SOPHS TO KEEP OUT

INTERFERENCE WITH FRESHMEN NOT TO BE TOLERATED.

CHANCELLOR WILL BE CHAIRMAN

Presence of University Head Thought To be Sufficient To Prevent Disturbance by Sophomores.

As a further indication that the university authorities would sanction no class scraps, kidnapping or similar events, it was announced this morning that Chancellor E. B. Andrews would preside over the first freshmen meeting of the year, to be held in Memorial hall, Thursday, Oct. 21. It has been an established custom of the university that the president of the junior class should preside at the meeting, but last year a bunch of the senior boys got busy and hiked the junior president, Robert T. Elliott, away on the afternoon of the class meeting. Instead of presiding over the awestricken freshmen, Elliott was lying on his back in "Robber's Cafe" with both hands and feet tied. Consequently no one was present to take charge of the meeting until Former Junior President Wildish was summoned.

No Place for Disorder.

Any attempt to disturb the meetings this year will result seriously for the disturbers. Last year crowds of "sophs" gathered around the hall door and made life a burden for those who attempted to gain entrance. It was only through the efforts of John Uhl that order was preserved and sophomores were prevented from attending the meeting. As it was, several members of the upper class entered the hall and cast a ballot. The exact rules governing the election will be determined by President Byerts of the junior class. However, since the class has no constitution stating who are and who are not members, it is probable that all who are taking work for the first year in the university will be allowed to vote, whether they lack some of being full fledged freshmen or not.

The freshmen class this year is an exceptionally large one and there will be several hundred votes cast. It is possible that the meeting will be held in the afternoon since it will require some time to complete the election of president, although the hour has been set for 11:30. This is the first time that any of the university authorities have taken charge of the meeting and it shows that all acts of rowdiness are to be punished. The movement will undoubtedly meet with much approval from a majority of the students. The unpleasant notoriety which has been placed on the university by the kidnapping scrapes of the past year has served to arouse a spirit of opposition in the parents of the students, so that most of them will be glad to see those affairs done away with.

Would Like Push Ball.

In accordance to a suggestion thrown out, some of the classmen have expressed a wish that class rivalry be settled in a push ball contest, the winning class team carrying off the laurels for their class. To say that the contest could at least arouse no such lamentable features as the kidnappings and class fights and yet would serve to keep up the class spirit. The push ball contest has become a prime favorite in the east and in many colleges a special day is set aside for the carrying out of this contest. It is possible that the push ball will be one of the innovations in university class rivalries within the next year.

With the announcement of the class meeting, a week from today, the four candidates for the presidency of the class started the final campaign which each hopes will bring victory to him. The problem is rather complicated, since it is difficult to make any accurate estimate of the strength of the Grand Island and Gothenburg men. Clarence Clark of Lincoln has a large following, while Rowan of Columbus is reported to have an active bunch of campaign managers. With four men in the race, the vote will undoubtedly be so badly split that no one can secure a majority, which is required to elect, on the first ballot. With two ballots there is a chance for combination, although all of the candidates report that they are opposed to combinations. Clark of Lincoln secured a big lead over all other competitors by announcing his candidacy early in the registration week. It is rumored that there is a strong fight against him, since he is from Lincoln and the over-the-state students are combined against a Lincoln man. The campaign promises to be warm and the outcome will be awaited with interest.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Will Attempt to Get a Design for Standard Pin.

Yesterday morning, at a meeting of the senior class, the remaining officers were chosen. Mr. Frank Reinsch received the vote of the class for the vice-presidency; Miss Louise Stegner was made secretary and Mr. F. A. Jones was made treasurer.

A committee was appointed to consider designs for class pins and to attempt to get a design which could be used for all classes, by simply changing the class numerals. If this can be done, all classes will be urged to adopt the standard form, so that all class pins of the university may be similar.

Miss Taylor's Work.

Few speakers who have addressed the university Y. W. C. A. have made as profound an impression as that made by Miss Angy Manning Taylor of Chicago, who is this week conducting classes in Bible study. Her audiences are growing in numbers and the interest in the meetings is intense. Miss Taylor has no sensational method of conducting her work, but proceeds earnestly, her poise and strong personality aiding her thorough knowledge in bringing weight to her talks.

Miss Taylor's lesson yesterday concluded her talks on the book of John. On Friday at 5 o'clock she will give an outline study of the book of Acts. On Saturday the subject will be the book of Phillipians. These meetings are held in the rooms in the Temple at 5 p. m.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m., in the Temple theater Miss Taylor will give her last talk before a Lincoln audience, her subject being the book of Phillipians. At this meeting Miss Taylor will have many things to say of special interest to the college girl.

Union Literary Program.

The Union Literary society will hold a regular session in Union hall of the Temple tonight at 8:30. The following program will be rendered: "Union Hall," Mr. Waldo. "Through Five States," Mr. Lower. Piano solo, Miss Chowins. "Missouri," A. M. Hare. "Reminiscences," Ames Bednar. Cornet solo, Van Baker.

Bulletins of the Game.

The Nebraska Telephone company will post detailed bulletins of the Minnesota game tomorrow at their office on South Thirteenth street. The bulletins will be received at short intervals over the long distance lines of the company and will comprise a resume of the game minute by minute as it is played.

OFF FOR MINNESOTA

ROUSING SEND-OFF GIVEN TEAM LAST EVENING.

BIG EXCURSION LEAVES TODAY

Six Hundred Students Assemble at the Burlington Station to Bid the Team Good Luck—Chances Better Than Ever.

Not for many years has enthusiasm run so high on the eve of an athletic contest as it did last night when the football team left on its journey to Gopherland. As early as five-thirty the crowd began to assemble at the Burlington station and long before train leaving time the entire station platform was jammed with a horde of enthusiastic and cheering students, both men and women, who were anxious to give the players an encouraging send-off.

It is superfluous to say that they succeeded. As the time for the train to pull out approached, the players edged their way into the parlor car with the evident intention of taking a quiet departure, but the vociferously enthusiastic crowd would have none of it. They surged in toward the vestibule of the car which had been reserved for the team and one by one, from the coach to the substitutes, the players were compelled to appear on the steps for a moment and to express the confidence which they felt in their ability to numb the husky Gophers next Saturday.

It was a scene calculated to make the heart of even a man who had never seen a college, beat faster. People on the platform who were leaving on journeys of a different purpose than to see Saturday's great game, were warmed by the sincere enthusiasm of the five or six hundred cheering students and they too joined in the ringing cheers for Nebraska and listened as eagerly as any to the faltering and hesitating, but forceful, speeches of the embarrassed players. Passengers on incoming trains watched the stirring scene from windows and car platforms. A traveling man was heard to remark, "Even a poor team, when backed by such enthusiasm and spirit as that, could go in and win a victory."

The Band Gets Busy.

The cadet band appeared on the scene and livened things up by playing several pieces. The students called loudly for "King" Cole and the coach finally appeared for a moment and said, "Knowing that we are backed by such spirit as has been shown here tonight we simply can't lose on Saturday."

Jim Harvey, Bill Chaloupka, and in fact all the heroes, which includes every member of the squad, appeared on the steps for a moment and each one expressed the thought which was uppermost in everyone's mind, that "we must come home from Minnesota triumphant."

There was something almost comical in the manner in which some of the big Cornhuskers addressed the crowd. Players who would not hesitate to tackle the fiercest of runners or dive into a heavy mass play, mounted the steps of the car in fear and trembling and with flushed face and awkward tongue would blurt out something like, "We've got to beat that bunch!" But it was the manifest sincerity of each and every one which made the hit with the rooters and they now rest assured that every player will do his level best and that if it lies in human power to defeat Minnesota that thing will be accomplished by the Cornhuskers on Saturday.

Excursion Growing.

The great enthusiasm which was manifested last night has done much to increase the number who will take advantage of the excursion to Minneapolis. One car has been reserved by Lincoln business men who will make the trip and it is reported that about two carloads of Omaha people will go on the excursion. It is not definitely known just how many university students are going, but it is believed that the number is far in excess of a hundred. This means that an extra section will probably be run to accommodate the excursionists.

THE PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY.

Students of the New School of Pharmacy Form a Club.

The students of the School of Pharmacy, which was organized in the university met Wednesday and formed a pharmaceutical society. Officers were elected as follows: President, E. A. Fricke, of Plattsmouth; secretary, M. H. Whaley, of Clarks; treasurer J. W. Ellis, of Cheyenne, Wyo.; class historian, Miss Ethel Cole, of Minatare. The organization will be called the University of Nebraska Pharmaceutical Society. Meetings will be held twice a month. The society will have prominent men of the profession outside of the university and different members of the faculty to address them at these meetings. The object of the society is also to promote class athletics and social life among the students and arouse class enthusiasm.

Miss Breta Bills returned Sunday from a four months' European tour. She has re-registered in the university.

Chicken pot pie, the real original Dr. Payne kind. At the Y. M. C. A. supper at St. Paul's church tomorrow at 6 p. m.

Regular meetings of the Forestry club Tuesday evening, Oct. 20. C. R. Tillotson will speak on "The Effects of Windbreaks." 7:30 p. m. in N. 2.

L. C. Soules, '02, and Mrs. Soules are visiting in Lincoln for a few days. Mr. Soules was manager of athletics and prominent in other student activities while in school.

The non-commissioned officers' club has elected the following committee to have charge of the "non-com" hop on anuary 15: A. White, chairman; A. C. Schmidt, master of ceremonies; J. T. Dirks, J. A. Scotney, Paul Morgan, S. A. Mahood, N. W. Coulter, and Sam Erskine.

At a meeting of the junior law class yesterday Homer Aylesworth was selected assistant business manager of the Cornhusker. It was decided to have a football team if sufficient material should be found and the president was instructed to appoint a manager.

M. A. Mills, '08, who is now studying law at Columbia law school, New York City, writes that he finds the eastern school all that he expected. He draws some interesting comparisons between the salaries paid professors and instructors there and in Nebraska.

University Bryan and Kern club will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in its hall at the Temple. Dr. P. L. Hall, vice-chairman of the national democratic committee and president of the Central National bank of Lincoln will speak on "Guaranty of Bank Deposits." Everybody welcome.

Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 255 South Twenty-Seventh street, Miss Catherine McLaughlin was married to G. W. Ashford of Homer, Nebr. The ceremony was in the presence of about thirty guests. The bride attended the university last year and is a member of Chi Omega sorority. The groom is engaged in the hardware business at Homer. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ashford will be at home at Homer.

STUNTS ARE PREPARED

SENIOR BREAKFAST WILL BE A BIG AFFAIR.

EVERYBODY EXPECTED TO COME

Food Will Be Cooked Around Campfires and the Committee in Charge Promise an Abundance of Everything.

The annual senior breakfast, which has come to be a regular annual event at the university, will be held at Linnland, of the weather bureau, has promised fair weather and guarantees to all hesitating seniors that the best of weather will grace the event.

This year more than ever before the committee in charge declares that the senior breakfast is an event which should be attended by all seniors. In past years Sneak Day has given the seniors another opportunity of getting better acquainted and forming stronger friendships. Since the publication of the new rules adopted by the senate, Sneak Day has become a thing of the past, and the Senior Breakfast is left as the only "stunt" of its kind that takes place during the senior year.

Special Cars Used.

Special cars will carry the class from Tenth and O streets to the park. According to present plans the special cars will start at seven o'clock, thus getting to the park during the early morning. Seniors who have not been able to get tickets are urged to come anyhow, and make arrangements with the committee after they arrive.

The committee in charge of the affair has set the price of tickets at twenty-five cents. Tickets may be secured from any member of the committee. The committee consists of the following seniors: E. W. Hills, James Coupe, F. A. Crites, John Ketrledge, Miss Harte, Miss Gertrude Nielson, F. A. Jones, Bessie Holcombe, Miss Constance Syford, Miss Hyrtle Hudson, C. A. Thompson, Miss Helen Day, A. Meyer, F. N. Wildish, Miss Vera Fink.

Escorts Not Needed.

The committee wishes it very distinctly understood that this is an event for the whole class and that for this reason girls are not expected to have escorts. Of course there is no intention of prohibiting such a thing, but it is to be considered by no means necessary. Everybody is expected to wear their old clothes and be prepared to have a good time.

When it becomes necessary to describe the method by which everyone is to be given the finest breakfast he ever had it can best be done by saying "eatings galore." Everything that is eaten will be cooked on camp fires after the crowd arrives.

The committee plans to have something doing all the time, except during the time actually consumed in eating. Stunts of all kinds will be performed and everybody is expected to do their share. The words of Professor Condra to the state teachers' might not be out of place, when he said:

"Don't fall to work out for this occasion. If you think of an appropriate stunt, let us have it."

The committee intends to leave before the class in order that it may have the fires started and everything in shape. According to present plans they will take a car at 6:10.

W. A. Posey, '07, now county superintendent of Thayer county, was in the city yesterday on his way home from registering at O'Neill.

Y. M. C. A. pot pie supper Saturday, 6 p. m., at St. Paul's, Twelfth and M streets.

Pot Pie, St. Paul's, Saturday 6 p. m.

Pies like mother tried to make. Baked fresh every day by an expert woman pie baker at The Boston Lunch.
