NEW SENATE RULES
REPORT OF ACTION TAKEN IN JUNE GIVEN OUT.
MANY CHANGES IN LAWS MADE

Competitive Drill to Be Held on Saturdays and Athletics on High School Day Urged to Be Omitted.

The following report of action taken by the university senate June 6, 1908, was given out from the registrar's office yesterday afternoon:

We commend the program of Ivy Day as carried out this year (1908) and heartily approve of making it an annual holiday so long as it maintains the features which marked its first observance.

We look upon "Sneak Day," the "night shirt" parade and similar functions as violations of good order and discipline that should no longer be permitted.

Students participating in any of these events shall be indefinitely suspended from the university or deprived of a part or the whole of that semester's credit at the board of deans' discretion, and we recommend that hereafter no participant shall be appointed to a scholarship or other position of honor or profit in the University.

Excuses for Absence.

Before any student may be absent from his classes (including also required library, laboratory, and shop work) for athletic practice or games, for debating contests, for the purpose of attending any convention, meeting or convocation or other gathering not directly authorized by the university he must obtain the written consent of all his instructors upon which the dean of his college may issue a formal permission. The registrar is requested to prepare the proper blanks for consent or refusal of instructors for absence as above.

The athletic board is required so to arrange athletic games as not to involve more than five consecutive school days of absence from classes, and only one such leave shall be

If athletic features are retained on the high school program they are to occur on Saturday.

Ladies are to remove their hats or wear small caps in classes.

ANNUAL SESSION IN NOVEMBER.

State Teachers' Convention Will Be held here Next Month.

The forty-third annual session of the Nebraska State Teachers' Association will be held at Lincoln, Nebraska, on November 4, 5, and 6. Heretofore this meeting has held during the holidays, but under the belief that teachers should have the holidays for themselves instead of school work, the date was changed by a unanimous vote at the last winter's session. It is expected that this plan will double the attendance as has been the result in other states where it has been tried. Preparations are, therefore, being made for at least 3,000 instead of the usual 1,500. School boards all over the state have been asked to allow the teacher's time for this meeting on full pay, and up to the present seventy-five have agreed to do so. Out of thirty-three schools having over fifteen teachers, eighteen have arranged to close.

Chancellor is President.

Chancellor Andrews is president of the association. His opening address will be, "Crusade for County Schools." The leading speakers at the convention will be President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California; Professor Richard G. Moulton, of Chicago University; Dr. E. J. Goodwin, of Packer Institute of Brooklyn; Principal Arthur D. Oall, of Hartford, Connecticut; Principal E. E. Balcomb, of Stillwater, Oklahoma; Principal A. H. Waterhouse, of Fremont; and Professor C. H. Miller, of the Lincoln city schools.

The opening day, Wednesday, will consist mainly of the meeting of superintendents and principals' association, which closes with a union banquet in the evening at the auditorium where covers will be laid for 1000 guests. Sup. Geo. D. Carrington, Jr., of Auburn, is chairman of this association; Supt. S. L. McBrien will be master of ceremonies.

Thursday will be high school day. The morning theme will be, "Evolution of the High School." In the af

Delinquents Are Hit.

Instructors are urged not to give consent to be absent from classes for athletic purposes when the student's standing is such that the proposed absence would certainly imperil his final passing in the subject.

Students who are members of organizations are urged not to favor the holding of conventions and other meetings at such time as will make it necessary for those attending to be absent from university classes.

Competitive Drill.

The annual competitive drill for the first battalion is to be held on Saturdays, so as not to require students to be absent from classes.

The annual encampment shall be held in Lincoln, at such time of the year as the Chancellor and the commandant may select. The students shall be encamped not more than seventeen days and shall be required to attend all regular classes until 4:30 p. m., each day from Monday to Friday inclusive.

High School Day.

We urge that the high school principals restore high school day to its original purpose of giving their pupils an opportunity of seeing the University at work, and that in order to do so they omit the athletic part of the program. The university, while opening its doors to the visitors will not suspend its class, laboratory or its shop work. The high school inspector is requested to prepare a program for the next high school day in harmony with this resolution.

ternoon there will be twelve auxiliary association and section meetings. The oratio of Messiah will be given in the evening by the St. Paul's Oratorio Society under the eldership of H. C. Probasco.

A Rural Day.

Friday will be rural day and an effort is being made to have all the rural schools within a reasonable distance close for the convention. The principal meeting of the afternoon will be a combination gathering of rural teachers and county superintendents. The most important address of the session will be given in the evening by President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California.
