ability, but "knock" the crowd that is backing her in the race.

Work of "Machine."

The so-called "machine," Froyd's supporters claim, secured the election of Robert I. Elliott for president the first semester of last year, and of William Robertson as editor of the 1909 Cornhusker last spring. This "machine" put Miss Gray in the field and is now carrying on a systematic campaign for her.

Froyd's managers are perfecting an organization to overthrow the "gang" and are confident of victory. They will make a hard fight to get the votes of the girls, believing that their candidate's strength among the boys is greater than Miss Gray's and that with a reasonable number of co-ed votes he will win.

W. E. Byerts is the only student among the juniors who has announced his candidacy for president of the class to succeed Harry Ingles. His announcement launches an active campaign for workers and supporters and at present it is believed that no opposition will be met. "Steam roller" manipulations are the plans of Mr. Byert's managers, who hope that they may thereby win a unanimous vote for their candidate.

Mr. Byerts is a graduate of the Lincoln high school, first lieutenant of Company "I" of the cadet battalion and is a very popular man. His friends believe his election assured.
