fall.

Princeton will start practice Thursday afternoon. Their training table will be established September 30.

Wisconsin has a ten-second man playing in the back field.

The annual St. Paul's reception will be held at the church, Tuesday evening, September 29, from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock. Old and new students are invited.
