CO-EDS ARE OUT FOR ROWING.

Forty Women of University of Washington Sign the Roll.

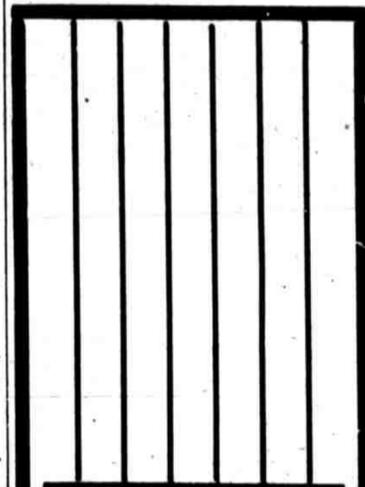

Forty women from the freshmen and sophomore classes have signed up to turn out for rowing this fall and "Old Nero" will soon be the most popular water craft in Coach Conibear's flotilla.

Mr. Conibear's plans in regard to women's rowing are as follows:

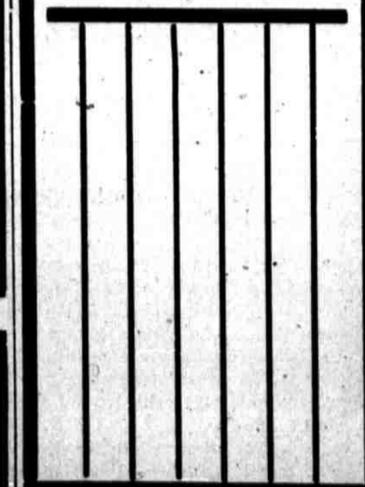

"I shall devote every afternoon from 1:30 until 4:00 to coaching the women in rowing. Last year two exceptionally good crews were developed and there is plenty of good material listed.

"I intend to have some of the women who are most efficient with the oars help coach the co-ed crews in the spring.

"Enthusiasm in rowing has been kept up among the juniors and seniors and these classes will have four turning out in the spring. The sororities are also planning inter-sorority contests, and some interesting exhibitions in women's rowing are anticipated next spring."

WANT STUDENT EXPENSE LIST.

Minnesota Department of Economics Is Preparing Figures.

Students in the economics department are in search of complete and fully itemized account of the expenditures of the undergraduates at Minnesota. The board of regents authorized this action late last spring. The purpose of the investigation is to make possible a comparison of the expense of attending our university and other educational institutions.

Minnesota is third in this movement. Already similar investigations on a small scale have been carried on at Harvard and Wisconsin. The results were very curious and enlightening. At Minnesota special prominence is to be given to accuracy.

Blanks have been printed and will be sent out soon. The members of the department who will conduct the investigation will work among their friends so as to obtain as careful accounts as possible.

New Consular school.

The actual history of the University of Chicago "Consular School" has commenced and the plans conceived last spring for its organization have matured into reality. Five students have the honor of being the charter members and have begun their preparation for work in the consular and foreign commercial service.

The purpose of the course, which is not a separate school in the sense of a college in the university organization, but merely a specialized phase of the College of Commerce and Administration, is to turn out men who will be efficient either as government officials or as the agents of business concerns. Upon the satisfactory completion of the required three years the students will be recommended to the president of the United States, who may appoint them to positions after they have passed the civil service examination.

Garfield Head of Williams.

On October 7, Professor H. A. Garfield was formally inducted into the office of president of Williams College. A large number of the foremost educators of the country were in attendance, among them being Presidents Eliot, of Harvard; Hadley, of Yale; Wilson, of Princeton; Butler, of Columbia; Schurman, of Cornell; Alderman, of Virginia; Van Hels, of Wisconsin; Faunce, of Brown and Harris, of Amherst. Governor Guild of Massachusetts and Honorable James Bryce, the British ambassador, were also present. The newly elected president is the eldest son of the late James A. Garfield, ex-president of the United States, and is a brother of Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield. He was graduated from Williams in the class of 1885, and has been professor of politics at Princeton.

The University Missourian has an article on the high price of board in Columbia, with a table comparing prices there with those in other towns. The article opens with the following ad: Wanted—Thrifty German or Scotch truck gardeners to settle near Columbia.

The Cornell students who attend the Chicago game on November 14 will be entertained at the Colonial theater that evening by George Cohan in the "Yankee Prince." An elaborate dinner at the North American Restaurant will precede the play.

Syracuse has published a book of songs for use at the Calise game. The complete title is "A bunch of Songs, composed for the husky-lunged loyalists of Syracuse University. To be sung with might and main at the Carlisle game."

The new law library of California state university is approaching a reality. The required donations, aggregating $150,000, are now pledged and Architect John G. Harvey is working on the final plans.

Harvard will give a degree this year entitled M. B. A., which means Master in Business Administration.

KIRK BADLY INJURED

IOWA STAR KICKER WRENCHES HIS KNEE AND RETIRES.

MAY BE OUT OF MISSOURI GAME

Hawkeyes Fear Tigers and May Protest Captain Miller on Grounds That His Playing Violates Conference Rules.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 13—A body blow was dealt to the Iowa football eleven today when Coach Catlin was informed by the university surgeon that "Chick" Kirk, whose knee was hurt twice in the game with Coe, had gone lame beyond immediate repair. Kirk may not be able to play in the Missouri game on Oct. 17 as a result. He is hobbling on crutches now, and his injury is the first really alarming addition to the hospital list of the year. If he does not improve he may not even be taken to Columbia.

Iowa has had no real "bear" stories this year, and the Missouri tales of woe are more than offset by this one bad accident here.

Iowa may protest Captain Miller of the University of Missouri, alleging he is violating the conference rule concerning four years' play.

Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 13—Moll has stiffened up again with rheumatism and was not out in uniform tonight his place being taken by Cunningham. The best of care is being given in the hope that he may be available for at least one-half of the Indiana game. Arne Lerum, of football fame five years ago watched the line like a hawk tonight. Later former Coach McCarthy gathered the men about him in the gymnasium and told them about the superiority of the Indiana line. Football Manager Jelinek has organized a Wednesday rooters' club.

Illinois.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 13—When the Illinois football players enter the game with Chicago on Saturday they will fight not only for their alma mater but also for the graduate coaching system. Even the supporters of the system believe that a top-heavy total by the Maroons again will result in an upheaval of the football coaching system.

The rooters gauge everything by the game with Chicago, and, looking back to last year, do not seem to count it anything that the Illini won three out of five games played. Endurance is expected to be a factor in the game. The Illini note that the Chicago totals have been made in the second periods and they recall last year's game on Illinois field.

The local players seem in good condition. They came out of the Marquette game in pretty good shape and the change from the dusty gridiron of Illinois field to Marshall field is expected to be so agreeable that they will play better.

Fumbling, the local bete noire, appeared today in the first scrimmage since the Marquette game and marred an otherwise pleasing exhibition by the varsity against the freshmen. The fumbling cropped out at the freshman one yard line and staved off one score which might have been made by the regulars. Then the freshmen were given the ball on the varsity twenty-yard line, but could not advance it.

Michigan.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 13—For the first time since his arrival a week ago, Casey appeared in uniform this afternoon and worked in his old position of left tackle throughout the lengthy secret signal practice. The huge Iowan tips the beam at 217 and has made the left wing of the line look much stronger than at any time this season. Brennan went in Cully's place at left guard, and the veteran Embs stuck to the left end station. Schulz worked at center and Davison was placed in the secondary line of defense. The triumvirate, Schulz, Davison and Casey, will in all probability be worked against Norte Dame Saturday in the first big game of the season.

"Norte Dame has a strong eleven as usual," said Yost to-night, "and in our present state are going to give us a terrific rub. In their game last Saturday they were able to use twenty-seven men, and this alone makes them appear formidable. No scrimmage work was held tonight, for all the time was taken up with the drilling in of new plays and working up some of the old ones that we have not yet sprung. In the scrimmage last night the regulars showed much improvement. Yes, I think we will beat the Indiana school, but it will be hard work."

Tomorrow the scrubs play the varsity and students will have an opportunity of seeing what Yost has been able to do with the team that was nearly whipped Saturday by the strong M. A. C. eleven.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 13—Although today's scrimmage between the Cornell varsity and scrubs proved that many of the faults shown in last Saturday's game with Oberlin are still there, it served to bring a number of new men into prominence.

Cosgrove was shifted to left guard and Pavek went in at right tackle. O'Hara, last year's freshman quarterback, outclassed the regular man. Goff took White's place at center, and Ebeling, a sub fullback played left end. Captain Walder, McArthur, Huribut, Shearer, Tydemann and Harris were not allowed to line up.

Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13—Illinois plays, worked by the maroon freshman football team, held the Midway regulars to an 11-to-4 score in the longest and fiercest scrimmage of the season yesterday at Marshall field. What Coach Stagg had intended as an auspicious launching of the mysterious ground-gaining tricks he has prepared for the Urbana team's humiliation next Saturday was turned into a mournful occasion by the crudeness displayed by the varsity eleven.

The maroon warriors failed to shine as the coach had expected with the new plays, and Stagg intimated unkind things about the mental equipment of the "brain squad" in consequence. The team made a sad batch of the additions to its offensive repertory, according to Coach Stagg, and generally showed a painful "lack of comprehension."

While the regulars were apparently suffering an off day, the "freshies" were out for the varsity scalp and their speed and effectiveness with the Illini plays gave Stagg one of the biggest surprises he has had this year. The maroon defense was too weak to hold the prize yearlings most of the time and the result will be an overtime session for the linemen in defensive practice today as well as lesson No. 2 with the new plays.

Colorado University is planning to celebrate October 17 as Alumni Day.

Brown University has a set of bowling alleys in the gymnasium but they are out of condition. The Herald is asking for improvements.

The Michigan Glee Club will give six concerts between December 28 and January 5. Detroit, Saginaw, and Toledo are on the orbit.

With the opening of the football season, twenty-one former Chicago Varsity athletes are now engaged in coaching football teams. Most of them are, in addition to coaching, acting in the capacity of athletic directors, and some are giving instructions in other departments. All of them are, having success with their teams, and are loud in their praise of Director Stagg for the instruction received under him.
